Plot To Kidnap Kennedy Girl Laid To Cubans

Police Searching For 4 Believed Castro Agents

PALM BEACH, Fla. (UPI)—Federal, state and local police late today were searching in this area for four Cubans, believed to be agents of the Castro government, for questioning in connection with a reported plot to kidnap Caroline Kennedy, 3, daughter of the president.

Reports reached federal authorities about a week ago that four Cuban men, allegedly slipping in and out of south Florida on intelligence missions for the Castro regime, had discussed with Florida-based associates a possible plan for kidnaping Caroline or bringing harm to the entire Kennedy family.

There was no suggestion in the early reports that the kidnap plot was directed by any responsible official of the Castro government, but law enforcement officials said no chances could be taken because of the unpredictable zeal of some of Castro's followers who regard President John F. Kennedy as an arch enemy of their revolutionary government.

Security precautions around the president's family normally are tight, but may have been increased because of the reported threat.

Commute Toll Of 10 Cents On Span Urged

Proposal Broached As Board Argues On Truck Reduction

A 10-cent toll for Golden Gate Bridge commuters was proposed today by Bridge Director Leland Murphy of Marin.

Murphy made his suggestion as bridge directors voted 13-1 to cut the toll for light trucks in half—from 50 cents to 25 cents—then found their action blocked by San Francisco Director Phillips Davies who gave notice he will move for reconsideration at the next meeting, two weeks hence. Davies said he had not had time enough to study bridge profit figures presented to the finance committee yesterday.

MURPHY CLAIM

But Murphy claimed the commute toll can be cut to a dime, truck tolls can be slashed—and still the bridge won't operate in the red.

He asked that the finance committee report — probably April 14—on the effect of such reductions.

Finance Chairman William C. Hadeler added an idea of his own: Do away with the differential for commuters and make all auto tolls 15 cents. He said the committee would work out the effect of a 10-cent commute toll and 20-cent auto toll, and of the alternative of making both 15 cents.

The truck toll reduction would be from 50 cents to 25 cents for a two-axle truck of any type, the same reduction for a trailer pulled by a two-axle truck, a 50-cent toll for a dual rear axle, and 50 cents for axles over two.

CITES SAVING

Hadeler said that the truck reduction would mean a saving of $172,175 per year to operators of trucks using the bridge. He noted that net profit of the span last year, after deducting payment for bonds, retirement and interest, was $1,400,000.

Murphy said that he would have opposed the truck reduction without consideration of the commuter cut at the same time. But he said the profit was great enough "so that we can do both."

Davies first asked merely that the vote be put over two weeks for him to study the figures. When this was refused, he resorted to the parliamentary procedure of notice of reconsideration to delay effect of the truck toll reduction.

Park Director Says Pt. Reyes Map Not Rigid

WASHINGTON (AP) — Park Director Conrad L. Wirth told senators today that he would be willing to consider adjustments to accommodate all present ranching operations within the proposed Point Reyes National Seashore in Marin County.

He said the ranching area defined on Park Service maps is not rigid but will depend upon negotiations.

MORE DAIRYING

Even on Point Reyes, which he described as the center of attraction in the proposed 53,000-acre park, Wirth said it might be possible to permit continued dairy ranching for five to 10 years.

Wirth said he felt, however, that on the point a considerable area will eventually be needed for the public and the park service at some time will have to devote it exclusively to public use.

LAST TO TESTIFY

Wirth's testimony concluded a three-day hearing before the Senate Public Lands Committee on legislation to authorize the park. (Earlier story on page 11.)

Chairman Alan Bible (D-Nev.) said he will make a personal inspection of the Point Reyes Peninsula, possibly late in April or early May, and invite all other committee members to accompany him.

The committee has received appeals from dairy ranchers on the point and elsewhere, and from home owners, asking to be excluded from the park area.

Mother, Six Children Escape House Fire In Santa Venetia

Mrs. George J. McSweeney of 504 Vendola Drive carried her two youngest children, 1 and 3, and directed the other four from the burning home. She was awakened by her oldest son, Paul, who discovered the fire shortly before 3 a.m.

Marin County Fire Chief Charles R. Reilley said the fire started in the clothes dryer. Mrs. McSweeney, who had been cleaning the house, put some blankets in the dryer about 1 a.m. She dozed while waiting for the blankets to dry.

The fire swept through the east side of the one-story house, burning through the kitchen, service porch and bathroom and a bedroom in what had been the garage. There was smoke and water damage to other rooms, and to much of the family's clothing.

After moving her children out of the house, Mrs. McSweeney hailed a passing motorist, who called the county fire department. Chief Reilley said the department received 10 or 12 calls, the first from an unidentified woman at 2:57 a.m.

Mrs. McSweeney's husband, a purchasing agent at the San Francisco Naval Shipyard, also has a part-time janitorial job at night and was away at work.

Three county fire department trucks with seven firemen responded to the alarms. Reilley said about six or seven neighbors who were awakened by the fire "all pitched in and aided the firemen."

"I have a lot of persons to thank for all their help," McSweeney said today. "We're fortunate no one was injured."

McSweeney said his son, Paul, "not more than 90 pounds," pushed the family auto out of the driveway into the street after he fled the burning home.

Reilley estimated damage to the four-bedroom house at $7,000 and to contents at $2,000.

McSweeney's Shetland pony, tied in the back yard, was led to safety by neighbors, McSweeney said.

The McSweeneys will remain in the damaged house but will "probably be eating out," they said. Neighbors have offered assistance.

Students Clean Campus On Vacation Day

They cleaned up trash, pulled weeds, and planted hundreds of petunias—in red and white, the school colors. They also replaced shrubs in landscape areas.

The idea of the plant-up day was proposed by Edward C. Day, art instructor and head of Alpha Kappa are club. It caught fire. The Kiwanis-sponsored Key Club gave $100 toward buying plants. The school district chipped in the rest.

Art club, Key Club, junior and senior classes each took over the job of cleaning up and planting a portion of the campus. Most of the flowers were planted in front of the science and cafeteria wings and in the planting area in front of the main building.

At 9:30 a.m. yesterday, the campus was thronged with teen-agers, willing and ready to work.

Trustees Name New Head Of Military School

Rev. Sumner Walters Jr., a leader in the Christian education department of the Episcopal Church in the United States, will succeed Dr. Mark Hinton as headmaster of San Rafael Military Academy on June 1.

This was announced jointly today by Rt. Rev. James A. Pike, Episcopal bishop of California and chairman of the board of trustees of the school, and Paul Ciampi, president of the board. The Episcopal diocese has operated the academy for the past two years.

Dr. Hinton has reached retirement age. He and his wife, who is principal of a Hillborough elementary school, will make their home in Los Altos. Hinton will remain at the military academy until June 30 to assist Dr. Walters in taking over the headmastership.

The newly designated headmaster has been for six years associate secretary of the leadership training division of the department of Christian education of the Episcopal Church in the United States.

He was born Dec. 24, 1924, in Fort Scott, Kan., son of a missionary bishop. After graduation from Alameda High School, he studied theology at the University of the South in Sewanee, Tenn., for two years, then entered the Army Air Forces for World War II service which took him to the Ori-

Marinite Tells About Birch Group Meetings

San Francisco chapters of the controversial John Birch Society meet in secret, on the advice of San Francisco police, to avoid "bodily harm" from the Communist underground, Kentfield surgeon Robertson Ward declared today.

Police told the society it would be safer to meet in secret and change the meeting place each time, Dr. Ward said. The reason for the secrecy of the society was "in large measure" due to this advice, he declared in a talk on Kitty Oppenheimer's "Open House" program over radio station KTIM.

Marin's Gas Price War Spreading Out

The gasoline price war that hit Marin County earlier in the week at Sausalito and Novato, spread up and down Highway 101 yesterday.

Prices of standard brands of gasoline started dropping in Corte Madera at noon when service stations lowered their prices to 26.9 cents a gallon for regular gasoline and 29.9 for ethyl.

Price lowering soon spread to Strawberry, Mill Valley, and Greenbrae. Ignacio stations had lowered prices earlier.

Lowest price for regular gasoline quoted was 24.9 cents a gallon in Mill Valley. The highest quoted was in Larkspur with 32.9 cents for regular.

The lowest price quoted for ethyl gasoline was 28.9 cents a gallon in Novato and the highest was 36.9 cents a gallon in Larkspur.

Leap From Gate Bridge Reported

An unidentified person jumped from the Golden Gate Bridge shortly after noon today, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Coast Guard search and rescue units were searching for the body, reported floating on the west side of the bridge. It was not known whether the victim was a man or woman.

If the body is recovered, it would be the 205th known suicide from the bridge.

Span Board Opposes Transportation Plan

Golden Gate Bridge District directors opposed by a 13-1 vote today inclusion of the bridge in a proposed Golden Gate Transportation Commission without a vote of residents of the bridge district.

The resolution of opposition was passed after an open meeting of the district's legislative committee in which there was no discussion, and an informal discussion behind the locked door of the general manager's office.

The resolution declares that the transportation bill, S.B. 853 by Marin Sen. John F. McCarthy, affords "no benefits whatsoever" that bondholders, counties, taxpayers and the traveling public do not now have.

Representation of the district on the commission would not be commensurate with what the seven counties now have, the bill is unconstitutional insofar as it affects the bridge district, and the bridge board's "practice of reducing tolls and striving to make the Golden Gate Bridge toll-free" would be in jeopardy, the resolution declares.

San Francisco Director Alvin Derre opposed the resolution as "only a delaying action on what has to be done in this Bay Area."

Marin Director Leland Murphy attacked Derre's stand because he said a 1935 resolution promised that the bridge would be toll-free, and "unless we rescind that resolution it is still the obligation of this district to oppose being included."

Algerian Rebels Cancel Peace Talks In France

PARIS (UPI) — The Algerian rebels tonight abruptly called off the peace talks with France scheduled to start next Friday in the Lake Geneva resort city of Evian, where terrorists killed the mayor early today with two bomb explosions.

The decision announced by a rebel spokesman in Tunis touched off a grave new crisis in North Africa and brought fears Moslems in Algiers and Oran would be inflamed to new violence to strengthen the rebels in any future talks.

The French had not yet been informed officially, but there was a heavy undercurrent of anxiety in Paris.

A rebel spokesman in Tunis did not refer to the bomb murder of Mayor Camille Blanc (see story on page 2) but said Switzerland would be informed the talks were off because France had torpedoed them in advance by offering to talk with rival rebel groups.

The spokesman said Taieb Boulharouf, Algerian rebel representative in Switzerland and Rome, would leave Tunis shortly to inform Swiss authorities of the decision. Switzerland was being informed because the rebel peace negotiators planned to base there.

HISTORIC HOME FALLS TO THE WRECKERS

The 83-year-old house at 200 South Street, Sausalito, built for the San Francisco Yacht Club and later the residence of "sugar king" John D. Spreckles, fell yesterday before the blows of a wrecking machine. Mario Ghilotti of San Rafael, head of the wrecking firm, reported the building "still as tough as the best." The house, which was the residence of Selim Woodworth until he moved March 1 to Menlo Park, is being razed to make way for two apartment buildings, with 23 units, to be erected at a half-million-dollar cost for Bay Land Co. of San Rafael. Pilgrims Pause To Pray At Stations Of Cross

JERUSALEM (UPI)—Pilgrims from around the world walked today in the footsteps of Jesus Christ along the "way of sorrow" through this ancient holy city to Calvary where He died on the Cross nearly 20 centuries ago.

Christians paused to pray at the stations of the cross on the dusty Via Dolorosa marking the significant events during Christ's crucifix-burdened journey to his death.

There also were church services to commemorate this most solemn day in Christendom. Focal point for the religious rites was the Church of the Holy Sepulchre, marking the site of Christ's tomb.

The Good Friday services included hours of prayers and meditation by churchmen and Pilgrims.

Church bells were silenced yesterday and the church will remain in mourning until the joyful ceremonies on Easter Sunday commemorating the resurrection.

Disarm Talk Postponement Passed In U.N.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) —The General Assembly, with the postponement of a disarmament debate lightening its work load, canceled all meetings today in observance of Good Friday.

The Assembly's main political committee unanimously and without a vote late yesterday approved a United States-Soviet agreement to put off disarmament debate here until its 16th session, scheduled to start next Sept. 19.

The agreement was the result of negotiations carried on with the Russians by U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson since his appointment as Washington's permanent representative here last Jan. 20.

President John F. Kennedy's administration made it clear it would not be ready for real arms talks until it had completed, by midsummer, a reappraisal of the U.S. disarmament position.

Stevenson sought Russian agreement to forego now the full-dress assembly debate the Kremlin had insisted upon and agreement on the composition of a panel of experts to talk disarmament privately. He had still to gain his second point.

There appeared to be general agreement that the 10-power East-West arms talks broken off by Russia at Geneva last June would be resumed, probably at Geneva, by the end of July.

But Russia wanted five "neutral" countries added to the expert committee. The United States and its western partners were not willing to add more than two "neutrals."

Both Stevenson and Gromyko told the Assembly negotiations on the composition of the expert committee would go on in June and July.

POPE IN HUMBLE ACT

100,000 Foreign Tourists Jam Rome For Holy Week

An estimated half-million visitors, including about 100,000 foreign tourists, have jammed the Eternal City for the Holy Week observances. Rome's more than 450 churches have been filled during the services.

The pope yesterday commemorated the example of humility set by Jesus Christ at the Last Supper by washing the feet of 13 young religious students, including two New Yorkers, during ceremonies in the Basilica of St. John Lateran.

The students were from the College of the Propagation of the Faith which trains Catholic missionaries for service throughout the world.

The two Americans honored were George Ryan, 23, and Thomas Scaccardi, both of New York.

FEAR WEST BUILDUP

Warsaw Pact Powers Plan Strengthening Of Defense

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet-led Warsaw Pact powers today said the West is continuing to wage an arms race and announced they are strengthening their defenses.

The eight-nation Communist military counterpart of NATO singled out West Germany as a "major hotbed of war danger" in a declaration that skimmed over strife-ridden Laos and the Congo.

While making the usual plea for "peaceful coexistence" and complete disarmament, the Communist nations announced they had "agreed on measures which they find it necessary to take in the interests of further consolidation of their defense potential and strengthening pace throughout the world."

Coming after three days of talks in the Kremlin amid the usual complete secrecy, the communique was surprisingly mild in tone but appeared to pinpoint Germany as the next pressure point in the East-West test of nerves.

Some Western diplomats believed the mild tone indicated Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev still wants to pick up coexistence relations with the Kennedy administration. While the United States was mentioned as one of the Western Big Three behind the rearming of West Germany, it was not singled out for the sort of attack that was routine in the latter days of the Eisenhower administration.

This was expected, since the Warsaw Pact covers only the Communist nations of Eastern Europe and Communist China and other Asian nations attend only as observers. But it was assumed that during the discussions in the Kremlin, Khrushchev outlined the Soviet reply expected this weekend to the British proposal for a cease-fire in the Indo-Chinese kingdom as the first step in neutralizing the strategic jungle buffer state.

Informed sources said the Soviets are likely to come up with a counterplan insisting that a cease-fire be worked out only after an international conference on Laos gets under way.

East Germany's Walter Ulbricht presided at the Kremlin conference, underscoring the emphasis on Germany as the major testing ground in the cold war.

Bomb Death Mars Algeria Peace Talks

PARIS (UPI) — Two bombs apparently set by anti-de Gaulle extremists today killed Mayor Camille Blanc of Evian and jeopardized the Algerian peace talks scheduled to start in that resort city on Lake Geneva next Friday.

Both French and Algerian leaders said the talks would open in Evian as planned despite the blasts but almost immediately officials of the Algerian rebel government in exile announced in Tunis they would call off the talks if France insisted on holding parallel negotiations with rival Algerian groups.

The two explosions which shattered the quiet of the sleeping town across Lake Geneva from Switzerland at 3 a.m. came 15 seconds apart and shattered the front of Evian's Hotel Beau Rivage, home of the mayor.

Jean Combet, secretary general of Evian's city government, said rightwing Frenchmen who fear president Charles de Gaulle was about to "sell out" Algeria to the Moslem rebels had warned the popular resistance hero against letting Evian be used for the peace talks.

Combet said the mayor, after hearing the explosion of the first bomb under his parked car, apparently had rushed from his bedroom to the livingroom to telephone police. The second blast caught him from only a few feet away as he reached for the telephone.

The mayor died soon after he reached a hospital in an ambulance which bumped through the cobbled streets on a flat tire cut by broken glass. A son, Daniel, 12, escaped death because he hid under the bedclothes after the first explosion.

Medical Merger Plan Gaining

LOS ANGELES (AP)—California's medical and osteopathic associations signed papers yesterday, completing the first of three proposed merger steps.

The 17,780-member medical association will vote on the merger April 30, and the 2,200-member osteopathic association will decide May 17.

Leaders of both groups predicted easy passage.

EARTHSLIDE KILLS 145 RUSSIANS —SOVIET REPORT IS DAYS OLD

MOSCOW (AP) — An earthslide near Kiev killed 145 people and caused millions of dollars in damage on March 13, the Kiev newspaper Pravda of the Ukraine announced today.

Another 143 persons were hospitalized, but by yesterday 84 had been released.

The slide occurred near Babiyar, the tragic ground where the Nazis massacred tens of thousands of Jews and Ukrainians during World War II.

Rumors of the disaster have circulated in Moscow for the past two weeks. The report in the Kiev Pravda was the first confirmation.

It has not ben mentioned by the Moscow papers, the Soviet news agency Tass or by the Soviet radio.

Pravda of the Ukraine said workmen were trying to fill in a ravine partially filled with water, but their technique was faulty. The water washed out one side of the ravine, sending the earth rolling down into an inhabited area and devastating about 75 acres.

The slide destroyed 39 houses, two workers' barracks, a streetcar depot, an experimental construction plant and a municipal store yard.

Florida Man Found Guilty In Masterminding Slaying

FORT PIERCE, Fla. (AP) — Joseph A. Peel Jr., convicted of masterminding the 1955 slaying of a prominent judge, remained in jail today to await sentencing and word on whether he will be tried for the death of the victim's wife.

A circuit court jury ended Florida's most-publicized murder trial yesterday by convicting Peel, 37, of plotting the slaying of Judge C. E. Chillingworth. The verdict was accompanied by a recommendation of mercy, making a sentence of life in prison mandatory, and saving Peel from the electric chair.

Defense counsel served notice of appeal. A hearing on the motion was tentatively set for April 26. Formal sentencing was set for the same day.

Peel was brought to trial March 6, several months after officers broke open the secret of the Chillingworth's disappearance.

Two witnesses at the trial testified that they kidnaped the judge and his wife, Marjorie, from their waterfront home near Palm Beach, June 15, 1955; took the couple about one mile off-shore in the Atlantic Ocean, weighted their bodies and pushed them out of a boat. Neither of the bodies has been found.

Holzapfel awaits sentencing for first degree murder after pleading guilty to participating in the slayings and waiving a jury trial. The state promised immunity to Lincoln.

Both Holzapfel and Lincoln testified that Peel wanted Chillingworth killed because of fear the judge would disclose Peel's position as a leader of a gambling ring and protection racket. Peel was city judge at West Palm beach at the time.

Marin County Building Permits: $392,060

Twenty-six building permits totaling $392,060 were issued by the Marin County Building Inspection Department during the week ending March 24.

Highest permit issued was for an $80,000 12-unit apartment to be erected by Ralph D. Smith on Sacramento Avenue, Waldo Point. Most of the other permits were for private dwellings.

Discoverer Fails

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE (AP)—Discoverer XXII, the first of its kind equipped to take directions from the earth, failed to go into orbit after a smooth launching yesterday.

It was the first failure in the last six shots of the Discoverer satellite series. The Air Force said only that there was a mechanical malfunction.

Discoverer XXII carried the heart of an embryo chick, human bone joint cells and live brain tissues from embryo chicks. They were to be part of a continuing test of radiation effects on living matter. The plan was to eject and try to recover the satellite's capsule.

Traffic Deaths Down

CHICAGO (AP) — The nation's traffic deaths in the first two months of 1961 were the lowest for a comparable period in 11 years, says the National Safety Council.

The two-month toll of 4,970 was 5 per cent lower than the 5,250 fatalities on the highways in January and February last year and compared with the previous low of 4,719 for the first two months of 1950.

Drug Refund

SACRAMENTO (AP) — drug manufacturer today gave California the first payment on a promised 10 per cent refund on drugs purchased for public welfare recipients.

The first check was for $4,485. Since the state buys $12 million in drugs per year, the refunds could total $1.2 million.

Wants No Laos Arms

LONDON (UPI) — Laos "neutralist" ex-premier Prince Souvanna Phouma called on the United States and Russia today to halt shipments of military aid to opposing forces in his embattled homeland.

Souvanna told a news conference that if the United States would stop shipping arms to the forces of pro-Western Premier Prince Boun Oum he would retract his request for Soviet aid to the Communist rebels.

Concern Expressed Over Birch Group

WASHINGTON (AP) — The John Birch Society, a conservative anti-Communist organization, has become "a matter of concern to the attorney general," a Justice Department spokesman said today.

Asked if the department planned any action the spokesman said, "a growing number of inquiries which the Justice Department has received about the John Birch Society has made it a matter of concern to the attorney general." He declined to go beyond that brief statement.

There was no direct comment from Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, brother of the president.

Members of both the House and Senate denounced the organization yesterday, and called for investigations of its leaders. Several senators have been attacked in letter writing campaigns by society members.

The most caustic criticism centered around the society's founder, Robert Welch, who is said to have called former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and others Communists.

Federal Bureau of Investigation Director J. Edgar Hoover spoke out today against "reckless charges" and "vigilante action" in a signed editorial in the FBI law enforcement bulletin.

Hoover did not mention the John Birch Society, and FBI spokesmen declined comment on whether the society was an intended target.

Meanwhile a House member, Rep. Edgar W. Hiestand (R-Calif.), acknowledged that he is a member of the Birch society.

Hiestand said other members of Congress probably are too, but he felt they should have the right to decide for themselves whether to acknowledge this. As for himself, Hiestand said, "I'm not ashamed to admit that I'm one of them."

River Routs Thousands In Cedar Rapids

CEDAR RAPIDS, Iowa (UPI)— The swollen Cedar River held almost 5,000 persons from their homes in Iowa's second largest city today as it surged toward a near-record flood crest.

National Guardsmen, Army and Navy reservists and volunteers manned dikes and stacked on sandbags against an anticipated crest of 19.5 feet.

"The dikes are holding up as well as could be expected," street commissioner Jack Eggleston reported, "but the water is breaking through in a few soggy places."

Mayor James Meahan said the two biggest problems were a lack of volunteers and the traffic hazards caused by sightseers. He said there simply was not enough manpower to make replacements.

Sightseers hampered flood-fighting operations, Meahan said. The three main bridges in the city were still open. But officials said if traffic gets bad, they would be closed to all except emergency vehicles.

While Cedar Rapids was going through one of its most trying times, about 6,000 persons who had been forced from their homes at Waterloo were undertaking the job of digging their homes out of the mud.

The river had gone out of its banks Monday with the runoff from snow and heavy rains.

Early Passage Is Seen For Redistricting Law

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Early passage of legislation calling for the first study of possible Senate reapportionment in 30 years was predicted today by Senate majority leader Hugh M. Burns.

The Senate Rules Committee speedily approved Burns' proposal yesterday and sent it to the Finance Committee for expected clearance of a $25,000 appropriation.

Burns (D-Fresno), said he's confident the Senate will agree to create the "Blue-ribbon" commission recommended by Gov. Edmund G. Brown to look into the makeup of the 40-man upper house.

As for the Assembly, he said, "I know of no reason why it would oppose the legislation in any way."

The 80 Assembly districts are reapportioned every 10 years to fit them to population changes. The Senate, based on Geography, hasn't been redistricted since 1931.

The study would be made by a nine-member commission, including two senators, two assemblymen and five non-legislators picked by the governor.

SACRAMENTO SUMMARY

By ASSOCIATED PRESS
THE SENATE

Amended narcotics penalty bill to protect innocent involved with minors, allow probation for first offenders under 21 (Regan, D-Weaverville).

Bicycles — Prohibits the use of sirens on bicycles, Meyers.

Cigarettes — Makes it a misdemeanor to sell cigarettes which contain anything that makes them burn faster, Lowrey (D-Rumsey).

Workers — Permits the State Personnel Board to raise salaries of state workers above private industry rates if necessary for recruitment, Beaver (R-Redlands).

Bill approved in committee:

Novato Burglars Pried Open Door

Burglars who entered Rayburn's Grocery in Novato Wednesday night got in by prying open a rear door to the store on Grant Avenue.

The Independent-Journal was in error yesterday in saying burglars entered by climbing through a window, lifting a key through a hole in a wall to unlock a door, opening another lock with tools found inside and getting into a storage room by unscrewing a portion of a padlock.

The men, who were trapped by Novato police in Rayburn's, confessed to police that they entered the McPhail's Inc. office in San Rafael in this manner, not Rayburn's.

MARIN'S NEWEST GARDEN APARTMENTS COMPLETED

Real Estate Board Chief Cites Upturn

HONOLULU (UPI)—The president of the National Assn. of Real Estate Boards said yesterday a nationwide tour of business centers convinced him "a recession does not exist in as bad a degree as you have been told" by Washington.

O. G. Powell, a Des Moines, Iowa, home builder and realty dealer, told a news conference "this country is not, as many in high places have been trying to tell us we are, in too bad a condition."

Powell said the real estate market now is healthier than it was a year ago, the inventory of unsold houses "is shrinking rapidly" and in 1961 "the door of opportunity will still swing open to those who will give it a healthy push."

He said in San Diego two months ago there were some 5,000 unsold houses left over from some 12,000 remaining on the market in 1959. In the last few weeks there has been a 20 per cent shrinkage of that figure to around 4,000."

Powell said he believes real estate business provided a good barometer for the strength of the economy. He said he was not trying to say that there were no troubled areas in the nation, "I simply say that we are not in the deplorable condition that we have been told we are."

Civil Defense Meeting Slated

County civil defense director Alan Bruce will speak on civilian preparedness at a meeting Monday of the Loma Verde Home Owners Assn.

The meeting, open to the public, will begin at 8 p.m. at the Loma Verde school.

Bruce's talk will concentrate on the effect on Novato, Loma Verde and Ignacio areas of a nuclear attack centered on San Francisco, said J. F. Kallmeyer, president of the association.

S.F. Officials Split On Gate Commission

San Francisco officialdom is split on the advisability of creating a Golden Gate Transportation Commission to eventually handle bridges, airports and seaports in the Bay Area.

Yesterday, the mayor's legislative advisory committee voted 7-to-1 endorsement in principle pending of legislation (SB 853 by Marin Sen. John F. McCarthy). The San Francisco Commission also voted approval.

But the board of supervisors' committee on county, state and national affairs voted 2-1 against creation of such an agency.

The battle lines were shaped about the same at each of the three meetings. Proponents, including Don DeLone, executive director of the Golden Gate Authority Commission, which developed the concept of the trasportation agency, called it "a realistic method" of bringing together for efficiency all transportation agencies. Mayor George Christopher urged adoption in principle, saying "we can iron out the difficulties later."

San Francisco City Atty. Dion R. Holm said the plan might be illegal and that there is "not a solitary thing" San Francisco can gain from the proposal.

Surprisingly, Golden Gate Bridge District directors did not take a stand before any of the three groups. The directors had scheduled a meeting of their legislative committee for yesterday to discuss the bill but canceled it because of the other San Francisco meetings.

The bridge's public information man, however, has been issuing publicity releases opposing the proposed legislation. Previously, the directors were on record opposing a Golden Gate Authority concept insofar as it would incorporate the Golden Gate Bridge into an areawide agency.

McCarthy's bill is in the Senate Transportation Committee and is scheduled for an early hearing, possibly Tuesday. San Francisco's full board of supervisors will discuss the bill Monday.

RATTLESNAKE EXTERMINATED BY BICYCLE

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—A five-foot rattlesnake lashed out at Roger Briggs but missed and became entangled in the boy's bicycle.

Roger, 12, son of Maj. and Mrs. A. D. Briggs, told police he was walking his bike across the street near his home in a residential area yesterday when the rattler appeared out of nowhere struck.

CAPITALISTIC COURSE

Castro's Golf Game Like Cutting Cane

HAVANA (AP) — Dark rumors floated through Havana today that Prime Minister Fidel Castro—despite what he says — never will be a winner at the imperialistic game of golf.

Caddies who watched the Cuban leader and two aides indulge in 18 holes of golf — previously scorned as "sport of the privileged classes" — likened Castro's swing to a cane cutter wielding a machete.

"Fidel will never be a golfer," one caddy said. "He's too impatient. He kept running after the ball after he hit it as if this were a soccer game."

Castro declared himself most satisfied and said, "I can beat Kennedy easily." A companion, economic czar Ernesto Guevara, said, "I'm sure I could beat even Eisenhower."

Both Castro and Guevara, in mounting attacks on former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, have repeatedly ridiculed golf and those who play it.

Havana buses still carry remnants of an anti-Eisenhower campaign — tattered signs reading "Eisenhower is the world's most stupid golfer."

Caddies said Castro shot something over 150 on the 6,692-yard par 70 Villareal course.

As far as is known, this was Castro's second attempt at golf. Caddies said he played three holes last Sunday.

Castro's venture into capitalistic sport is necessary relaxation for officials who "work day and night," the government-controlled press said.

Mormon elder Sam Brannan performed the first marriage, preached the first sermon and arranged the first jury trial under American rule in San Francisco.

Treatment Ordered

James David Bays, 41, Ross Post Office employee who was caught shoplifting a package of cheese last January, must take psychiatric treatment, Judge Harold J. Haley of Marin Municipal Court ruled yesterday. The judge also put Bays on supervised probation for three years. Bays was caught at the Jolly Store in Kentfield.

Eskoot Creek Report Given

Because the original cost and cost of maintenance is too large for the benefits derived, the Army Corps of Engineers is recommending that no further action be taken to improve flood control of Eskoot Creek at Stinson Beach.

The report is being referred for review to the Board of Engineers for Rivers and Harbors in Washington 25 D. C.

Persons interested in this project or those who wish to protest the report may write to the board at the above address.

When California was ceded to the United States, San Francisco had a population of 820, 200 houses, one school, one newspaper and two wharves.

MARIN'S NEWEST GARDEN APARTMENTS COMPLETED

Real Estate Board Chief Cites Upturn

HONOLULU (UPI)—The president of the National Assn. of Real Estate Boards said yesterday a nationwide tour of business centers convinced him "a recession does not exist in as bad a degree as you have been told" by Washington.

O. G. Powell, a Des Moines, Iowa, home builder and realty dealer, told a news conference "this country is not, as many in high places have been trying to tell us we are, in too bad a condition."

Powell said the real estate market now is healthier than it was a year ago, the inventory of unsold houses "is shrinking rapidly" and in 1961 "the door of opportunity will still swing open to those who will give it a healthy push."

He said in San Diego two months ago there were some 5,000 unsold houses left over from some 12,000 remaining on the market in 1959. In the last few weeks there has been a 20 per cent shrinkage of that figure to around 4,000."

Powell said he believes real estate business provided a good barometer for the strength of the economy. He said he was not trying to say that there were no troubled areas in the nation, "I simply say that we are not in the deplorable condition that we have been told we are."

Civil Defense Meeting Slated

County civil defense director Alan Bruce will speak on civilian preparedness at a meeting Monday of the Loma Verde Home Owners Assn.

The meeting, open to the public, will begin at 8 p.m. at the Loma Verde school.

Bruce's talk will concentrate on the effect on Novato, Loma Verde and Ignacio areas of a nuclear attack centered on San Francisco, said J. F. Kallmeyer, president of the association.

S.F. Officials Split On Gate Commission

San Francisco officialdom is split on the advisability of creating a Golden Gate Transportation Commission to eventually handle bridges, airports and seaports in the Bay Area.

Yesterday, the mayor's legislative advisory committee voted 7-to-1 endorsement in principle pending of legislation (SB 853 by Marin Sen. John F. McCarthy). The San Francisco Commission also voted approval.

But the board of supervisors' committee on county, state and national affairs voted 2-1 against creation of such an agency.

The battle lines were shaped about the same at each of the three meetings. Proponents, including Don DeLone, executive director of the Golden Gate Authority Commission, which developed the concept of the trasportation agency, called it "a realistic method" of bringing together for efficiency all transportation agencies. Mayor George Christopher urged adoption in principle, saying "we can iron out the difficulties later."

San Francisco City Atty. Dion R. Holm said the plan might be illegal and that there is "not a solitary thing" San Francisco can gain from the proposal.

Surprisingly, Golden Gate Bridge District directors did not take a stand before any of the three groups. The directors had scheduled a meeting of their legislative committee for yesterday to discuss the bill but canceled it because of the other San Francisco meetings.

The bridge's public information man, however, has been issuing publicity releases opposing the proposed legislation. Previously, the directors were on record opposing a Golden Gate Authority concept insofar as it would incorporate the Golden Gate Bridge into an areawide agency.

McCarthy's bill is in the Senate Transportation Committee and is scheduled for an early hearing, possibly Tuesday. San Francisco's full board of supervisors will discuss the bill Monday.

RATTLESNAKE EXTERMINATED BY BICYCLE

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—A five-foot rattlesnake lashed out at Roger Briggs but missed and became entangled in the boy's bicycle.

Roger, 12, son of Maj. and Mrs. A. D. Briggs, told police he was walking his bike across the street near his home in a residential area yesterday when the rattler appeared out of nowhere struck.

CAPITALISTIC COURSE

Castro's Golf Game Like Cutting Cane

HAVANA (AP) — Dark rumors floated through Havana today that Prime Minister Fidel Castro—despite what he says — never will be a winner at the imperialistic game of golf.

Caddies who watched the Cuban leader and two aides indulge in 18 holes of golf — previously scorned as "sport of the privileged classes" — likened Castro's swing to a cane cutter wielding a machete.

"Fidel will never be a golfer," one caddy said. "He's too impatient. He kept running after the ball after he hit it as if this were a soccer game."

Castro declared himself most satisfied and said, "I can beat Kennedy easily." A companion, economic czar Ernesto Guevara, said, "I'm sure I could beat even Eisenhower."

Both Castro and Guevara, in mounting attacks on former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, have repeatedly ridiculed golf and those who play it.

Havana buses still carry remnants of an anti-Eisenhower campaign — tattered signs reading "Eisenhower is the world's most stupid golfer."

Caddies said Castro shot something over 150 on the 6,692-yard par 70 Villareal course.

As far as is known, this was Castro's second attempt at golf. Caddies said he played three holes last Sunday.

Castro's venture into capitalistic sport is necessary relaxation for officials who "work day and night," the government-controlled press said.

Mormon elder Sam Brannan performed the first marriage, preached the first sermon and arranged the first jury trial under American rule in San Francisco.

Treatment Ordered

James David Bays, 41, Ross Post Office employee who was caught shoplifting a package of cheese last January, must take psychiatric treatment, Judge Harold J. Haley of Marin Municipal Court ruled yesterday. The judge also put Bays on supervised probation for three years. Bays was caught at the Jolly Store in Kentfield.

Eskoot Creek Report Given

Because the original cost and cost of maintenance is too large for the benefits derived, the Army Corps of Engineers is recommending that no further action be taken to improve flood control of Eskoot Creek at Stinson Beach.

The report is being referred for review to the Board of Engineers for Rivers and Harbors in Washington 25 D. C.

Persons interested in this project or those who wish to protest the report may write to the board at the above address.

When California was ceded to the United States, San Francisco hadl a population of 820, 200 houses, one school, one newspaper and two wharves.

2 Incumbents, 2 Newcomers In Sausalito Trustee Race

JUANITA S. COBB

WALTER LORD

STANLEY J. WOLFE

(This is the eighth in a series of stories introducing candidates for school boards in the April 18 elections.)

Two of the three Sausalito Elementary School District trustees whose terms expire this spring are seeking re-election April 18, and two other aspirants have filed for the board, making a four-way race for three positions.

Incumbents asking another term are Mrs. Juanita S. Cobb and George R. Kowski. Others are Walter Lord and Dr. Stanley J. Wolfe. The three topping the vote totals will get four-year terms on the board.

Here is a rundown on the candidates:

JUANITA S. COBB, 47, of House 117, Marin City, was elected to the school board three years ago. She is also a director of the Marin City Community Services District and a member of the Marin City Council of Women. She is a field representative for Golden State Mutual Life Insurance Co.

Mrs. Cobb and her husband, Early C. Cobb, have one son at home.

Mrs. Cobb's three sisters are all school teachers, one teaching in Sacramento. Mrs. Cobb was born and educated in Tatum, Tex. She has lived in Marin City for 18 years.

Says Mrs. Cobb: "I believe that a good school is one which offers the broadest program, within its means, in order that every child will have the fullest opportunity to learn." She urges "constantly improving our schools" and "closer ties between the school and the community."

GEORGE R. KOWSKI, 45, personnel manager of Hiram Walker and Sons in San Francisco, resides at 430 Bee Street, Sausalito. He and his wife, Victoria, have a daughter, 6 years old, and sons 11 and 16.

Kowski has been on the Sausalito school board seven years. He is also a member of the Sausalito Recreation Commission, the Citizens Advisory Committee of Tamalpais Union High School District, and the Richardson Bay Basketball Recreation League.

He was born in Burlington, Iowa, attended Iowa State College and Golden Gate Business College. He served in the Army in World War II, entering as a private and emerging as a warrant officer after service in Asiatic and Pacific campaigns. He has been a Sausalito resident since 1941.

Says Kowski: "As an incumbent member of the Sausalito Elementary School District board for seven years I do not stand on incantations and promises, but rather on the record, being mindful that we should continually seek improvement over what we have . . .

"In meeting many of the challenges of our unique district, in my opinion our teachers, our administrators and our classified employees have demonstrated that they are the finest in Marin County."

WALTER LORD, architect of 41 Harrison Avenue, Sausalito, making his first bid for a school board post, did not provide the Independent-Journal with biographical material but issued a statement saying, in part:

"I believe it is essential that the voters of the Sausalito District have at least one member on the board who is prepared and willing to speak out for those persons in the community who feel that the problems confronting our public schools . . . cannot and will not be solved by levying new taxes or financing more bonds . . .

"If elected . . . I shall bend every effort toward securing for our children an education that will fit them for preserving, as well as living in, a free society, and will give a voice to those voters who believe that tax dollars and knowledge are not synonymous terms."

STANLEY J. WOLFE, 37, is a physician and director of medical education at St. Luke's Hospital in San Francisco. He and his wife, Flora, live at 254 Glen Drive, Sausalito, with their son, Michael, and daughter, Emily.

Dr. Wolfe is a member of the Commonwealth Club. He was born in New York, attended Pennsylvania State University and Vanderbilt University and received his M.D. degree from Harvard Medical School. He served on the Harvard Medical School and University of Cincinnati College of Medicine faculties and is now on the University of California Medical School faculty. He served as an Army enlisted man in World War II and as a captain in the Medical Corps during the Korean War, stationed at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base in Ohio.

Says Dr. Wolfe: "I have been involved with education as student or teacher, for 30 years. Training and occupation have provided me with a knowledge of the needs and problems of educators and students.

"I believe a school board member's principal purpose should be to help set high educational standards and to provide means for the school administrators to meet those standards. I am committed to public schools and to their providing the best possible educational opportunity to our children."

'10 Per Center' Deadline Announced

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The chairman of a legislative committee listened to another two hours of dispute last night, then gave California real estate men and various state officials exactly two weeks to work out a solution for the problem of fraudulent real estate schemes involving so-called "10 per centers."

The solution, according to Assemblyman Richard T. Hanna, chairman of the assembly subcommittee on finance and insurance, "must keep a healthy flow of mortgage money in California, but must still "protect investors."

Hanna, a Fullerton Democrat, said that if his ultimatum did not produce results, the subcommittee would go into closed, executive session to draft a bill for passage during the current session.

Hanna reminded representatives from his real estate associations, lending institutions, the state attorney general's office, the state investment board, and the State Divisions of Real Estate and Corporations that the issue of "10 per centers" had been before one or another of them since 1955.

"We can't go empty-handed out of this session," he said, adding that he had evidence indicating that the "sharp practices" used by 10 per centers—whose trademark is the wholesale promotion of second deeds of trust—had not yet been brought entirely under control.

Tam Candidates Meeting Slated

Candidates for Tamalpais Union High School District and Mill Valley Elementary School District boards have been invited to appear at a candidates' night next Thursday at 8 p.m. in Ruby Scott auditorium of Tamalpais High School.

The event is sponsored by the Mill Valley League of Women Voters.

Each candidate is to speak five minutes after which written questions, submitted by the audience, will be answered, according to voters' service chairman Mrs. James Good of Tiburon.

Pro and con arguments in a printed form concerning the bond issues to be voted on in both districts will be available as well as mimeographed biographical sketches of the candidates, Mrs. Good said.

The above marks are documentary proof of the mileage potential built into today's cars using Mobil. They were scored on the 1961 Mobilgas Economy Run — world's greatest official proof of mileage economy.

Mobil has been economy proved in every make of American car. This year sixty-five cars were entered; they traveled 2561 miles, from Los Angeles to Chicago—over deserts, mountains, crowded city streets. Only Mobil goes to such lengths to demonstrate to you the mileage-economy possible from today's cars.

You can prove this economy in your own car. Fill up with Mobil Regular or Special . . . improved with Preptane, the new long-mileage additive. Then do as the Economy Run drivers do: drive properly—avoid "jackrabbit" starts, ease into higher gears quickly, keep a steady foot on the accelerator.

He served as an Army enlisted man in World War II and as a captain in the Medical Corps during the Korean War, stationed at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base in Ohio.

Says Dr. Wolfe: "I have been involved with education as student or teacher, for 30 years. Training and occupation have provided me with a knowledge of the needs and problems of educators and students.

"I believe a school board member's principal purpose should be to help set high educational standards and to provide means for the school administrators to meet those standards. I am committed to public schools and to their providing the best possible educational opportunity to our children."

'10 Per Center' Deadline Announced

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The chairman of a legislative committee listened to another two hours of dispute last night, then gave California real estate men and various state officials exactly two weeks to work out a solution for the problem of fraudulent real estate schemes involving so-called "10 per centers."

The solution, according to Assemblyman Richard T. Hanna, chairman of the assembly subcommittee on finance and insurance, "must keep a healthy flow of mortgage money in California, but must still "protect investors."

Hanna, a Fullerton Democrat, said that if his ultimatum did not produce results, the subcommittee would go into closed, executive session to draft a bill for passage during the current session.

Hanna reminded representatives from his real estate associations, lending institutions, the state attorney general's office, the state investment board, and the State Divisions of Real Estate and Corporations that the issue of "10 per centers" had been before one or another of them since 1955.

"We can't go empty-handed out of this session," he said, adding that he had evidence indicating that the "sharp practices" used by 10 per centers—whose trademark is the wholesale promotion of second deeds of trust—had not yet been brought entirely under control.

Tam Candidates Meeting Slated

Candidates for Tamalpais Union High School District and Mill Valley Elementary School District boards have been invited to appear at a candidates' night next Thursday at 8 p.m. in Ruby Scott auditorium of Tamalpais High School.

The event is sponsored by the Mill Valley League of Women Voters.

Each candidate is to speak five minutes after which written questions, submitted by the audience, will be answered, according to voters' service chairman Mrs. James Good of Tiburon.

Pro and con arguments in a printed form concerning the bond issues to be voted on in both districts will be available as well as mimeographed biographical sketches of the candidates, Mrs. Good said.

The above marks are documentary proof of the mileage potential built into today's cars using Mobil. They were scored on the 1961 Mobilgas Economy Run — world's greatest official proof of mileage economy.

Mobil has been economy proved in every make of American car. This year sixty-five cars were entered; they traveled 2561 miles, from Los Angeles to Chicago—over deserts, mountains, crowded city streets. Only Mobil goes to such lengths to demonstrate to you the mileage-economy possible from today's cars.

You can prove this economy in your own car. Fill up with Mobil Regular or Special . . . improved with Preptane, the new long-mileage additive. Then do as the Economy Run drivers do: drive properly—avoid "jack-rabbit" starts, ease into higher gears quickly, keep a steady foot on the accelerator.

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

Many Restaurants To Feature Special Repasts For Easter

Traditionally, Easter is a popular day for eating out. Early or mid-day repasts share honors with Easter dinners and many restaurants are geared to continued activity from morning to evening hours. A number of them have announced their schedules for the holiday.

NAVE BOWL in Ignacio will feature brunches from about 11 a.m. on this, its first Easter opening, and merge into an early afternoon dinner service without interruption.

BLUE ROCK INN, Larkspur, will serve its famous Easter brunch from 10 a.m. to 1:30 p.m., but its dinner hours will be from 3 to 10 p.m.

PEACOCK GAP Golf and Country Club, another newcomer, will run its Easter dinners from 4 to 9 p.m.

LA PETITE AUBERGE, San Rafael, opens for dinners as early as noon this year; has announced it is also serving fizzes as one of the attractions among the preliminaries.

SABELLA'S has a tradition all its own—the giant brunch and Easter egg hunt from 10:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. The Sabella family spends early hours hiding colored eggs and other delectables throughout the restaurant for the youngsters. By late morning several hundred of them are gathered for the hunt and to ride the Rancho Nicasio ponies which will be on hand again this year. Some will win special prizes.

At 1 p.m. Sabella's begins serving its Easter Sunday dinner menu.

RANCHO NICASIO started serving a Sunday brunch not too long ago and will carry it through on Easter from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., drifting into its Easter dinner from there.

LE CHATEAU on the highway north of San Rafael is featuring a special brunch with eggs Benedict from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. and from that point will go directly into Easter dinners.

It is common knowledge now that Roy Franchini has signed to purchase Le Chateau from Cliff Cox but the deal will not be completed until abont May 1, and Cliff Cox will keep open as usual until then.

FRANCHINI'S West End Villa, San Rafael, will pass by the brunch period this Easter but start its Easter dinner at 3 p.m.

EUGENE'S in San Rafael starts its Easter breakfast early—at 6:30 a.m., and is usually heavily patronized from the time it opens. If the weather is fair the rear patio will be opened during the day and breakfasts will be served as long as customers want them. Regular dinner menu will be available from noon.

EL PASEO RESTAURANT, Mill Valley, will have an Easter brunch from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. and follow it up immediately with dinners for the rest of the day.

THE COLONEL'S RANCH WAGON on Highway 101 has no brunch planned for this weekend but will be open for Easter dinners from 1 p.m.

This Sunday, too, popular Art Fadden starts his evening engagements at the piano bar and will play five nights a week through Thursdays until further notice.

RAMONA'S Mexican Restaurant, San Rafael, will open Easter noon forb runch and begin its dinners at the usual Sunday 4 p.m. hour.

Lunch tomorrow (Saturday) will be from 11:30 a.m.

This was not an attempt to cover the entire county. Your favorite spot may have a similar program in mind — phone ahead for its schedule.

DOMENIC'S, the much awaited harbor restaurant on Francisco Boulevard, San Rafael, will have its opening April 8, with the Sunny Hills Junior Auxiliary benefit dinner by advance reservations only.

Thereafter, what is likely to be a well patronized spot will be open seven days a week. Lunches will be served Mondays through Fridays (some uncertainty yet on its first Monday) and dinners from 5 p.m. Featured on Saturdays and Sundays will be a brunch from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., with dinners commencing at 4 p.m.

Owner-manager Bob Ghiringhelli, in spite of his 32 years and younger appearance, is actually an old-time restaurateur in Marin County in terms of service. His father, Joe, carried him into the kitchen at Deer Park Villa in Fairfax shortly after birth, and even if Bob's eyes were still unfocused he must have caught a glimmer of his future. He grew up with pots and pans and the preparation and serving of food, officiating as cook, bus-boy, waiter and maitre d' in turn until restaurant operation became second nature.

His assistant at Domenic's, Charlie Peri, also from Fairfax and a lifelong friend who was born on the same day as Bob, shared some of his experiences at Deer Park Villa and in the meat business with his father.

You might say that management of the new restaurant is in capable hands accustomed to teamwork. It should succeed.

JUST OPENED yesterday, Bernstein's of Tiburon (next to the Tiburon firehouse), a branch of Bernstein's famous grotto in San Francisco, is a park-in type of operation—not a restaurant, says manager R. Neil Smith, a former Marin resident—at least not yet, though that may happen some day.

All types of seafood cocktails and Bernstein's popular specialties are offered to take out.

It will be open Thursdays through Sundays from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. and will be operated for the time being by Dick Bernstein himself, who lives in Tiburon.

Payments To Divorced Wife Are Deductible

By PETER J. WIKEL, CPA

Alimony and separate maintenance payments are deductible by the husband and must be included in the wife's income if:

Peter J. Wikel

1. The payments are made under a decree of divorce or legal separation, or they are made under a written separation agreement made after Aug. 16, 1954, or under a court decree for support made after March 1, 1954, and for payments made after Aug. 16, 1954, under such decree.

2. The payments must be made after such decree or agreement.

3. The payments must cover a legal obligation arising out of marital or family relationship.

4. The payments must not be for the support of children. Child support does not count.

5. Only periodic payments count; lump sum payments do not count.

Periodic payments are those which extend over a period of time greater than ten years, or where it is impossible to figure the total amount that will be paid.

Lump sum payments are those where a fixed definite amount is payable immediately following the decree; or where fixed amounts can be figured from the terms of the decree that is payable over a period of ten years or less.

Temporary payments pending divorce or legal separation do not count. Neither do payments intended to re-pay loans received previously from the wife, or to induce her to turn over community property. Payments for attorney's fees or court costs do not count.

Provided that all payments qualify, a husband can deduct all payments made to all previous wives during the year, regardless of the number of such previous wives.

Almost one and one-half million immigrants have settled in Australia since World War II.

Larkspur Pastor To Leave For Washington Post

Rev. Wayne M. Hansen, pastor of the Redwoods Presbyterian Church in Larkspur for nine years, will leave the church April 23 to become a field executive for the United Presbyterian Church Synod in Washington state.

The minister has been serving at the Larkspur church since March, 1952. During his pastorate a new sanctuary and education building were completed.

He and his wife Marjorie and their two sons, William, 9, and Richard, 7, reside at 4 Wiltshire Street, Larkspur. The minister said they plan to make their new home in Spokane, Wash.

'I Am A Camera' Is Just Out Of Focus

By CARLETON WILLIAMS

At the final curtain of "I Am a Camera," current offering of the Sausalito Little Theater, a principal character who plays the part of the "camera" soliloquizes to the effect that he is leaving to develop the "pictures" he has taken.

Judging from the opening performance last Friday night, I would hazard a guess the prints will be a trifle underexposed.

The play was put together by John Van Druten from a series of sketches by Christopher Isherwood entitled "Berlin Stories," which make up sort of a diary of the British poet-author's era of rebellion in Berlin in the late 1930s.

The action is built around Isherwood's observations of Sally Bowles, a delightfully dissolute British girl whose greatest pleasure derives from shocking people.

Vincent Porcaro both directed the play and designed the set, a dark, one-room flat in a rooming house presided over by Frauline Schneider (happily played by Merle McDill), an emotional landlady whose services to her tenants include offering advice and arranging for illegal operations.

From the window of the flat, the characters observe street walkers at work and street fighting of the sort that went on in that unhappy time. The only plot — and it is incidental — is the development of a fortune-hunting gigolo's love for a wealthy Jewish girl.

Herbert Beckman as Isherwood is not only credible but engaging, never reaching great acting heights but performing in cratfsmanlike manner.

Sally, played by Delia Slade, is the hard-drinking, insouciant character we all knew in an earlier existence, in Paris, the village, North Beach, or even Sausalito. In a part blessed with sparkling lines, she sparkles.

Lynn Arden, a veteran of the Sausalito Little Theater, does an excellent job as Natalie Lindauer, the serious daughter of a Jewish department store owner. Michael Bry as her lover was charming, but displays an unfortunate tendency to say his lines to the floor, the furniture and the set.

Two minor parts, Sally's mother and an open-handed, fun-loving American tourist, offer opportunities for incisive characterizations. Somehow, the roles were unconvincing as played by Bunty Mordant, the mother, and James McLaughlin, the playboy spender.

Air Pollution Unit Tax Hike Hits A Snag

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A proposal to double the tax rate of the Bay Area Air Pollution District ran into a formidable opponent yesterday — the chairman of the Assembly committee that decides whether it goes to the floor.

The Committee on Municipal and County Government deferred a vote on the bill after Chairman Clark Bradley (R-San Jose) stated that the district has failed to prove it needed the money.

The bill, by Assemblyman Byron Rumford (D-Berkeley), would raise the district's tax from one cent to two cents for each $100 of assessed valuation.

When opposition developed, Rumford offered to amend the bill to place the tax increase on a graduated basis—up to 1.6 cent by July 1, 1961 and up to 2 cents a year later.

Bradley insisted on a roll call. The amendments received only six favorable votes, one short.

Statewide Test Plan Debate Set Tuesday

A proposal for statewide testing of all California public school pupils will be debated in Marin Tuesday night by the president emeritus of the University of California and the educational consultant of the League of Women Voters.

Dr. Robert Gordon Sproul will speak in favor of the measure and Mrs. Lynn Thompson against at Marin County School Board Assn. meeting at 8 o'clock in Olney Hall, College of Marin. It is open to the public. A question period will follow discussion.

Both speakers were members of a 27-man Citizens Advisory Commission that submitted a report on education to the California legislature last November. The state testing measure was one of the recommendations included in that report.

If enacted into law the measure would empower the State Board of Education to set up mandatory tests for California school children.

Law Plan Discussion

Gov. Edmund G. Brown's legislative program will be discussed by William K. Coblentz, San Francisco attorney and former special council to Brown, at a Ross Valley Democratic Club meeting 8 p.m. April 18 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Steven Heller on Brete Harte Road in San Rafael.

Katanga Army Captures Town Held By Rebels

ELISABETHVILLE (AP) — Units of the Katanga army, spearheaded by white mercenary troops, captured the north Katanga town of Manono yesterday and routed some 600 troops of Antoine Gizenga's Stanleyville regime.

The Katanga Province vice president, Jean Marie Kibwe, said seven Gizengist troops were killed south of Manono when they opposed the advance of the Katanga force but hardly a shot was fired in the town.

Kibwe said he had no news of any prisoners being taken nor of the self-styled Lualaba government that leaders of the Lualaba tribe opposed to Katanga President Moise Tshombe proclaimed in Manono after the Stanleyville force captured it on Jan. 9.

Interior Minister Godefroid Munongo said there had been no deaths among the Katanga army or among the civilian population.

The United Nations garrison in the area, some 200 Nigerian troops, stood clear of the action, Munongo said.

STOP ORDER CRITICIZED

Jury Raps Board On Civic Center

The three-man majority of the Marin County Board of Supervisors drew grand jury criticism last night for a temporary stop-work on the county civic center last January.

"While no wrongful act was committed," the Marin Grand Jury resolution declared, "the action taken was unnecessarily hasty and without due consideration of all factors involved in a project of this magnitude."

Grand Jury Foreman William L. Hughes said the resolution will be sent to the supervisors in written form. The letter was addressed to the Board of Supervisors as a whole.

Last January, Chairman William D. Fusselman and Supervisors George Ludy and J. Walter Blair voted to stop work on the administration building of the Frank Lloyd Wright-designed civic center. Supervisors Walter R. Castro and William Gnoss opposed the stoppage.

After a week's work stoppage to determine whether the building could be converted into a county hospital, the supervisors ordered work resumed.

The contracting firm filed a $14,047 claim as a result of the delay.

All five supervisors and County Clerk George S. Jones were called in by the grand jury last night during a four-hour session.

ent. He obtained bachelor and master of science degrees in sociology and education from Stanford University, and was awarded a Ph.D. degree in theology after study at Oxford University.

He was ordained to the diaconate in Canterbury Cathedral in June, 1952, and to the priesthood in the United States in December of the same year.

From 1952 to 1956 he was rector of St. Mark's Church at Hood River, Ore. While there he served on the executive council of the Episcopal Missionary District of Eastern Oregon and as chairman of the district's Christian education department. He attended Faith and Order conferences in Sweden in 1952 and at Chicago in 1954, and the World Council of Churches assembly in Evanston, Ill., in 1954.

He has also served as a clerical delegate to the Anglican Congress of Churches, president of the Hood River Valley Ministerial Assn. and member of the National Girls' Friendly Society development and leadership training commission. He was recently elected chairman of the adult work section of the National Council of Churches of Christ.

Dr. Hinton leaves a post he has occupied for eight years, during which enrollment at the 71-year-old academy has increased from 187 to 246.

The increase in enrollment has come despite a reduction in the number of years of schooling offered at the academy. During Dr. Hinton's administration, the lower grades were gradually eliminated. The academy now offers a college preparatory course from seventh through 12th grade.

fight against Red terrorism," he declared.

The physician declared that the Reds "have succeeded fully in enlisting the support of the free press."

Ward said he could not associate himself with statements made by Robert Welch, founder of the society, attacking former President Eisenhower and Chief Justice Earl Warren. The suggestion Eisenhower might be communist was an excerpt from a letter Welch wrote to a friend in 1954, Ward said. It was made privately before the society was founded, he added.

Ward agreed, however, that impeachment of Chief Justice Earl Warren is now one of the principal projects of the society. He is in favor of it.

"I am not a fascist, and anyone who says so is a liar or a fool," Ward said. He considers himself a "loyal, patriotic citizen, who supports our country's constitution and form of government. I also believe this country and institutions are in the greatest peril they have ever been."

Ward said he didn't know if Marin County has a chapter of the society. "I suspect there is one in Sausalito," he said. He thinks the county would be "fertile soil" for a chapter.

More Vandals Pour Paint On Homes

Three Novato homes now under construction were damaged Wednesday night by unknown vandals.

Police reported that three five-gallon cans of white paint were poured on a hardwood floor at 5 Sunnyhill Drive; a can of light green paint was poured on construction machinery inside a home at 7 Sunnyhill Drive, a front window at 15 Carmel Drive was broken. The homes are being built by Sharp and Robinson, Belvedere contractors.

Sheriff Kept On Jump By Vandalism

Petty vandalism and thievery continued into Good Friday, as harassed sheriff's deputies jumped from one end of Marin to the other to put the county in order for Easter.

Several homes were plunged into darkness last night when mischief-makers pulled master switches and tore out fuses.

In Sleepy Hollow, Malcolm McVicker of 1360 Butterfield Road said all of his lights went out about 10:30 p.m. Someone had taken all fuses out of the fuse box and tossed them on his front porch.

A few minutes later, John Herman of 19 Irving Drive reported that someone had pulled the master switch in his house.

A similar complaint came from Mrs. Mary Kingland of 811 Rincon Way, Santa Venetia, about 7 p.m. The outside light switch had been pulled and dirt thrown over the front of the house.

A mailbox blew up at the home of Walter Doole, 9 Genside Way, in the Los Ranchitos area north of San Rafael. Doole complained to the sheriff at 4:30 p.m.

Yesterday noon, Joe Lopez Vierra, who lives and works at Ross General Hospital, found the battery gone from his 1953 two-door sedan parked to the rear of the building.

Jim Weise of the county Department of Public Works reported flasher lights and road signs near Nicasio Dam had been damaged.

This morning, Fred Dilbeck of the Flying A service station at 100 Tiburon Boulevard found two gasoline pump hoses had been cut.

Harold Donald Richards, foreman for Belner Builders, Inc., found the company's tool shack had been broken into sometime last night on Lomita Drive in Alto. Tools were stolen.

Former Marinite Gets Forest Post

Former Fairfax resident George S. James, head of the Forest Service information programs in 11 southern states, has been appointed an assistant deputy chief in the U. S. Forest Service in Washington, D. C.

James, who now resides in Atlanta, Ga., was made a deputy to Asst. Chief A. W. Greeley, head of nationwide forest protection and development, announced J. K. Vessey, southern regional forester.

Postal Storage Box Hit By Car

Sheriff's deputies said Helen Decker Smith, 43, of Fresno admitted driving her car into the mail box.

Air Policemen at Hamilton Field spotted the accident about 3 a.m. and reported that the driver had headed north.

Novato police caught Mrs. Smith.

Alto Group Steps Up Fight Against Zoning

Fifty members of the Alto District Assn. met in the Alto firehouse last night to "resuscitate and reorganize" forces for a fight to keep the Alto bowl in single family zoning.

A five-man board, with F. J. McClain as chairman, was elected. Sidney L. Chapin was previous chairman of the association.

Members agreed to write the Marin Federation of Improvement Clubs stating continued objections to rezoning from single family to a planned residential zone which would permit apartments.

Mrs. Donald Schad, new secretary - treasurer, announced there were 350 signatures to a petition to the board of supervisors asking for continuance of existing zoning.

The Marin County Planning Commission March 21 indicated approval of the proposal of Marin Capital Co. to construct up to 900 dwelling units on about 200 acres of Alto land. The matter was continued to May 15 for presentation of a master plan.

The Alto District Assn. will meet again within two weeks. McClain said residents of Sutton Manor, Meadowsweet and Enchanted Knolls would be invited.

Chapin was given a vote of thanks by the association for his work in office. Besides McClain and Mrs. Schad, new board members are Albert Moore, vice chairman, Cyril Novak and Thomas Dugan.

Reasons for opposition to the proposed development from the association, according to McClain, are:

1. Multiple family housing would change the character of the Alto area.

2. Access to the property would cause a detriment to public welfare.

3. Planning for schools has been on the basis of the Mill Valley master plan, which has recommended low density.

4. Apartments would generate more traffic on inadequate streets.

5. Rezoning could depress property values of neighboring areas.

The Meadowsweet Improvement Assn. voted against the proposed development March 12 and asked the planning commission continue the matter for further study.

Mrs. W. W. Nichols of the association's zoning committee, said it was felt the project would change the character of the area and, as yet, "the need has not been proved for such a vast development of multiple housing."

Mrs. Nichols said this is a test case since it is the first time planned residential zoning has been proposed in Marin.

PT. REYES

would be permitted to occupy their houses and an amount of land determined to be reasonable in individual negotiations.

Asserting that reasonable men can differ, Sen. Gordon Allott (R-Colo.) suggested the legislation be amended to specify the minimum and maximum amounts of land to be allowed with each house.

Wirth said he could not say now what would be reasonable in each case. He said the circumstances and the topography differ.

This prompted Sen. Henry Dworshak (R-Ida.) to accuse Wirth of being poorly prepared for presenting the Point Reyes proposal to limit existing house owners to three acres, feeling that a larger lot might be appropriate in some instances.

Wirth agreed with Allott that successful development of the Point Reyes park depends to a large extent upon county zoning of areas outside the park and on the approach roads to prevent "honky tonk" buildup.

"Zoning," he said, "is awfully important in Inverness."

Wirth said overnight camping would be permitted in the park, but there would be no cabins.

This, he said, would mean the construction of overnight accommodations on the park fringe. He said he hoped it would be controlled by adequate county ordinances.

Crude Weapon Found At Prison

The weapon, Frady said, apparently was fashioned from a spring from one of the prison beds. The discovery was made during a routine inspection of condemned row cells and the corridor outside the cells.

The weapon, approximately 12 inches in length, was found among the wires of a portable record player in "exercise alley," the corridor in front of the condemned row cells. Prison authorities have no knowledge of who planted the weapon in the record player.

OBITUARIES

Col. Koenig, Sausalito, Dies At 74

Col. William Charles Koenig, who was graduated from the Naval Academy and then served 45 years in the Army, died yesterday at Letterman Army Hospital after long illness. He was 74.

Koenig was one of a small group of Annapolis graduates who were commissioned in the Army in 1909. He served in the Coast Artillery, and saw service in Europe in World Wars I and II.

His first command was at the Presidio of San Francisco, where he commanded the gun batteries overlooking the Golden Gate.

He had lived in Sausalito at 269 Woodward Avenue since 1946.

In World War I, Koenig participated with the British forces in the Meuse-Argonne and St. Michael battles. He then commanded the port of Antwerp for three years.

He served on Corregidor and the Bataan Peninsula from 1937 to 1940. After U. S. entry into World War II, he commanded the American base at Prince Rupert, B. C., and later commanded a port operation on the Bristol Channel. In 1944 he took his men across the channel to France in the Normandy invasion. He returned to the U. S. at war's end with five battle stars.

After retirement in February, 1948, the Alabama-born colonel was for four years liaison officer between the Army Engineers' Relief and the Red Cross.

He was a member of the Mill Valley Community Church and the Marines Memorial Club, and a Mason.

He is survived by his wife, Jeannette; a daughter, Mrs. Winifred K. Fleming of Santa Monica; a sister, Mrs. Gusta Robinson of Amarillo, Tex., and three grandchildren.

Funeral services will be at 2 p.m. Monday at the San Francisco Presidio Post chapel. Interment will be in Presidio National Cemetery, directed by Russell and Gooch Mortuary in Mill Valley. The family has requested that tributes be contributions to the First Baptist Church of Mill Valley.

CARL ROSS

Funeral services for Carl Ross, retired Air Force chief warrant officer will be held Monday at 10 a.m. at the Hamilton Air Force Base Catholic Chapel.

Ross, a veteran of World War II and the Korean conflict, died Tuesday in a San Francisco hospital after a six-month illness. He was 42.

He retired from the Air Force last month because of illness. He had served 19 years. His last duty was as personnel officer for the 78th Fighter Wing at Hamilton Air Force Base.

He and his wife, Marjorie, had lived in Raphael Village from 1954 to 1959. They moved to Berkeley that year where Mrs. Ross now resides. She is his lone survivor.

Ross was a member of the Air Force Aid Society.

A WEEK OF GOOD READING

PROFILE OF THE WEEK—For more than 20 years Frank Linne Lucas has been engaged in school work as teacher and administrator. But prior to that he had led a varied life as a train conductor, structural steelworker, toll bridge collector, packing company worker and deputy sheriff. He was 30 years old when he finally decided that education was his field. And it is a decision he has never regretted. Today he is San Rafael superintendent of schools, a challenging job which he performs with enthusiasm. Independent-Journal reporter Dorothy Simpers will tell you more about this interesting Marinite in tomorrow's Marin Magazine.

STOP ORDER CRITICIZED

Jury Raps Board On Civic Center

The three-man majority of the Marin County Board of Supervisors drew grand jury criticism last night for a temporary stop-work on the county civic center last January.

"While no wrongful act was committed," the Marin Grand Jury resolution declared, "the action taken was unnecessarily hasty and without due consideration of all factors involved in a project of this magnitude."

Grand Jury Foreman William L. Hughes said the resolution will be sent to the supervisors in written form. The letter was addressed to the Board of Supervisors as a whole.

Last January, Chairman William D. Fusselman and Supervisors George Ludy and J. Walter Blair voted to stop work on the administration building of the Frank Lloyd Wright-designed civic center. Supervisors Walter R. Castro and William Gnoss opposed the stoppage.

After a week's work stoppage to determine whether the building could be converted into a county hospital, the supervisors ordered work resumed.

The contracting firm filed a $14,047 claim as a result of the delay.

ACADEMY

ent. He obtained bachelor and master of science degrees in sociology and education from Stanford University, and was awarded a Ph.D. degree in theology after study at Oxford University.

He was ordained to the diaconate in Canterbury Cathedral in June, 1952, and to the priesthood in the United States in December of the same year.

From 1952 to 1956 he was rector of St. Mark's Church at Hood River, Ore. While there he served on the executive council of the Episcopal Missionary District of Eastern Oregon and as chairman of the district's Christian education department. He attended Faith and Order conferences in Sweden in 1952 and at Chicago in 1954, and the World Council of Churches assembly in Evanston, Ill., in 1954.

He has also served as a clerical delegate to the Anglican Congress of Churches, president of the Hood River Valley Ministerial Assn. and member of the National Girls' Friendly Society development and leadership training commission. He was recently elected chairman of the adult work section of the National Council of Churches of Christ.

Dr. Hinton leaves a post he has occupied for eight years, during which enrollment at the 71-year-old academy has increased from 187 to 246.

The increase in enrollment has come despite a reduction in the number of years of schooling offered at the academy. During Dr. Hinton's administration, the lower grades were gradually eliminated. The academy now offers a college preparatory course from seventh through 12th grade.

More Vandals Pour Paint On Homes

Three Novato homes now under construction were damaged Wednesday night by unknown vandals.

Police reported that three five-gallon cans of white paint were poured on a hardwood floor at 5 Sunnyhill Drive; a can of light green paint was poured on construction machinery inside a home at 7 Sunnyhill Drive; a front window at 15 Carmel Drive was broken. The homes are being built by Sharp and Robinson, Belvedere contractors.

Charges Denied

Grover Cleveland Puckett, 35, Tamalpais Valley butcher accused of incest and lewd conduct toward a 13-year-old girl, denied the charges yesterday in Marin Municipal Court. Preliminary hearing for Puckett is to be set next Wednesday.

BIRCH

fight against Red terrorism," he declared.

The physician declared that the Reds "have succeeded fully in enlisting the support of the free press."

Ward said he could not associate himself with statements made by Robert Welch, founder of the society, attacking former President Eisenhower and Chief Justice Earl Warren. The suggestion Eisenhower might be communist was an excerpt from a letter Welch wrote to a friend in 1954, Ward said. It was made privately before the society was founded, he added.

Ward agreed, however, that impeachment of Chief Justice Earl Warren is now one of the principal projects of the society. He is in favor of it.

"I am not a fascist, and anyone who says so is a liar or a fool," Ward said. He considers himself a "loyal, patriotic citizen, who supports our country's constitution and form of government. I also believe this country and institutions are in the greatest peril they have ever been."

Ward said he didn't know if Marin County has a chapter of the society. "I suspect there is one in Sausalito," he said. He thinks the county would be "fertile soil" for a chapter.

Postal Storage Box Hit By Car

Air Policemen at Hamilton Field spotted the accident about 3 a.m. and reported that the driver had headed north.

Novato police caught Mrs. Smith.

Sheriff Kept On Jump By Vandalism

Petty vandalism and thievery continued into Good Friday, as harassed sheriff's deputies jumped from one end of Marin to the other to put the county in order for Easter.

Several homes were plunged into darkness last night when mischief-makers pulled master switches and tore out fuses.

In Sleepy Hollow, Malcolm McVicker of 1360 Butterfield Road said all of his lights went out about 10:30 p.m. Someone had taken all fuses out of the fuse box and tossed them on his front porch.

A few minutes later, John Herman of 19 Irving Drive reported that someone had pulled the master switch in his house.

A similar complaint came from Mrs. Mary Kingland of 811 Rincon Way, Santa Venetia, about 7 p.m. The outside light switch had been pulled and dirt thrown over the front of the house.

A mailbox blew up at the home of Walter Doole, 9 Genside Way, in the Los Ranchitos area north of San Rafael. Doole complained to the sheriff at 4:30 p.m.

Yesterday noon, Joe Lopez Vierra, who lives and works at Ross General Hospital, found the battery gone from his 1953 two-door sedan parked to the rear of the building.

Jim Weise of the county Department of Public Works reported flasher lights and road signs near Nicasio Dam had been damaged.

This morning, Fred Dilbeck of the Flying A service station at 100 Tiburon Boulevard found two gasoline pump hoses had been cut.

Harold Donald Richards, foreman for Belner Builders, Inc., found the company's tool shack had been broken into sometime last night on Lomita Drive in Alto. Tools were stolen.

CLEANUP

Jeanette Krebs, Don Day and Dora Farr were members of a student committee that organized the work day. They took on, also, the job of directing student maintenance of the newly planted areas.

Former Marinite Gets Forest Post

Former Fairfax resident George S. James, head of the Forest Service information programs in 11 southern states, has been appointed an assistant deputy chief in the U. S. Forest Service in Washington, D. C.

James, who now resides in Atlanta, Ga., was made a deputy to Asst. Chief A. W. Greeley, head of nationwide forest protection and development, announced J. K. Vessey, southern regional forester.

Alto Group Steps Up Fight Against Zoning

Fifty members of the Alto District Assn. met in the Alto firehouse last night to "resuscitate and reorganize" forces for a fight to keep the Alto bowl in single family zoning.

A five-man board, with F. J. McClain as chairman, was elected. Sidney L. Chapin was previous chairman of the association.

Members agreed to write the Marin Federation of Improvement Clubs stating continued objections to rezoning from single family to a planned residential zone which would permit apartments.

Mrs. Donald Schad, new secretary - treasurer, announced there were 350 signatures to a petition to the board of supervisors asking for continuance of existing zoning.

The Marin County Planning Commission March 21 indicated approval of the proposal of Marin Capital Co. to construct up to 900 dwelling units on about 200 acres of Alto land. The matter was continued to May 15 for presentation of a master plan.

The Alto District Assn. will meet again within two weeks. McClain said residents of Sutton Manor, Meadowsweet and Enchanted Knolls would be invited.

Chapin was given a vote of thanks by the association for his work in office. Besides McClain and Mrs. Schad, new board members are Albert Moore, vice chairman, Cyril Novak and Thomas Dugan.

Reasons for opposition to the proposed development from the association, according to McClain, are:

1. Multiple family housing would change the character of the Alto area.

2. Access to the property would cause a detriment to public welfare.

3. Planning for schools has been on the basis of the Mill Valley master plan, which has recommended low density.

4. Apartments would generate more traffic on inadequate streets.

5. Rezoning could depress property values of neighboring areas.

The Meadowsweet Improvement Assn. voted against the proposed development March 12 and asked the planning commission continue the matter for further study.

Mrs. W. W. Nichols of the association's zoning committee, said it was felt the project would change the character of the area and, as yet, "the need has not been proved for such a vast development of multiple housing."

Mrs. Nichols said this is a test case since it is the first time planned residential zoning has been proposed in Marin.

PT. REYES

would be permitted to occupy their houses and an amount of land determined to be reasonable in individual negotiations.

Asserting that reasonable men can differ, Sen. Gordon Allott (R-Colo.) suggested the legislation be amended to specify the minimum and maximum amounts of land to be allowed with each house.

Wirth said he could not say now what would be reasonable in each case. He said the circumstances and the topography differ.

This prompted Sen. Henry Dworshak (R-Ida.) to accuse Wirth of being poorly prepared for presenting the Point Reyes proposal to limit existing house owners to three acres, feeling that a larger lot might be appropriate in some instances.

Wirth agreed with Allott that successful development of the Point Reyes park depends to a large extent upon county zoning of areas outside the park and on the approach roads to prevent "honky tonk" buildup.

"Zoning," he said, "is awfully important in Inverness."

Wirth said overnight camping would be permitted in the park, but there would be no cabins.

This, he said, would mean the construction of overnight accommodations on the park fringe. He said he hoped it would be controlled by adequate county ordinances.

Crude Weapon Found At Prison

The weapon, Frady said, apparently was fashioned from a spring from one of the prison beds. The discovery was made during a routine inspection of condemned row cells and the corridor outside the cells.

The weapon, approximately 12 inches in length, was found among the wires of a portable record player in "exercise alley," the corridor in front of the condemned row cells. Prison authorities have no knowledge of who planted the weapon in the record player.

OBITUARIES

Col. Koenig, Sausalito, Dies At 74

Col. William Charles Koenig, who was graduated from the Naval Academy and then served 45 years in the Army, died yesterday at Letterman Army Hospital after long illness. He was 74.

Koenig was one of a small group of Annapolis graduates who were commissioned in the Army in 1909. He served in the Coast Artillery, and saw service in Europe in World Wars I and II.

His first command was at the Presidio of San Francisco, where he commanded the gun batteries overlooking the Golden Gate.

He had lived in Sausalito at 269 Woodward Avenue since 1946.

In World War I, Koenig participated with the British forces in the Meuse-Argonne and St. Michael battles. He then commanded the port of Antwerp for three years.

He served on Corregidor and the Bataan Peninsula from 1937 to 1940. After U. S. entry into World War II, he commanded the American base at Prince Rupert, B. C., and later commanded a port operation on the Bristol Channel. In 1944 he took his men across the channel to France in the Normandy invasion. He returned to the U. S. at war's end with five battle stars.

After retirement in February, 1948, the Alabama-born colonel was for four years liaison officer between the Army Engineers' Relief and the Red Cross.

He was a member of the Mill Valley Community Church and the Marines Memorial Club, and a Mason.

He is survived by his wife, Jeannette; a daughter, Mrs. Winifred K. Fleming of Santa Monica; a sister, Mrs. Gusta Robinson of Amarillo, Tex., and three grandchildren.

Funeral services will be at 2 p.m. Monday at the San Francisco Presidio Post chapel. Interment will be in Presidio National Cemetery, directed by Russell and Gooch Mortuary in Mill Valley. The family has requested that tributes be contributions to the First Baptist Church of Mill Valley.

FIRST UNIT OF ALDERSLY HOME

The Aldersly Danish Old People's Home at 326 Mission Avenue, San Rafael, will take on a completely new look when rebuilding plans are completed. Shown here is a scale model of the first $125,000 unit of 14 living quarters, as visualized by Rex Allen, Mill Valley architect. When completed, the present home will be entirely replaced by a series of these matching units. They will be set in staggered stair steps across the landscaped hillside.

Low Lagunitas School Bid Is Received

Olson Construction Co. of Santa Rosa proved low bidder last night on a five-room addition to the Lagunitas School.

The Olsen firm's bid totaled $217,700, more than $9,000 under the architect's estimate.

Other bidders were Herrero Brothers of San Francisco, $237,253; L. E. Weisenburg Jr. of San Rafael, $243,312; A. Von Rotz of San Anselmo, $234,520, and Peter A. Sartorio Jr. of San Francisco, $247,810.

Included will be a multi-purpose room, administration unit and related facilities.

Three board members present for a special meeting made policy decisions, mostly unanimous, on eight measures before the state legislature. They approved four and rejected four bills considered.

Mrs. Marietta F. Larson, vice president of the board, Mrs. Georgette H. Vilas, clerk-secretary, and Mrs. Winifred S. Frederick were all in favor of a senate measure which would reduce from two-thirds to 60 per cent the number of voters required to pass a bond issue. They also unanimously favored a senate bill for appointment rather than election of county superintendents, but Mrs. Vilas abstained from voting on appointment rather than election of the state superintendent, favored by the other two.

All opposed assembly bills to give teacher tenure in small school districts, increase the number of days a student could be suspended for cause, and call for mandatory student testing (though testing in general was favored), and reduce use of school buildings for community services. By 2-1 vote the board favored a measure to give aid to gifted students.

GAS STATION ATTENDANT QUELLS FIRES

Yesterday MacDonald, an attendant at the Standard Service Station on Fourth Street and Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael, was a fireman. He quelled two small car fires before firemen arrived.

The first fire occurred at 2:47 p.m. when a spark ignited gasoline in the carburetor of a car owned by Richard Toll of 13 Mayberry Way, Santa Venetia.

The second happened at 5:18 p.m. in the gas station as gasoline was being poured from a can into the carburetor of a car owned by Bill McCartney.

Santa Rosan Hurt In Crash Near Bridge

One woman suffered minor injuries in a four-car chain crash just north of the Golden Gate Bridge yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Shirley S. Parker, 32, of Santa Rosa, complained of neck injuries but refused hospitalization.

The California Highway Patrol cited Renato Emilio Ricci of 157 Bayview Drive, San Rafael, on a charge of driving without due caution because his northbound car rammed into the stationary vehicle of Eugene David Stillwaggon of 151 Tamalpais Drive, Mill Valley, knocking it into two other cars ahead which had paused because of a traffic tie-up at 5:35 p.m.

Drivers of the front cars were Keith Bransford Parker of Santa Rosa, whose wife was hurt, and Charles Bain Cooke of 114 Sequoia Drive, San Anselmo, at the head of the line.

Novatan's Kin Turns Up Alive, Well

Frank D. Brock, 27-year-old San Francisco banker presumed drowned while skin diving last December, has been found alive and well in New Orleans.

Brock is the brother of Mrs. James Doval of Novato. He said he left San Francisco because he was worried over his romance with Shirley Metoyer, who worked with him at the Humboldt branch of the Bank of America in San Francisco.

"I've been married and divorced," Brock said, "and Shirley is a Catholic. We knew there would be a long wait, and I didn't want to subject her to that—seeing her every day at the bank."

Brock telephoned his father and said he planned to return to San Francisco by car. He also called Shirley and told her, "We'll get married in spite of everything." Police found him living under an assumed name in New Orleans.

Span Director Order Transit Report Check

Golden Gate Bridge District directors voted today to spend $30,000 to make sure the bridge can carry rapid transit.

The bridge board agreed to hire Clifford E. Paine, one of the original design engineers on the span, to review the report of C. H. Granquist, New York consulting engineer, who reported rapid transit on the bridge is feasible.

Gronquist's report was given last week to the Bay Area Rapid Transit District after a year and a half of study. The transit district asked the bridge board for permission to put transit on a lower deck of the span and for appointment of a committee to work out details of how it can be done.

In referring the report to Paine, Ben Lerer, chairman of the bridge rapid transit committee, said he would "have a particularly safe feeling" if the Cronquist report were submitted to Paine for review.

Leland Murphy, Marin director, supported the suggestion and strongly stated that he is not against rapid transit.

"I have never once said I was not in favor of rapid transit," Murphy declared. "I did write a letter, as an individual, to the Marin County Board of Supervisors stating I felt Marin should withdraw from the Rapid Transit District. I have not changed my opinion about Marin withdrawing."

However, he went on, "I'm not opposed to rapid transit if it's feasible, practical and not too costly."

He moved that Paine be hired. The motion was seconded by San Francisco Director Dan London.

Marin's other director, Board President Matt Graham, denied a statement he said was made by Sen. John F. McCarthy last night on television that both he and Murphy opposed rapid transit.

"I've said before our Board of Supervisors that I'm not opposed and will not be until I'm convinced it is not feasible," said Murphy.

Paine was reported as saying it would take four months to complete a thorough review of the Gronquist report. Murphy urged that the bridge board ask him to "make it as fast as possible."

NEW RANK—Weaver Meadows of 5 Baltus Lane, San Anselmo, chairman of the College of Marin business division, has been promoted to captain in the Navy Reserve. He was appointed commandant's representative for 12th Naval District in January.

Brown Signs Bill Ending Literacy Test

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Overriding Republican protests, Gov. Edmund G. Brown today signed controversial legislation that will end literacy tests for voters at the polls.

"I regard this bill as a major step toward guaranteeing all Californians eligible to vote can exercise this fundamental right," the Democratic governor said.

Democrats accused Republicans of an organized campaign to scare off minority groups, especially in the Los Angeles area. Republicans denied it.

GOP legislative leaders already have threatened a statewide referendum if the governor signs the bill. They said it would permit the voting booths to be overrun by people who are not qualified to vote.

Brown emphasized that the bill doesn't change the provision in the state constitution which requires voters to be able to read English.

He said the voters still will have to sign an affidavit at the time of registration that they are literate; if they lie, he said, they can be sent to prison for up to three years.

The present system of challenges at the polls, Brown said, smacks too much of what goes on in southern states "and I don't want that to happen in California."

The governor also defended his decision to spare the life of Erwin Walker, under death sentence for 12 years for killing a police officer, and blasted Los Angeles law enforcement officers for criticizing his action.

License On Way

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The Contractors' State License Board announced it plans to issue a general engineering contractor's license to Henry James Chilotti, 32 Ridgewood Drive, San Rafael, if no protests are received by April 11.

Campaign Launched To Get More Tourists For Marin

A countywide campaign was launched last night to bring Marin County a bigger share of tourist business.

Representatives of many civic organizations met at Northwestern Savings and Loan Assn. in San Rafael, at the invitation of Mrs. Esther Dearth of the Marin Visitors Bureau of the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce.

A publicity committee was named to get public interest in the project. Mrs. Estelle Close, Belvedere, a retired school principal, was made chairman, with Pat Dailey and Hugh Cassidy of San Rafael as committee members.

The entire group of representatives will work up a prospectus of the countywide project to be submitted to the Marin County Board of Supervisors, said Mrs. Dearth.

The group will propose a plan to be submitted to people in both Marin County and England for duplicating the statue of Sir Francis Drake that stands in Plymouth, England. The Marin Visitors Bureau now has more than $5,000 in cash toward $15,000 needed to duplicate the statue in bronze, Mrs. Dearth said.

The next public meeting of the representatives of the organizations will be held on April 25.

Sbragia Estate Left To Widow, Friends, Charity

Victor A. Sbragia, 77, of San Anselmo, former San Francisco civic leader, left a will giving $63,000 to friends and charities and $17,500 to his widow.

His will was filed for probate yesterday in Marin Superior Court. Sbragia, former San Francisco fire commissioner, was a partner in a San Francisco mortuary until he retired in 1953. He died Wednesday after a long illness.

To his widow, Ida, goes $17,500 in cash, property at 9 Pastori Avenue, Fairfax, and their joint bank account in San Anselmo, according to Sbragia's will, dated Feb. 5, 1958.

The will leaves $25,000 to the Shriner's Hospital for Crippled Children, and $5,000 each to the National Heart Fund, Cancer Assn., and March of Dimes.

Lesser amounts are willed to individuals and organizations, including $2,500 to the archbishop of Hanna Center for Boys in Sonoma and $1,000 to Sts. Peter and Paul Catholic Church.

VISITORS UNIT WANTS MORE RESTAURANTS

Marin County, where new restaurants have been opening almost weekly of late, needs more and better ones.

At least, that's what representatives of some 30 organizations agreed at a tourist promotion meeting last night called by Mrs. Esther Dearth, chairman of the Marin Visitors Bureau.

Good restaurants attract tourists, the gathering agreed.

Mrs. Dearth named a committee to study the restaurant situation and report to the group at its next meeting on April 25. Members are Mrs. Caroline Fooshee of San Rafael; A'Leen Runkle of Mill Valley, member of the county planning staff, and Frank George of San Rafael, proprietor of Redwood Travel Advisors.

In Church Council

Good Friday services being held this afternoon at the First Baptist Church of Mill Valley are in full cooperation with the Marin Council of Churches rather than independent of the council as stated in yesterday's Independent-Journal, according to Rev. John MacDonald, pastor.

1 8 6 1

... the year the old Marin County Journal first saw the light of day. From humble beginnings just before the start of the Civil War, the Independent-Journal has climbed to prominence, grown strong through service to Marin County. Millions of copies of the I-J have dropped, like grains of sand, through the hour-glass of Time.

Now the I-J is celebrating its 100th Anniversary. ONE AND ALL ARE WARMLY INVITED TO OUR OPEN HOUSE FRIDAY, APRIL 7, to enjoy GUIDED TOURS, 7-9 p.m., through our ultra-modern publishing plant, and to receive a profusely illustrated thirty-six page booklet as a souvenir of our 100th anniversary.

FIRST UNIT OF ALDERSLY HOME

The Aldersly Danish Old People's Home at 326 Mission Avenue, San Rafael, will take on a completely new look when rebuilding plans are completed. Shown here is a scale model of the first $125,000 unit of 14 living quarters, as visualized by Rex Allen, Mill Valley architect. When completed, the present home will be entirely replaced by a series of these matching units. They will be set in staggered stair steps across the landscaped hillside.

Low Lagunitas School Bid Is Received

Olson Construction Co. of Santa Rosa proved low bidder last night on a five-room addition to the Lagunitas School.

Other bidders were Herrero Brothers of San Francisco, $237,253; L. E. Weisenburg Jr. of San Rafael, $243,312; A. Von Rotz of San Anselmo, $234,520, and Peter A. Sartorio Jr. of San Francisco, $247,810.

Included will be a multi-purpose room, administration unit and related facilities.

Three board members present for a special meeting made policy decisions, mostly unanimous, on eight measures before the state legislature. They approved four and rejected four bills considered.

Mrs. Marietta F. Larson, vice president of the board, Mrs. Georgette H. Vilas, clerk-secretary, and Mrs. Winifred S. Frederick were all in favor of a senate measure which would reduce from two-thirds to 60 per cent the number of voters required to pass a bond issue. They also unanimously favored a senate bill for appointment rather than election of county superintendents, but Mrs. Vilas abstained from voting on appointment rather than election of the state superintendent, favored by the other two.

All opposed assembly bills to give teacher tenure in small school districts, increase the number of days a student could be suspended for cause, and call for mandatory student testing (though testing in general was favored), and reduce use of school buildings for community services. By 2-1 vote the board favored a measure to give aid to gifted students.

GAS STATION ATTENDANT QUELLS FIRES

Yesterday MacDonald, an attendant at the Standard Service Station on Fourth Street and Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael, was a fireman. He quelled two small car fires before firemen arrived.

The first fire occurred at 2:47 p.m. when a spark ignited gasoline in the carburetor of a car owned by Richard Toll of 13 Mayberry Way, Santa Venetia.

The second happened at 5:18 p.m. in the gas station as gasoline was being poured from a can into the carburetor of a car owned by Bill McCartney.

Santa Rosan Hurt In Crash Near Bridge

One woman suffered minor injuries in a four-car chain crash just north of the Golden Gate Bridge yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Shirley S. Parker, 32, of Santa Rosa, complained of neck injuries but refused hospitalization.

The California Highway Patrol cited Renato Emilio Ricci of 157 Bayview Drive, San Rafael, on a charge of driving without due caution because his northbound car rammed into the stationary vehicle of Eugene David Stillwaggon of 151 Tamalpais Drive, Mill Valley, knocking it into two other cars ahead which had paused because of a traffic tie-up at 5:35 p.m.

Drivers of the front cars were Keith Bransford Parker of Santa Rosa, whose wife was hurt, and Charles Bain Cooke of 114 Sequoia Drive, San Anselmo, at the head of the line.

Novatan's Kin Turns Up Alive, Well

Frank D. Brock, 27-year-old San Francisco banker presumed drowned while skin diving last December, has been found alive and well in New Orleans.

Brock is the brother of Mrs. James Doval of Novato. He said he left San Francisco because he was worried over his romance with Shirley Metoyer, who worked with him at the Humboldt branch of the Bank of America in San Francisco.

"I've been married and divorced," Brock said, "and Shirley is a Catholic. We knew there would be a long wait, and I didn't want to subject her to that—seeing her every day at the bank."

Brock telephoned his father and said he planned to return to San Francisco by car. He also called Shirley and told her, "We'll get married in spite of everything." Police found him living under an assumed name in New Orleans.

Span Director Order Transit Report Check

Golden Gate Bridge District directors voted today to spend $30,000 to make sure the bridge can carry rapid transit.

The bridge board agreed to hire Clifford E. Paine, one of the original design engineers on the span, to review the report of C. H. Granquist, New York consulting engineer, who reported rapid transit on the bridge is feasible.

Gronquist's report was given last week to the Bay Area Rapid Transit District after a year and a half of study. The transit district asked the bridge board for permission to put transit on a lower deck of the span and for appointment of a committee to work out details of how it can be done.

In referring the report to Paine, Ben Lerer, chairman of the bridge rapid transit committee, said he would "have a particularly safe feeling" if the Gronquist report were submitted to Paine for review.

Leland Murphy, Marin director, supported the suggestion and strongly stated that he is not against rapid transit.

"I have never once said I was not in favor of rapid transit," Murphy declared. "I did write a letter, as an individual, to the Marin County Board of Supervisors stating I felt Marin should withdraw from the Rapid Transit District. I have not changed my opinion about Marin withdrawing."

However, he went on, "I'm not opposed to rapid transit if it's feasible, practical and not too costly."

He moved that Paine be hired. The motion was seconded by San Francisco Director Dan London.

Marin's other director, Board President Matt Graham, denied a statement he said was made by Sen. John F. McCarthy last night on television that both he and Murphy opposed rapid transit.

"I've said before our Board of Supervisors that I'm not opposed and will not be until I'm convinced it is not feasible," said Murphy.

Paine was reported as saying it would take four months to complete a thorough review of the Gronquist report. Murphy urged that the bridge board ask him to "make it as fast as possible."

NEW RANK—Weaver Meadows of 5 Baltus Lane, San Anselmo, chairman of the College of Marin business division, has been promoted to captain in the Navy Reserve. He was appointed commandant's representative for 12th Naval District in January.

Brown Signs Bill Ending Literacy Test

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Overriding Republican protests, Gov. Edmund G. Brown today signed controversial legislation that will end literacy tests for voters at the polls.

"I regard this bill as a major step toward guaranteeing all Californians eligible to vote can exercise this fundamental right," the Democratic governor said.

Democrats accused Republicans of an organized campaign to scare off minority groups, especially in the Los Angeles area. Republicans denied it.

GOP legislative leaders already have threatened a statewide referendum if the governor signs the bill. They said it would permit the voting booths to be overrun by people who are not qualified to vote.

Brown emphasized that the bill doesn't change the provision in the state constitution which requires voters to be able to read English.

He said the voters still will have to sign an affidavit at the time of registration that they are literate; if they lie, he said, they can be sent to prison for up to three years.

The present system of challenges at the polls, Brown said, smacks too much of what goes on in southern states "and I don't want that to happen in California."

The governor also defended his decision to spare the life of Erwin Walker, under death sentence for 12 years for killing a police officer, and blasted Los Angeles law enforcement officers for criticizing his action.

License On Way

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The Contractors' State License Board announced it plans to issue a general engineering contractor's license to Henry James Chilotti, 32 Ridgewood Drive, San Rafael, if no protests are received by April 11.

Good Friday services being held this afternoon at the First Baptist Church of Mill Valley are in full cooperation with the Marin Council of Churches rather than independent of the council as stated in yesterday's Independent-Journal, according to Rev. John MacDonald, pastor.

Campaign Launched To Get More Tourists For Marin

A countywide campaign was launched last night to bring Marin County a bigger share of tourist business.

Representatives of many civic organizations met at Northwestern Savings and Loan Assn. in San Rafael, at the invitation of Mrs. Esther Dearth of the Marin Visitors Bureau of the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce.

A publicity committee was named to get public interest in the project. Mrs. Estelle Close, Belvedere, a retired school principal, was made chairman, with Pat Dailey and Hugh Cassidy of San Rafael as committee members.

The entire group of representatives will work up a prospectus of the countywide project to be submitted to the Marin County Board of Supervisors, said Mrs. Dearth.

The group will propose a plan to be submitted to people in both Marin County and England for duplicating the statue of Sir Francis Drake that stands in Plymouth, England. The Marin Visitors Bureau now has more than $5,000 in cash toward $15,000 needed to duplicate the statue in bronze, Mrs. Dearth said.

The next public meeting of the representatives of the organizations will be held on April 25.

VISITORS UNIT WANTS MORE RESTAURANTS

Marin County, where new restaurants have been opening almost weekly of late, needs more and better ones.

At least, that's what representatives of some 30 organizations agreed at a tourist promotion meeting last night called by Mrs. Esther Dearth, chairman of the Marin Visitors Bureau.

Good restaurants attract tourists, the gathering agreed.

Mrs. Dearth named a committee to study the restaurant situation and report to the group at its next meeting on April 25. Members are Mrs. Caroline Fooshee of San Rafael; A'Leen Runkle of Mill Valley, member of the county planning staff, and Frank George of San Rafael, proprietor of Redwood Travel Advisors.

Sbragia Estate Left To Widow, Friends, Charity

Victor A. Sbragia, 77, of San Anselmo, former San Francisco civic leader, left a will giving $63,000 to friends and charities and $17,500 to his widow.

His will was filed for probate yesterday in Marin Superior Court. Sbragia, former San Francisco fire commissioner, was a partner in a San Francisco mortuary until he retired in 1953. He died Wednesday after a long illness.

To his widow, Ida, goes $17,500 in cash, property at 9 Pastori Avenue, Fairfax, and their joint bank account in San Anselmo, according to Sbragia's will, dated Feb. 5, 1958.

The will leaves $25,000 to the Shriner's Hospital for Crippled Children, and $5,000 each to the National Heart Fund, Cancer Assn., and March of Dimes.

Lesser amounts are willed to individuals and organizations, including $2,500 to the archbishop of Hanna Center for Boys in Sonoma and $1,000 to Sts. Peter and Paul Catholic Church.

... the year the old Marin County Journal first saw the light of day. From humble beginnings just before the start of the Civil War, the Independent-Journal has climbed to prominence, grown strong through service to Marin County. Millions of copies of the I-J have dropped, like grains of sand, through the hour-glass of Time.

Now the I-J is celebrating its 100th Anniversary. ONE AND ALL ARE WARMLY INVITED TO OUR OPEN HOUSE FRIDAY, APRIL 7, to enjoy GUIDED TOURS, 7-9 p.m., through our ultra-modern publishing plant, and to receive a profusely illustrated thirty-six page booklet as a souvenir of our 100th anniversary.

ALONG MARIN'S SPORTS TRAIL

By JIM GILMARTIN

DeMaestri-Monroe Double-Play; Frogs Training For Olympic Jump

If Louella Parsons will kindly move over, I'd like to try a hand at Hollywood gossip reporting.

And my first exclusive comes from Florida where Marilyn Monroe was seen recently dining with Joe De Maestri. Marilyn, as you may know, is a lovely movie star. DeMaestri is a utility infielder for the New York Yankees. Well, why my spies flashed me this exciting news my first inclination was to burn it—quick! You see, DeMaestri happens to be a happily married man whose wife and children are living here in Marin. The scoundrel, I said to myself. What a scandal!

Further investigation, however, eased my suspicions. De Maestri had dinner with Monroe, alright, but not alone. In the same party were a few others, namely Joe DiMaggio, Marilyn's former husband, and Yankees Tony Kubek, Yogi Berra and Bill Skowron.

DiMaggio, serving as part-time batting instructor for the Yanks, has been seeing a lot of Monroe recently.

DeMaestri's invitation to the dinner party came after he and DiMag shared a cab and got to talking about San Francisco. DeMaestri was born across the street from the DiMaggio home in North Beach and Joe (DeM.) asked Joe (DiM.) if he remembered his (DeM.'s) father.

"Sure do," answered DiMag. "How is Syl?"

Well, one thing led to another, hence the dinner party.

DeMaestri wrote home that M.M. is really a doll.

So what else is new?

AND NOW, for my second exclusive. (Be patient, Louella, I'll be through in a minute.)

We detected a suspicious looking gent slushing through the slough of Richardson Bay the other day and stopped to investigate. Turned out to be restaurateur Lou Sabella.

"Shh," shushed Lou, "This is top secret. Don't breathe a word of it. But I just happen to have here possibly the next champion of the International Frog Olympics."

Sabella pointed proudly to an ugly frog perched on a mud bank, breathing heavily, like a fighter just after a sparring session. The ugly creature was doing the equivalent. Lou was having it jump all over the place. Also on the training schedule were knee-bends, push-ups, chin-ups and other calisthenics. It was preparing for the annual Frog Jump at Angels Camp May 20-21.

Lou was sensitive about the training for fear of gamblers. Glancing nervously about him, the restaurateur explained, "Why, do you know some two years ago gamblers fed the favored frog some buckshot and the poor thing didn't even get off the ground."

Sabella is going all out in his campaign to bring back the international champ to Marin. In fact, he says he'll round up about 24 frogs for the competition. Right now he has three big 'uns in training, but will get the rest on special hunts around Stockton, and possibly some from our own local lakes.

He evn tried to import some foreign entries, but ran into problems in all directions. For example, Red China has some good jumpers, but the folks behind the Iron Curtain eat 'em. Brazilian frogs are ideal for Olympics, but the only trouble is they're viscious. They'll eat anything that comes along, including birds and fingers. "The people at Angels Camp would not let us muzzle them, so we had to forget about Brazil," Sabella explained.

Best jumpers in the world, reportedly, are from Africa, but they are too small for the minimum four-inch, head to tip of spine regulations of the Olympics.

To stimulate some interest in his project, Sabella is conducting a letter-writing contest among Marin children, ages 6 to 14. Best written letter by one boy and one girl on why they want to enter a frog in the Olympics will be given the opportunity of an all-expenses paid trip to Angels Camp. Mom and dad will get the free ride too. If the kids' frogs, provided by Sabella, happen to win, they'll get to keep the loot. Top prize is $1,000 if the world record of 16-feet, 10-inches is broken.

Folks at Angels Camp may be surprised when Sabella's jumpers toe the starting line. They'll be wearing blinders, like horses. Nothing in the rules against them, so Lou figures the blinders will keep his frogs jumping straight ahead, none of that sideway's business.

So much for Marilyn Monoe and jumping frogs. Louella, come back, it's all yours.

NOW FOR the sports scene. When the Fighting Irish of Notre Dame tackle the Broncos of Santa Cara in a baseball feature Sunday in San Jose, two members of the San Anselmo Ongaro Plumbers who play together in the summer will be in opposite corners.

That would be Johnny Boccabella, third baseman for the Broncos, and Tim Reardon, outfielder for the Irish. During the summer Reardon is first baseman for Manager Dom Boccabella's San Anselmo Plumbers.

Incidentally, for the first eight games on Santa Clara's schedule, sophomore Boccabella leads the club in hitting with 14 safeties in 28 at-bats. Included are one homer, a triple and three doubles.

BENNIE FORD, who opened as manager of the new Scotto's Fourth Street Buffet in San Rafael only last Thursday, resigned the post Monday to return to the boxing promotion business in San Francisco.

GIANT OPENER TICKETS GO ON SALE MONDAY

Giants' ticket manager Peter Hoffman said the sale will be conducted only at the main box-office at Candlestick Park. Mail orders will not be accepted and each purchaser will be limited to four tickets.

Ex-Giants Broglio, Spencer, White Boost St. Louis Hopes

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Three trades the St. Louis Cardinals made with the San Francisco Giants are starting to prove beneficial for the Red Birds with pitcher Ernie Broglio, first baseman Bill White and shortstop Daryl Spencer all figuring prominently in their 1961 National League pennant plans.

The trio starred in the Cards' 2-1 exhibition baseball victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers at St. Petersburg yesterday. Broglio, a 21-game winner last season, just about clinched the opening day assignment by becoming the first St. Louis pitcher to go nine innings this spring.

FOUR-HITTER

The big right-hander allowed four hits, struck out four and walked four. The lone run off him came on Duke Snider's fourth-inning homer.

White, who batted .283 and slammed 16 home runs in 1960, collected two of the Red Birds' six hits. Spencer broke up the game with a ninth inning home run off veteran Don Newcombe, who is attempting a comeback with his old team. The lanky infielder was the first batter to face Newcombe in the ninth. Newcombe, who relieved starter Larry Sherry, gave up three hits in his three-inning stint.

Elsewhere along the exhibition trail yesterday: Minnesota edged the Chicago White Sox 4-3, New York nipped Detroit 5-4, Milwaukee trimmed Kansas City 8-2, Pittsburgh posted a 6-4 victory over Philadelphia, San Francisco turned back Boston 7-5, the Los Angeles Angels shaded Vancouver of the Pacific Coast League 3-2 and the Baltimore "B" squad edged Richmond of the International League 6-5. The game between the Chicago Cubs and Cleveland was canceled by wet grounds at Tucson.

Hal Naragon's three-run homer and Bob Allison's solo four-bagger triggered the Twins' conquest over the White Sox. Home runs by Deron Johnson and Jesse Gonder were the key blasts in the Yanks' win at the expense of the Tigers.

Billy Martin batted in five runs with a homer and two singles in the Braves' success over the A's. Joe Adcock also homered for Milwaukee. Dick Schofield's two-run homer in the eighth provided the winning margin for the Pirates against the Phils.

Willie Mays and rookie Tom Haller produced homers in the Giants' win over the Red Sox. Jackie Jensen of Boston was forced to retire with a pulled muscle in his right leg. The injury was believed not serious.

Tiburon Baseball Tryouts Tomorrow

Tryouts for Tiburon Little League major teams will be tomorrow, 10 a.m. to noon, at Judge Field in Tiburon.

Postponed last week because of a wet field, tomorrow's program will separate the Little League into four major league teams, eight minor league teams and three new 8-year-old "farm teams."

Parents who have not yet registered their boys may do so at the tryouts, according to Bill Carroll, president. Judge Field, at the Southern Marin Recreation Center in Tiburon, is the site of all Tiburon Little League games.

Change In Loes Best News As Giants Continue Streak

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — The biggest news out of the San Francisco Giants' camp these days may well be the change in Billy Loes.

The daffy right-hander, a fellow who fitted in neatly when he roamed the National League with the Brooklyn Dodgers, started yesterday for the fourth time this spring—and turned in three hitless innings.

The Giants beat the Boston Red Sox 7-5, the San Franciscans' seventh victory in their last eight Cactus League games.

The Giants took today off.

The Red Sox tagged Loes hard at times and the fellow was saved by some speedy work in the outfield.

MARICHAL THUMPED

Marichal was thumped for eight hits and four runs, but was credited with the victory because the Giants banged out the winning run while he was working.

Willie Mays slugged a triple and a homer and Tommy Haller, the rookie catcher who's impressing everybody here, clouted his fifth homer of the spring, leading the club.

Jose Pagan, playing shortstop, got a single and a double. Vic Wertz led the Bosox with three hits, including a double.

But the best news of all to Dark was Loes, who seems to have suddenly remembered that baseball is a business as well as a game.

The win, San Francisco's seventh in its last eight starts, pulled the Giants into a virtual tie with the Bosox for first place in the Cactus League. San Francisco is 11-8 now, just percentage marks behind Boston's 10-7 mark. The Giants are idle today.

Mays and Orlando Cepeda, who drove in a run with a 430-foot double to the right center-field fence, are now tied with Willie McCovey for the runs batted in lead. Each has 14—and significantly, they are the third, fourth and fifth hitters in the batting order.

Mariners Down Yuba 4-1 After Losing First Game

Charley Johnson's five-hit pitching, supported by the strong hitting of Jack LaHargoue and Dave Moyer, gave College of Marin Tars a 4-1 victory over Yuba College yesterday for an even split in their Golden Valley Conference double-header at Kentfield. Yuba had taken the opener, 5-3 in 10 innings.

LaHargoue had a perfect day at the late in the nightcap with three singles is as many at-bats. He also drove in a run. Moyer clouted two hits in three tries for two RBI. Chatterbox Mike Rawitser, the catcher, drove in Marin's other tally with a single.

The opener was a tough loss for pitcher Frank Lopez who went the distance. A misjudged fly ball to the outfield opened the door for Yuba's two winning runs in the top of the 10th inning.

Lopez was superb as he struck out six and walked none. He had fine control, throwing only 125 pitches as compared to the Yuba hurler's 168 deliveries.

Ron Blum clouted a two-run homer and Vigno had a doublt and single and one run batted in to highlight the Marin batting in the opener.

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Three trades the St. Louis Cardinals made with the San Francisco Giants are starting to prove beneficial for the Red Birds with pitcher Ernie Broglio, first baseman Bill White and shortstop Daryl Spencer all figuring prominently in their 1961 National League pennant plans.

The trio starred in the Cards' 2-1 exhibition baseball victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers at St. Petersburg yesterday. Broglio, a 21-game winner last season, just about clinched the opening day assignment by becoming the first St. Louis pitcher to go nine innings this spring.

FOUR-HITTER

The big right-hander allowed four hits, struck out four and walked four. The lone run off him came on Duke Snider's fourth-inning homer.

White, who batted .283 and slammed 16 home runs in 1960, collected two of the Red Birds' six hits. Spencer broke up the game with a ninth inning home run off veteran Don Newcombe, who is attempting a comeback with his old team. The lanky infielder was the first batter to face Newcombe in the ninth. Newcombe, who relieved starter Larry Sherry, gave up three hits in his three-inning stint.

Elsewhere along the exhibition trail yesterday: Minnesota edged the Chicago White Sox 4-3, New York nipped Detroit 5-4, Milwaukee trimmed Kansas City 8-2, Pittsburgh posted a 6-4 victory over Philadelphia, San Francisco turned back Boston 7-5, the Los Angeles Angels shaded Vancouver of the Pacific Coast League 3-2 and the Baltimore "B" squad edged Richmond of the International League 6-5. The game between the Chicago Cubs and Cleveland was canceled by wet grounds at Tucson.

Hal Naragon's three-run homer and Bob Allison's solo four-bagger triggered the Twins' conquest over the White Sox. Home runs by Deron Johnson and Jesse Gonder were the key blasts in the Yanks' win at the expense of the Tigers.

Billy Martin batted in five runs with a homer and two singles in the Braves' success over the A's. Joe Adcock also homered for Milwaukee. Dick Schofield's two-run homer in the eighth provided the winning margin for the Pirates against the Phils.

Willie Mays and rookie Tom Haller produced homers in the Giants' win over the Red Sox. Jackie Jensen of Boston was forced to retire with a pulled muscle in his right leg. The injury was believed not serious.

Change In Loes Best News As Giants Continue Streak

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — The biggest news out of the San Francisco Giants' camp these days may well be the change in Billy Loes.

The daffy right-hander, a fellow who fitted in neatly when he roamed the National League with the Brooklyn Dodgers, started yesterday for the fourth time this spring—and turned in three hitless innings.

The Giants beat the Boston Red Sox 7-5, the San Franciscans' seventh victory in their last eight Cactus League games.

The Giants took today off.

The Red Sox tagged Loes hard at times and the fellow was saved by some speedy work in the outfield.

MARICHAL THUMPED

Marichal was thumped for eight hits and four runs, but was credited with the victory because the Giants banged out the winning run while he was working.

Willie Mays slugged a triple and a homer and Tommy Haller, the rookie catcher who's impressing everybody here, clouted his fifth homer of the spring, leading the club.

Jose Pagan, playing shortstop, got a single and a double. Vic Wertz led the Bosox with three hits, including a double.

But the best news of all to Dark was Loes, who seems to have suddenly remembered that baseball is a business as well as a game.

The win, San Francisco's seventh in its last eight starts, pulled the Giants into a virtual tie with the Bosox for first place in the Cactus League. San Francisco is 11-8 now, just percentage marks behind Boston's 10-7 mark. The Giants are idle today.

Mays and Orlando Cepeda, who drove in a run with a 430-foot double to the right centerfield fence, are now tied with Willie McCovey for the runs batted in lead. Each has 14—and significantly, they are the third, fourth and fifth hitters in the batting order.

Mariners Down Yuba 4-1 After Losing First Game

Charley Johnson's five-hit pitching, supported by the strong hitting of Jack LaHargoue and Dave Moyer, gave College of Marin Tars a 4-1 victory over Yuba College yesterday for an even split in their Golden Valley Conference double-header at Kentfield. Yuba had taken the opener, 5-3 in 10 innings.

LaHargoue had a perfect day at the late in the nightcap with three singles is as many at-bats. He also drove in a run. Moyer clouted two hits in three tries for two RBI. Chatterbox Mike Rawitser, the catcher, drove in Marin's other tally with a single.

The opener was a tough loss for pitcher Frank Lopez who went the distance. A misjudged fly ball to the outfield opened the door for Yuba's two winning runs in the top of the 10th inning.

Lopez was superb as he struck out six and walked none. He had fine control, throwing only 125 pitches as compared to the Yuba hurler's 168 deliveries.

Ron Blum clouted a two-run homer and Vigno had a doublt and single and one run batted in to highlight the Marin batting in the opener.

Tiburon Baseball Tryouts Tomorrow

Tryouts for Tiburon Little League major teams will be tomorrow, 10 a.m. to noon, at Judge Field in Tiburon.

Postponed last week because of a wet field, tomorrow's program will separate the Little League into four major league teams, eight minor league teams and three new 8-year-old "farm teams."

Parents who have not yet registered their boys may do so at the tryouts, according to Bill Carroll, president. Judge Field, at the Southern Marin Recreation Center in Tiburon, is the site of all Tiburon Little League games.

Landrith Praises Haller, Orsino: 'Best Rookie Catchers I've Seen'

HANLEY

PHOENIX, Ariz.—Hobie Landrith is starting his 12th year in the majors this season and the stocky little Giant catcher says Tom Haller and John Orsino "are the two best rookie catchers I've seen in spring camp since I've been in baseball."

Landrith and Bob Schmidt, the other veteran Giant backstop, have been watching Haller and Orsino admiringly and apprehensively since it is not beyond the realm of reason that either or both rookies could make the team.

It's possible, as most things are, but not likely. Nevertheless Landrith and Schmidt recognize in the two rookies a threat to their security.

"Haller and Orsino are headed for great careers," said Landrith. "I don't say it will be this year—"

Hobie stopped in the middle of the sentence, seemingly contemplating to himself "Could it be this year?"

How does it feel to a veteran to be pressed for his job?

"Nobody likes to have his job threatened," said Landrith, "but that's one of the hazards of baseball. In fact, when you get right down to it that's what the game thrives on—youth and competition."

ALVIN DARK has played Haller and Orsino in the majority of the spring exhibition games. Schmidt got his first catching assignment in many days this week. Same with Landrith. That however, does not necessarily mean the new Giant manager rates the rookies ahead of the veterans. As he said on several occasions when asked why he played all of the rookies in camp as much as he did, Dark replied once more to the same question: "I know what the veterans can do."

"AREN'T YOU faced with a tough problem deciding what catchers you will take into Candlestick Park for the April 11 opener?" Dark was asked.

"Those are the kind of tough choices I like," he said. "I wish I had 'em three deep in every position."

Dark then acknowledged it was possible he would take all four catchers into Candlestick but admitted "we couldn't go very long with that setup."

Haller, a left handed hitter, is ahead of Orsino at the moment in their rivalry to win the favorable nod from Dark. A 6-3, 200-pounder who signed with the Giants for a $50,000 bonus, Haller's hitting has been sensational. He was at the .500 mark, 10-for-20, early this week and eight of those hits were extra-base smashes—four homers, two triples and two doubles. One homer was a grand slammer.

Orsino, a right handed hitter, was belting the ball at a .400 plus clip until Haller uncorked his slammer, the first of the spring in the Cactus League. Orsino then went 0-for-4 and his batting average dipped to .316, still quite respectable for a young man who played AA ball in the Texas league last season. In fact, it still left him quite a few points ahead of either Landrith or Schmidt.

Both Haller and Orsino are husky fellows who can block the plate. Orsino at 6-2 is an inch shorter than Haller but five pounds heavier at 205. Orsino twice cut down big men coming down the third base line, the biggest being 250-pound Ted Kluszewski. And both have good arms for the throw to second but both, particularly Orsino, could do with more glove experience behind the plate.

Bowling Proprietors Hit By $225,000 Anti-Trust Charge

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A $225,000 anti-trust damage suit was filed yesterday against the Northern California Bowling Proprietors' Assn., five other associations and 43 individuals.

Stanley J. Brier, operator of the Bayshore Bowl in South San Francisco, filed the suit, complaining that the defendants had conspired to require participants in bowling tournaments at their alleys to promise in writing not to participate in tournaments at the alleys of non-members.

Brier also charged that the defendants conspired to fix prices and prevent competition in violation of the federal Sherman and Clayton anti-trust act.

Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk recently filed a similar suit, but based it on alleged violations of California's Cartwright anti-trust act.

The Northern California Assn. has 130 members. Also named in yesterday's complaint were proprietors associations in the East Bay, Santa Clara Valley, San Francisco and the Peninsula, and the Bowling Proprietors Assn. of America, an Illinois corporation.

Brier asked $75,000 damages, which would be tripled under anti-trust laws to $225,000. He also asked a preliminary injunction to prohibit enforcement of tournament rules now applied by the defendant associations.

New Managers Give Promise To Careers Of Mays, Mantle

By OSCAR FRALEY

NEW YORK (UPI)—New managers gave bright new promise today in the on-again off-again careers of Mickey Mantle and Willie Mays.

Mantle long was babied by ousted Casey Stengel when all he wanted was to be let alone. Mays, who thrived under the parental pushing of Leo Durocher, never obtained the favored son's support from departed Bill Rigney.

But it appears that each finally is getting the treatment he most desires under Ralph Houk and Al Dark, new skippers of the Yankees and Giants respectfully, and the payoff could be in long-awaited production.

Mantle, under Stengel's fatherly driving, undoubtedly was overmanaged. Stengel announced early that he expected Mickey to be "the new DiMaggio" and took no pains to conceal his feelings of disappointment that Mantle never quite achieved such a station.

Frustrated, and frustrating, Stengel tried to increase the harried outfielder's effectiveness by attempting to sharpen Mantle's borderline skills. He nagged at Mantle to master the bunt. He even sniped at the manner in which Master Mickey flipped down his sun glasses. It was a maddening goad to the Oklahoma kid and the harder he tried the worse it got.

Taking over this spring, Houk reversed the process. Quietly he announced that he expected Mantle to be the team leader—but a leader who would in effect set his own pace and call his own shots. He was, it was apparent, going to get a chance to do it his own way and without interference. The load was lifted from his back.

The payoff: Mantle has been reporting early for workouts, hustling like a rookie and banging the ball with undistilled power and a new personal control in time of crisis and disappointment. He hit only .275 last season, salvaging something with 40 home runs, but the feeling is that this time out he could really break loose with a vengeance.

Mays, during his halcyon days under Leo Durocher, stood on the threshold of true greatness. The reason was that to Willie in those times every day was Sunday. He was Durocher's undeniable pet, a man who could do no wrong, and Willie thrived on his manager's adulation and appreciation.

Proof of that was his most valuable player year of 1954 when he hit a leading .345, blaste 41 homers and knocked in 110 runs to lead the Giants to the pennant. The next year on sheer momentum he smote 51 homers and batted in 127 runs.

RIGNEY IMPARTIAL

But then Durocher left and the joy went out of it for him. Because Rigney, when he took over, made it plain that there would be no favorites with him and that Willie was just one of 25 assorted ballplayers. Impartial handling of such a commodity may be questionable, because Willie tailed off and his .319 and 29 home runs last year is an example. Now Dark has taken over and Willie's reaction is clear.

"Dark is the same style as Leo," he says happily, recalling that when he first came up Dark was one of those quick to help him. "He knows how to treat each player and I think I'll be better off."

Willie summed up his feelings when he added:

"If I make a mistake, I want the manager to tell me about it privately. When somebody gets on me too much, the things I normally do easy I suddenly can't do at all."

He might have been talking for Mantle as well as himself.

Dempsey, Floyd To Testify At Senate Boxing Hearing

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Jack Dempsey and Floyd Patterson are expected to be among the past and present ring champions who will testify at Senate hearings on legislation to create a federal boxing judge.

Sen. Estes Kefauver, (D-Tenn.) chairman of the Senate anti-trust and monopoly subcommittee, said public hearings tentatively are set to open early in May.

Kefauver, who introduced his long-awaited boxing control bill Wednesday, plans legislation to establish a national boxing commissioner within the Department of Justice with broad powers to license and control boxers, managers, promoters and matchmakers and in that way cleanse the sport from its racketeer influences.

Besides former world heavyweight champion Dempsey and the present titleholder Patterson, Jack Bonomi, special counsel for the subcommittee, said he hopes ex-champs Joe Walcott and Gene Tunney will testify and give their views on the cleanup legislation.

Teammates Wilson, Keaton Top S. R. Basketball Scorers

Nolan Wilson and Buzz Keaton, teammates on the Maggi's Florists quintet, placed first and second in the individual scoring standings of the recently-concluded San Rafael Recreation "B" Division basketball league, statistics showed today.

Wilson fired 45 field goals and 8 foul shots through the hoop for 98 points, edging Keaton by four points. The latter had 38 field goals and 18 charities for his 94 points.

Third place went to Joe Holmes of Surburban Homes with 67 points followed by Daryl Sattui of Cain Tires with 62.

Brookshier Quits Philadelphia '11'

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Tom Brookshier, defensive back for the national football champion Philadelphia Eagles says he will not return to that club next fall.

Brookshier told friends here that his off-season job brings him to the west often and that if he continues football he would like to hook up with a west coast team, preferably the Los Angeles Rams.

Ram officials said they believed the Eagles' asking price for Brookshier would be prohibitive.

The payoff: Mantle has been reporting early for workouts, hustling like a rookie and banging the ball with undistilled power and a new personal control in time of crisis and disappointment. He hit only .275 last season, salvaging something with 40 home runs, but the feeling is that this time out he could really break loose with a vengeance.

Mays, during his halcyon days under Leo Durocher, stood on the threshold of true greatness. The reason was that to Willie in those times every day was Sunday. He was Durocher's undeniable pet, a man who could do no wrong, and Willie thrived on his manager's adulation and appreciation.

Proof of that was his most valuable player year of 1954 when he hit a leading .345, blaste 41 homers and knocked in 110 runs to lead the Giants to the pennant. The next year on sheer momentum he smote 51 homers and batted in 127 runs.

RIGNEY IMPARTIAL

But then Durocher left and the joy went out of it for him. Because Rigney, when he took over, made it plain that there would be no favorites with him and that Willie was just one of 25 assorted ballplayers. Impartial handling of such a commodity may be questionable, because Willie tailed off and his .319 and 29 home runs last year is an example. Now Dark has taken over and Willie's reaction is clear.

"Dark is the same style as Leo," he says happily, recalling that when he first came up Dark was one of those quick to help him. "He knows how to treat each player and I think I'll be better off."

Willie summed up his feelings when he added:

"If I make a mistake, I want the manager to tell me about it privately. When somebody gets on me too much, the things I normally do easy I suddenly can't do at all."

He might have been talking for Mantle as well as himself.

Dempsey, Floyd To Testify At Senate Boxing Hearing

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Jack Dempsey and Floyd Patterson are expected to be among the past and present ring champions who will testify at Senate hearings on legislation to create a federal boxing judge.

Sen. Estes Kefauver, (D-Tenn.) chairman of the Senate anti-trust and monopoly subcommittee, said public hearings tentatively are set to open early in May.

Kefauver, who introduced his long-awaited boxing control bill Wednesday, plans legislation to establish a national boxing commissioner within the Department of Justice with broad powers to license and control boxers, managers, promoters and matchmakers and in that way cleanse the sport from its racketeer influences.

Besides former world heavyweight champion Dempsey and the present titleholder Patterson, Jack Bonomi, special counsel for the subcommittee, said he hopes ex-champs Joe Walcott and Gene Tunney will testify and give their views on the cleanup legislation.

Teammates Wilson, Keaton Top S. R. Basketball Scorers

Nolan Wilson and Buzz Keaton, teammates on the Maggi's Florists quintet, placed first and second in the individual scoring standings of the recently-concluded San Rafael Recreation "B" Division basketball league, statistics showed today.

Wilson fired 45 field goals and 8 foul shots through the hoop for 98 points, edging Keaton by four points. The latter had 38 field goals and 18 charities for his 94 points.

Third place went to Joe Holmes of Surburban Homes with 67 points followed by Daryl Sattui of Cain Tires with 62.

Brookshier Quits Philadelphia '11'

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Tom Brookshier, defensive back of the national football champion Philadelphia Eagles says he will not return to that club next fall.

Brookshier told friends here that his off-season job brings him to the west often and that if he continues football he would like to hook up with a west coast team, preferably the Los Angeles Rams.

Ram officials said they believed the Eagles' asking price for Brookshier would be prohibitive.

Huge Sturgeon Found–Then Lost! M.V. Letter Writer Is Answered

STEVENS

"Seek and ye shall find," the Good Book says. The problem is, what to do when you find it. I told the tale, related to me by George Caddy, of the monstrous sturgeon in the catfish hole on the Grant Line Canal. Wednesday afternoon Joe Navarro informed me that a bunch of the boys went seeking said fish. One of them, a Mr. Martin of Castro Valley, found it, hooked it and now has to buy more tackle. Seems that the huge sturgeon grabbed the hook, hesitated only a moment then rolled over and snap! went hooks, sinker and leader and a quantity of Martin's line. Navarro said the luckless fisherman was out looking for a line that would test several hundred pounds.

Carl Bennett of the Rodeo Marina reported a Mr. Wong landed a sturgeon that measured six feet four inches and weighed 140 pounds. Carl also mentioned that fishing was really all to the good when wind and rain were mild and the boats could get out after the fish. Don Cavestri and Mary Vance of Pleasanton dropped the hook of their private cruiser only 300 yards from Bennett's boat ramp, and brought in five six-pound bass.

RED CEREMELLI tried his experienced hand at plug casting in the Estuary. He used a Super Duper No. 509, silver finish, and accounted for his legal limit of three and four pound bass.

Joe Navarro gave honorable mention to Johnny Lopes and Frank Sequera for their beautiful strings of piscatorial pussies. Several of the bewhiskered delicacies weighed over a pound-and-a-half each.

A LETTER from Robert A. Cameron of Mill Valley asks which is the better time for stream fishing in the Salmon-Scott Mountain area. "The last week in June or the middle of August?" he queried.

I will answer Bob's letter, but thought others might like the information in order to plan vacation time.

In my opinion, either date is okay. The last week in June is all right if he features only STREAM fishing, but it might be too early to work any of the high altitude lakes. They may be still frozen over and the trails may be hard to follow. However, the streams will likely be in prime condition and the fish should be through spawning. The water level will be determined by the snow melt, but that should not be much of a problem by the end of June.

In both the Scott and the Trinity, his chances of hooking some sizeable trout (probably some steelhead) should be good.

IF MR. CAMERON will pack in to one of the many fine lakes in the area, I would suggest the middle of August as the better time. In fact, both stream and lake fishing should be tops around the middle of August.

Whichever time of the year is picked, however, I envy our friend for the wonderful trip he will have. That is beautiful country he has chosen. I have made several pack-in trips to the Trinity Alps and the Marble Mountain region, but fished mainly the small lakes. Went into the Marble Mountain region by way of Fort Jones and once out of Etna.

The time to plan that pack trip is now. The wise guy makes a reservation many weeks or months before the actual trip.

Marin City Athletic Club To Sponsor Semi-Pro Team

Marin City Athletic Club, with the purpose of "bringing organized athletics to our community," was organized recently, it was announced yesterday.

The club immediately plans to field a semi-professional baseball team this season with Ollie Griffin named head coach. The team will play other Marin and Bay Area semi-pro clubs and will book its schedule through Hirsch and Price Sports Shop in San Francisco.

The MCAC at its organizational meeting elected Sy Newton president, Cecil Johnson treasurer, Willie Wynes secretary and Ike Hampton physical instructor.

The club meets every Tuesday, 8 p.m., at the Marin City cafeteria. The baseball club, with about 24 members signed up to date, will practice Saturdays at various locations.

Guide Dogs Graduation Tomorrow

Five Californians and one Washingtonian will graduate with their guide dogs at ceremonies at 2:30 p.m. tomorrow on the San Rafael campus of Guide Dogs for the Blind, Inc.

Mrs. Dolores J. McElroy of Reseda, Los Angeles County, housewife and mother of two children, is the only woman graduating in this class. Her dog is a golden retriever, Margot.

Others in the graduating class, and their dogs, are Ross Potter, writer and former teacher of Redondo Beach, Los Angeles County, with his German shepherd, Pert; Philip Fennessee of Fresno with Sally, a German shepherd; Merle A. Griffy of Newman, Stanislaus County, with Joe, a Boxer; Pio Camacho of Oakland with Uinta, a Labrador retriever, and Hugh G. Moody of Seattle, Wash., with Quip, a Chesapeake retriever.

A tour of the campus and Guide Dog demonstration will follow the commencement exercises. Refreshments will be served in the school's dormitory.

City Hall Film Due

TIME FOR FUN—Mrs. Dolores J. McElroy of Reseda shares a joke with KTIM's "Man on the Street," Hugh Turner, while Guide Dog Margot fails to see the humor. Mrs. McElroy and her golden retriever have stopped many times to talk with Turner during the daily broadcasts at 12:30 p.m. Mrs. McElroy is among those to be graduated from Guide Dogs for the Blind tomorrow.

Reed Trustees Plan Special Meeting

Reed Union School District trustees will hold a special meeting at 10 a.m. tomorrow in the district office at 605 Tiburon Boulevard to try to decide what to do about building funds for Del Mar School.

Bids, received by the board Tuesday, were all over the maximum allowable under state aid which is set at $135,011. Low bid received was $146,824.

2 Guests On KTIM

Featured guests on "Marin Panorama" at 1:30 p.m. Sunday over radio station KTIM will be Albert White, long-time musical conductor of the program "Masters of Melody," and Marsha Owen (Sally Stanford), operator of Sausalito's Vallhalla Inn.

Park Director Wants Bigger Seashore Area

WASHINGTON (AP) — Conrad L. Wirth, National Park Service director, told senators yesterday he has always viewed the proposed Point Reyes National Seashore Area in Marin County as a 53,000-acre unit.

Wirth was questioned at a public lands subcommittee hearing about an Interior Department report last year favoring federal acquisition of 35,000 acres on Point Reyes.

The park director said he made the initial survey for the park service in 1935 and recommended then that the entire peninsula be incorporated into the park system.

Last year, he said, it was considered possible that the acquisition need not include some of the dairy ranching area. But after further study and the start of subdivision activity, he said the final conclusion is that the ranches should be included in the recreation area and leased back to the ranchers so that the area could be protected from undesirable development.

Wirth said last year's eight-million-dollar estimate of the acquisition cost also was found to be wrong. He said his best estimate now is 20 million dollars.

Merely the prospect of establishing a national park area, he said, causes land values to rise.

Sen. Henry Dworshak (R-Ida.) questioned the size of the seashore park proposal. He said it "seems to be anything but a seashore."

Consider These Facts:

1. Your car manufacturer originally equipped your car with first line, first quality tires, NOT second, third, or fourth line.
2. The safest freeway and race track tires are not sold for $9.95 and the mere fact that tires have nylon is no criterion of quality. There are low priced nylon tires, too.
3. Dunlop, as yet, does not make a $9.95 tire and Dunlop could, since it is one of the largest tire makers in the world, if not the largest.

Five Californians and one Washingtonian will graduate with their guide dogs at ceremonies at 2:30 p.m. tomorrow on the San Rafael campus of Guide Dogs for the Blind, Inc.

Mrs. Dolores J. McElroy of Reseda, Los Angeles County, housewife and mother of two children, is the only woman graduating in this class. Her dog is a golden retriever, Margot.

Others in the graduating class, and their dogs, are Ross Potter, writer and former teacher of Redondo Beach, Los Angeles County, with his German shepherd, Pert; Philip Fennessee of Fresno with Sally, a German shepherd; Merle A. Griffy of Newman, Stanislaus County, with Joe, a Boxer; Pio Camacho of Oakland with Uinta, a Labrador retriever, and Hugh G. Moody of Seattle, Wash., with Quip, a Chesapeake retriever.

A tour of the campus and Guide Dog demonstration will follow the commencement exercises. Refreshments will be served in the school's dormitory.

City Hall Film Due

TIME FOR FUN—Mrs. Dolores J. McElroy of Reseda shares a joke with KTIM's "Man on the Street," Hugh Turner, while Guide Dog Margot fails to see the humor. Mrs. McElroy and her golden retriever have stopped many times to talk with Turner during the daily broadcasts at 12:30 p.m. Mrs. McElroy is among those to be graduated from Guide Dogs for the Blind tomorrow.

Reed Trustees Plan Special Meeting

Reed Union School District trustees will hold a special meeting at 10 a.m. tomorrow in the district office at 605 Tiburon Boulevard to try to decide what to do about building funds for Del Mar School.

Bids, received by the board Tuesday, were all over the maximum allowable under state aid which is set at $135,011. Low bid received was $146,824.

2 Guests On KTIM

Featured guests on "Marin Panorama" at 1:30 p.m. Sunday over radio station KTIM will be Albert White, long-time musical conductor of the program "Masters of Melody," and Marsha Owen (Sally Stanford), operator of Sausalito's Vallhalla Inn.

Park Director Wants Bigger Seashore Area

WASHINGTON (AP) — Conrad L. Wirth, National Park Service director, told senators yesterday he has always viewed the proposed Point Reyes National Seashore Area in Marin County as a 53,000-acre unit.

Wirth was questioned at a public lands subcommittee hearing about an Interior Department report last year favoring federal acquisition of 35,000 acres on Point Reyes.

The park director said he made the initial survey for the park service in 1935 and recommended then that the entire peninsula be incorporated into the park system.

Last year, he said, it was considered possible that the acquisition need not include some of the dairy ranching area. But after further study and the start of subdivision activity, he said the final conclusion is that the ranches should be included in the recreation area and leased back to the ranchers so that the area could be protected from undesirable development.

Wirth said last year's eight-million-dollar estimate of the acquisition cost also was found to be wrong. He said his best estimate now is 20 million dollars.

Merely the prospect of establishing a national park area, he said, causes land values to rise.

Sen. Henry Dworshak (R-Ida.) questioned the size of the seashore park proposal. He said it "seems to be anything but a seashore."

CUT ALONG DOTTED LINE

Consider These Facts:

1. Your car manufacturer originally equipped your car with first line, first quality tires, NOT second, third, or fourth line.
2. The safest freeway and race track tires are not sold for $9.95 and the mere fact that tires have nylon is no criterion of quality. There are low priced nylon tires, too.
3. Dunlop, as yet, does not make a $9.95 tire and Dunlop could, since it is one of the largest tire makers in the world, if not the largest.

NOVATO-SAN JOSE

Candidates Favor Schools Merger

The four candidates for two positions on the Novato Unified School District board last night all indicated they favor merger with Novato of the San Jose Elementary School District.

But candidates at a discussion session split on whether district school taxes, now at a voter-approved maximum of $3.28 per $100 assessed valuation, should go higher.

Incumbents Marett B. Boissevain and William H. Kirk were blunt in saying that if a tax increase is necessary to run the schools, they will ask for it.

Challengers for their two seats on the board, Charles E. Thompson and David S. Patterson, said costs of administration, special non-academic services, plants and perhaps school buses could be cut to allow teachers a pay hike and still hold the tax line.

Kirk said the board is in favor of increased teacher salaries, and perhaps a decrease in some non-academic services, but "if none of these things works . . . ? If you want quality education you must make up your mind that you must pay for it. This is what you should hear, not what you want to hear."

Boissevain agreed, noting that the district had not spent much money on landscaping and other non-educational outlays.

"I think we should, if it becomes necessary, urge a tax increase if that is what is needed to bring our teacher salaries up to what they should be," said Boissevain.

An audience of 18 adult spectators, two children and two reporters turned out to hear the discussion at Novato High School, sponsored by the Novato Advisory Council for Education. School board election is April 18.

Candidates were asked three questions by moderator Allan F. Marks, president of the citizens education group.

Asked what change should be made in the present Novato district school program, Boissevain said changes in education details were not up to him "because I'm not a professional educator." He said he believed "the school board's duty is to set policy and hire a staff to implement that policy."

He noted recent and coming changes in school curriculum, such as beginning science teaching at a lower grade level, adding a language laboratory, team teaching, etc.

Kirk concurred, adding that the proposed change of a first aid course from the academic side to the non-academic pleased him as it had been a "pet peeve." He said he favors more emphasis generally on academic subjects.

Patterson said he wants English to be required for all four years of high school, instead of only three years as it is now; a reduction of non-academic subjects; changes in physical education class requirements, including making the class an elective in junior and senior years. State law now makes it mandatory for all four years of high school.

He said he favors giving school athletes credit for physical education while they are on a team, not requiring them to take the class.

Thompson said he wanted more emphasis on basic subjects in the lower grades, particularly arithmetic. "I think the readin', writin', and 'rithmetic are being skipped over," he said.

Thompson said he favored sending home students' test papers so parents could follow their school progress.

Asked whether he favored "life adjustment vs. the three Rs," Patterson said he would place emphasis on "basic education . . . reading with understanding and all phases of arithmetic" in particular.

"Life adjustment — I think that should be left up to the home" and community clubs and organizations, he said.

Boissevain placed emphasis on the teacher, who should teach basic subjects, but also should be aiding in student development.

"I am satisfied that in Novato we're doing a good job and in the future we'll do a better job. I have confidence in the staff. Novato has a reputation as a tough school; I think this is good," said Boissevain.

"There are so many interpretations of life adjustment that I'm thoroughly confused," Kirk said, adding that he "leans" toward the three Rs, with parents shaping character.

Patterson, Kirk and Boissevain agreed that it is a good policy to have high school teachers teaching in the subject in which they majored in college. Thompson had no comment.

Acquittal Given Marine In Death Of Marinite

Marine Reservist Robert E. Moroney, 24, was acquitted in Reno last night of manslaughter charges in the death of Rico D. Tully, 51, a wealthy Belvedere businessman, last July.

Moroney was exonerated after two hours deliberation by a Washoe County District Court jury. A resident of Highland Park, Ill., he had been on active duty at the Pickel Meadows Marine Training Station near Bridgeport, Nev.

The fatal fight reportedly began after Moroney made insulting remarks to some of the women in Tully's party. Tully had been vacationing at Lake Tahoe and had driven to the Mapes with friends. He was an executive of Western Plastics Co. of San Francisco.

1 Dead, 5 Lost In B-52 Crash

LEXINGTON, N. C. (AP)—An Air Force B-52G jet bomber with eight crewmen aboard developed trouble during a refueling rendezvous with a tanker last night and apparently disintegrated in flight. At least one crewman was killed and five were missing.

Two of the crew members bailed out at 30,000 feet landed safely. They are Maj. W. F. Minnich, 40, of Des Plaines, Ill., and First Lt. G. C. Farnham, 26, of Loveland, Colo.

The Air Force said the big eight-jet bomber, based at Dow Air Force Base, was not carrying any nuclear devices.

Jet Bomber Crashes; 7 In Crew Safe

DONALDSON AIR FORCE BASE, S.C.—A B-66 jet bomber crashed and burned in an emergency landing here today. All seven crew members survived the crash.

Sanitation District Seeking Federal Funds

An application for federal funds for expansion of the sewage treatment plant was made yesterday by San Rafael Sanitation District directors at a special meeting.

If it is approved, the district might get up to 30 per cent of its $570,000 expansion program planned for the next five years, Norris Rawles, district administrator, said.

The application will go through the California Regional Bay Water Pollution Board for submission, if approved, to the U.S. Department of Health and Welfare.

"The amount the district would get, if it qualifies, would be dependent on its priority listing," Rawles said. "It could get up to 30 per cent of the cost as a federal grant."

The district plans the expansion to take care of the exploding population of the area, said Rawles.

Windshield Is Stolen From Sports Auto

David Watt of 26 Alexander Avenue, Sausalito, reported to police today that someone stole the windshield from his sports car while it was parked in his carport overnight.

A 1960 motor scooter was reported missing by Douglas H. Perry of 111 South Street. It had been parked last night outside Perry's house. Police couldn't say whether the windshield would fit the scooter.

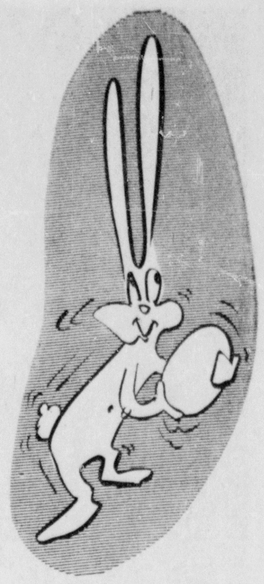
Church Rites, Egg Hunts, Dinners Will Mark Easter In The County



Church services, neighborhood Easter egg hunts, ski trips, family dinners and parties centering around the younger set home from school for the spring holiday are among Easter activities planned in Marin.

In Mill Valley, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Byard III have planned a neighborhood Easter Egg Hunt this year in conjunction with the Donald Smiths, Raymond Hams and Paul Vogelheims. And for dinner the Byards will have as their guests his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Byard Jr., his sister, Mrs. Donald Smith, and her family, all of Mill Valley. Also presented will be the Byards' daughter, Diane Byard, home from the University of California at Santa Barbara, and her fiance, Albert Weitz, and his mother, Mrs. Laura Whiting of Larkspur. Other guests will be Mrs. David Brown and her husband who have just returned to Larkspur from London.

The Raymond Kopfs and their daughters, Rayna, Janet and Kathryn, will make up a party of 10 relatives who will have Easter brunch together at the Edgewater Inn.

Also entertaining family members will be Mrs. Stewart Bostwick, whose guests will be her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Brooks of Mill Valley; the Lenard Mayrisches, whose guest will be Mrs. Mayrisch's mother, Mrs. F. H. Perry of Fresno; the Richard Evans, who will have Mrs. Evans' mother, Mrs. Clifford Porter, and her brother and his family, Clifford Porter Jr. of San Francisco, as well as Dick's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Hamilton of San Rafael; and the John K. Blooms, whose dinner party for relatives will also be a celebration of their daughter Kathie's 16th birthday.

Guests at the dinner party planned by the Philip T. Smiths will be their son, Philip M. Smith and his wife, who are up from Stanford for the holiday; Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Deedy and their six children from Ross; and Mesdames Fred Merrill, Arthur Garland of San Francisco, S. C. De Guerre of Mill Valley and Edith Brown of San Carlos.

Dr. and Mrs. Edmund Mahon have postponed their traditional Easter brunch for more than a hundred guests to April 23 this year.

With the Dashwood Darlings will be their daughter, Mary Peyton Darling, who is visiting her parents from Wilmington, Del., before she leaves on a European tour; a house guest, Jay Nichols of El Salvador, up from UCLA; and Mr. and Mrs. John Kramer and their two children, who have just moved to San Francisco following Kramer's transfer there as head of R.C.A. for the West Coast.

At the Harrison Leppos' home will be his mother, Mrs. Clara McNear Leppo of San Francisco, and his brother and sister-in-law Mr. and Mrs. George Leppo of Santa Rosa. The Leppos' sons, Bob and Bill, are both home from colleg, but Bob will be skiing with the Sierra Club.

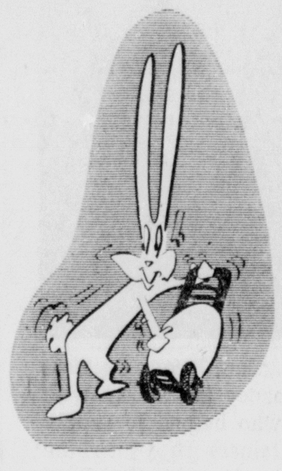
Others enjoying visits from the college contingent are Dr. and Mrs. R. B. Hartman, Cmdr. and Mrs. Roy Ibach, the John Barnards, Robert Schultzes and Leigh Athearns.

Their daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. Kostic of San Francisco will be with the Hartmans, and their son Nicholas, a student at Occidental College, who is taking care of preliminary arrangements for his trip to Europe this summer.

In addition to their son Kenneth, a Stanford student, the Schultzes will have as their guests her mother, Mrs. Walfred Knutson of Patterson, and their nephew, Roger Bloom, from the University of the Pacific.

Ralston Barnard is home from Whitman College, and with the Athearns are their daughter Glenn, from Sarah Lawrence College, and Fred, from the University of Colorado.

Guests at the Ibachs will include their daughter Christine and her Mills College friend, Joan Dryer, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Dryer of Albuquerque, N.M.; Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Hanson of Berkeley, and Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Hanson Jr. and their two children from Los Angeles.



Skiing at Squaw Valley will be Kenneth and Dickie Clarke, sons of the Richard Clarkes, who will be visiting Mrs. Clarke's sister in Pasadena. Other skiing enthusiasts are the B. A. Rorviks and their five daughters, Marie, Addie, Alice, Jean and Nancy who are at Mt. Shasta.

Mrs. William Pemberton and the Pembertons' three daughters, Susan, Laurie and Heather, and Amparo Huici, the exchange student from Spain who is living with them, are visiting in Lancaster, Calif. They will go on to Disneyland and will be joined by Dr. Pemberton for a return trip by way of Carmel.

Out of town too is Mrs. Hughes Call, who is visiting her daughter Phoebe, a student at the Verde Valley School in Sedona, Ariz., where Loren Partridge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gryffyd Partridge of Mill Valley, is also a student.

After attending a launching at Stockton of the new boat of his sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William Wright of Fresno, the George Turnbulls and their sons, Ricky and Robert, will be guests at the River Ranch of Turnbull's aunt, Mrs. George Mordecai, while their son David spends the week at the Turnbulls' beach house at Aptos.

Among others who will be spending Easter out of town will be the A. P. Baukols at Pacific Grove with her sister, Mrs. A. R. Mason; the Gerhard Beckers at Alameda; the Henry Fosters, who will be attending the wedding of Foster's cousin, Richard Wheeler, Petaluma; and the Ralph Martindales at their home in Bolinas.

IN SAUSALITO

The early date of Easter seems to be finding most Sausalitans without well laid plans. Some who are taking a holiday are Mrs. Paul P. Hastings who left for Los Angeles early in the week; Dr. and Mrs. Clayton D. Mote, tireless hikers, who are on a pack trip in Arizona; Mrs. Ivan R. Cousins Jr., who with her children is visiting her family in Pasadena and Dr. and Mrs. Delman D. Smith with their children are enjoying the ski slopes near Squaw Valley.

The latest word from Mr. and Mrs. Victor Wollman indicates that they will soon be seen back in Sausalito after a year's absence spent in world travel. Mr. and Mrs. Frank T. Greene who returned recently from Honolulu enjoyed a gay reunion with Vic and Irene in the islands.

Mr. and Mrs. John F. Churchill have as their house guest, Mrs. Kenneth Fitzhugh of Del Mar, Calif., Mrs. Churchill's sister who has been attending the Home Economics Convention at the Jack Tar Hotel.

TIBURON PENINSULA

On the Tiburon Peninsula the Herbert Spilmans will have a family dinner at their home on Madrone Ave. From Salinas will come one of their daughters, Mrs. Gordon Young with her husband and family and from Strawberry their other daughter, Mrs. Robert Judd and her family.

Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Farkas of Bel Aire will entertain Erwin's brother Milton Farkas of San Bruno and his family.

The Eric Bellingalls will also have a family party. They have invited Marian's mother Mrs. John Burleigh of San Francisco; her aunt Mrs. C. Y. Brownlee, also of San Francisco and her brother-in-law and sister, Brig. Gen. and Mrs. Harry van Wyk. Also invited are Mrs. Claire Ruggles and her sister Miss Ruth Griffin, both of San Francisco.

Off to San Francisco for the day are Mr. and Mrs. George Berticevich. They will have dinner with George's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Berticevich; his brother Edward Berticevich and his family, and his sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert De Barr.

For the first time in five years John Del Mar will be home at Easter. Usually he is attending annual meetings of his company, the American Association of Advertising Agencies. So the family is planning a special Easter celebration. Soon John and his family will leave their lovely home in Rolling Hills and move to Chicago where he will open a new office for the company. Jean will be missed by many organizations in which she is active including the Southern Marin Recreation Center, the Cove Players and the Nani Iolani Polynesian Dance Group.

The Easter vacation is being spent at the Napa Valley Ranch by Mrs. Joseph Christian and her daughters Gayle and Linda and Mrs. Clark Holmes and daughter Linda and son Scott. They will return in time for Easter Sunday. Clark will sing in a cantata that day at the First Baptist Church in Mill Valley. Also participating in the cantata as a soloist will be Mrs. Donald Erickson of Little Reed Heights. Both the Christians and the Holmes' live in Belveron Gardens.

Also off for the week are Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Stubblebine of Strawberry who will spend the week at Stinson Beach with their four boys, John, Will, Paul and David. Mrs. Kenneth Rall and son Tom will also spend the week at Stinson.

John Mueller of Little Reed Heights has been in Japan for a month and has just returned. His homecoming is enough of a reason for a celebration so his family has not planned anything special for the holiday.

Off on a 16 day cruise through the Caribbean are the Jay Casons of Del Mar Estates. The James Zeiglers also of Del Mar traditionally share Easter with the Raymond Rehers of Corte Madera. As usual their children will exchange Easter eggs.

Off to Squaw Valley are several Peninsula residents. Among them are Alan and Nancy Loeffler who own the Batten and Board Ski Shop in Sausalito. A large group will travel together including the Dick De Berrys with their two girls, the Harold Greens and their three children, all of Little Reed Heights and Mrs. E. W. Penny of Corte Madera with her three children.

Marin Women

Cookie Sale Plans Are Completed

Plans for the Marin Council Girl Scout Cookie Sale, April 7 to 24, have been completed, according to Mrs. James W. Gowen, chairman of the annual fund raising event.

Serving on the 1961 Cookie Sale Committee are Mesdames Lewis Deu Pree of Ross, Cookie Sales chairman, and Arthur Collbran of Belvedere, George L. Daum of Corte Madera, Harold Green of Tiburon, Thomas J. Mellon of Kentfield and Martin Seaver of Mill Valley.

Sale of the cookies, made by Mother's Cake and Cookie Co., will be under the direct supervision of the following Neighborhood cookie chairmen: Mesdames Charles Murphy, Mill Valley; Persis Newman, Tiburon Peninsula; Peter Fugina, Sausalito; Joseph Pedone, Corte Madera-Larkspur; T. C. Hossfeld, Kentfield-Greenbrae-Ross; Richard Morgan, San Anselmo; A. B. Whittemore, Fairfax; Charles Yaeger, Marinwood; G. H. Paldi, Terra Linda; Roger Davidson, Santa Venetia; Conrad Sovig, San Rafael; James Coddington and Albert Perron, Hamilton Air Force Base; Amos Brown, Novato (Marian); and Cecil Walton, Novato (Lynwood).

The proceeds from the sale will supplement the funds received from the United Bay Area Crusade for operating the Council and for the maintenance and improvements of the camps owned by the Marin Girl Scouts.

Lynwood P-TA Meets April 6

Parents of Lynwood School children will be learning a new concept in mathematics at the P-TA meeting on April 6 at 8 p.m.

A film will be shown in the multi-purpose room after which parents will be divided into groups such as: "Problem Solving," with teachers Mrs. Gladys Pollack and Frederick Baguio; "new approach to division," with Mrs. Elinor Mills and William Pedler; "fractions taught as ratios," with Mrs. Verna Carlsen and Mrs. Eleanor Jones; "per cent taught as ratios" with Nancy Miller, Richard Melendy and Denton Winn.

There will be a panel for questions and answers, with Joseph Mouille, principal of the school, acting as moderator. Elections for new P-TA officers also will be held.

IRENE ANN DA SAN MARTINO TO WED BARTON MILLER IN AUGUST

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Da San Martino of Kentfield are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Irene Ann, to Barton Dale Miller of San Diego.

Parents of the future benedict are Horace L. Miller and Mrs. L. G. Winn, both of San Diego.

A party to celebrate the engagement is planned on April 8 at the St. Francis Yacht Club. The bride-elect's parents will host the affair.

Irene, who is a teacher at the Bernard Hoffman School in Terra Linda, was graduated from Marin Catholic High School and Dominican College.

The prospective bridegroom, grandson of the late Eric Webster of Kentfield, was graduated from San Diego High School, University of California and attended the Harvard Graduate Business School. He is a member of the Catholic Alumni Club of San Francisco. He is employed by the General Electric Co. at the Atomic Power Department in San Jose.

The wedding will be an event of Aug. 5.

Unitarian Women To Meet Monday

Mrs. William O'Brien, president of the Women's Alliance of the Unitarian Church of Marin, will assist Mrs. Michael Rado who has invited the group to her home at 197 Morningsun, Mill Valley, Monday for a "Bring your own sandwich" luncheon at noon, April 3.

Mrs. Margaret Best will review the book by Hersey, "The Single Pebble."

The Alliance members recently made a trip to Berkeley where they visited the Starr King School for the ministry and heard a talk by J. R. Bartlett who has remained head of the school for several years.

Cooperative Dance Semester To Begin

The Dick Ford Cooperative Dance group will begin the spring semester on April 3 at Carpenter's Hall in San Rafael.

Ford will teach classes in creative dance, technique, and tumbling to pre-school, kindergarten, and school age youngsters.

The group has openings for enrollment in all classes. Any who are interested may call Mrs. Max Kimball.

Newlyweds Are Honored At Party

The recently married Mr. and Mrs. James Jameson (Barbara Cotlon) were honored at a cocktail party on Sunday night given by his stepfather and his mother, Mr. and Mrs. Charles McNulty at their San Rafael home.

The young couple was married in Carson City, Nev. on Feb. 26. Present for the ceremony were the bride's father, Harold Gade of San Anselmo; her sister, who was maid of honor; Larry Wall of San Rafael, best man; Mrs. Wall; the bridegroom's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Martini, of Petaluma; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Balzan and Dawson Bigley of San Rafael.

These were all present at the cocktail party as well as James' grandmother, Mrs. Eva Bettencourt; his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Herb Legge, Petaluma; another uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Bettencourt and cousins; Mr. and Mrs. Konrad Knudson of Sausalito; Mr. and Mrs. John Brunner of Novato; Mrs. Carol Rourke; Mr. and Mrs. James Shanahan; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Drabina and Walter Hammerman of San Rafael.

Saplings Now Testimony To Camp Fire Golden Jubilee

And the rains came—but this did not dampen the spirits of the Camp Fire Girls as they planted trees throughout the county recently.

This project—a part of their Golden Jubilee Celebration—was started two years ago when each girl was given a sapling to care for until the root formation was such that it could survive in the ground. These trees, liquid amber, plus Monterey pines, flowering plums and sycamores were planted in many barren areas recently as a living reminder of one of the Camp Fire Laws — "Seek Beauty."

Bluebirds and Camp Fire Girls (including the Otawakas, Cheskamays, Tilowantas and Tamalpitkins) from District II planted their trees at the Henry C. Hall and Kent Schools.

San Anselmo received new trees in various areas when the Little Lady Blue Birds planted trees at the Wade Thomas School, the Cheerful and the Busy Bee Bluebirds and the WaKoTa Camp Fire Girls at the Isabel Cook School and the IYopTa Camp Fire Girls bought a tree with money from their treasury to present to Brookside School.

In Fairfax the High Flying and the Sunshine Bluebirds also bought three flowering plum trees to beautify the Central School grounds and the ODaATons planted sycamore trees at the Lagunitas School.

About 300 girls participated in planting 30 Monterey pines at the San Anselmo Memorial Park with the cooperation of the Recreation Department.

Birthday parties climaxed the day for all of the enthusiastic participants and brought to an end a very busy celebration week.

Hospital Auxiliary Greets 8 Neophytes

The Marin General Hospital Auxiliary welcomed eight new members at the March meeting. All but two of these neophytes have served the hospital as Pink Ladies, either now, or formerly in active service. The new members are:

Mrs. Sam Schonwasser, first president of the Pink Ladies (1952) and active in Powder Puff Guild of Sunny Hills and Ross Valley Players. She has a grown son, Gary, and a daughter, Lynne.

Mrs. L. R. Clason, who also serves in both the above groups, and is currently vice president of the Service League. She is a member of the 1000 hour club of Marin General volunteers; a member of the San Rafael Guild of Sunny Hills, and St. Paul's Service League. Mrs. Clason has a teen-age daughter, Lynne.

Mrs. Ralph Alden has been active in the Marin Art and Garden Center as a member of its advisory board, and of the Decorations Guild, Northgate, and of the Ross Valley Players.

Mrs. Jack Stephens of San Rafael has served as Gift Cart chiarman for the Pink Ladies, as well as a regular volunteer. She has a two-year old daughter, Sarah.

Mrs. Philip A. Crane of Kentfield has been a floor supervisor at Marin General. Her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Philip A. Crane Jr. is a Pink Lady. She also has a grown son and daughter.

To her membership in the Auxiliary, Mrs. Jules Becker brings much experience as past president of Junior Theater of Marin, board member of the San Francisco Museum of Art, as well as having served as chairman of Ballet Aquacade in 1959. Her interests and talents are in the field of art and journalism. She is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin and has a teen-age son, Glenn, and a two-year-old daughter, Elizabeth.

Mill Valley is the home of Mrs. R. B. Hartman. Her children are grown, with a son, John, in college and a daughter, married. Her activities have included memberships in the Women's Auxiliary of the Marin County Medical Society, president and board member of the Outdoor Art Club.

Mrs. Rudolph D. Lang is another new member of the Auxiliary. Her activities in the community have included membership in Powder Puff Guild of Sunny Hills, Northgate Group of the Art and Garden Center, and the League of Mannequins. She has one teen-age daughter, Susan Kay.

The Auxiliary plans as their 1961 activity, a "First Day of Summer" House Tour on June 21. It will be held in Mill Valley where a number of unusual homes will be on display.

Sister Pays Visit To St. Hilary's

Many members of St. Hilary's Parish attended a reception recently honoring Sister Mary Monica, Mother General of the Sisters of the Holy Faith. The reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Goddard in Belvedere.

Sister Mary Monica is visiting St. Hilary's Parish which will build a new school to be staffed by the Sisters of the Holy Faith. She was very impressed with the beauty of the Tiburon Peninsula and especially the site near St. Hilary's Church where the new school will be located.

She has recently visited New Zealand and Australia where she inspected a school recently opened by the Order at Canberra on the east coast of Australia.

After a short stay here she will leave for Los Angeles to make an inspection of the Order's schools at Norwalk and Downey. She will also visit schools in Trinidad and return to the Mother House in Glasnevin, Ireland by May. Sister Mary Monica has been Mother General for 14 years.

The Sisters of the Holy Faith Order conduct throughout the world 32 elementary schools, 14 high schools, one commercial college and one orphanage.

THOUGH THE RAINS came it did not keep Camp Fire Girls in Mill Valley from planting saplings as the project to celebrate their Golden Jubilee Celebration. Newlyweds Are Honored At Party

The recently married Mr. and Mrs. James Jameson (Barbara Cotlon) were honored at a cocktail party on Sunday night given by his stepfather and his mother, Mr. and Mrs. Charles McNulty at their San Rafael home.

The young couple was married in Carson City, Nev. on Feb. 26. Present for the ceremony were the bride's father, Harold Gade of San Anselmo; her sister, who was maid of honor; Larry Wall of San Rafael, best man; Mrs. Wall; the bridegroom's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Martini, of Petaluma; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Balzan and Dawson Bigley of San Rafael.

These were all present at the cocktail party as well as James' grandmother, Mrs. Eva Bettencourt; his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Herb Legge, Petaluma; another uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Bettencourt and cousins; Mr. and Mrs. Konrad Knudson of Sausalito; Mr. and Mrs. John Brunner of Novato; Mrs. Carol Rourke; Mr. and Mrs. James Shanahan; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Drabina and Walter Hammerman of San Rafael.

Saplings Now Testimony To Camp Fire Golden Jubilee

And the rains came—but this did not dampen the spirits of the Camp Fire Girls as they planted trees throughout the county recently.

This project—a part of their Golden Jubilee Celebration—was started two years ago when each girl was given a sapling to care for until the root formation was such that it could survive in the ground. These trees, liquid amber, plus Monterey pines, flowering plums and sycamores were planted in many barren areas recently as a living reminder of one of the Camp Fire Laws — "Seek Beauty."

Bluebirds and Camp Fire Girls (including the Otawakas, Cheskamays, Tilowantas and Tamalpitkins) from District II planted their trees at the Henry C. Hall and Kent Schools.

San Anselmo received new trees in various areas when the Little Lady Blue Birds planted trees at the Wade Thomas School, the Cheerful and the Busy Bee Bluebirds and the WaKoTa Camp Fire Girls at the Isabel Cook School and the IYopTa Camp Fire Girls bought a tree with money from their treasury to present to Brookside School.

In Fairfax the High Flying and the Sunshine Bluebirds also bought three flowering plum trees to beautify the Central School grounds and the ODaATons planted sycamore trees at the Lagunitas School.

About 300 girls participated in planting 30 Monterey pines at the San Anselmo Memorial Park with the cooperation of the Recreation Department.

Birthday parties climaxed the day for all of the enthusiastic participants and brought to an end a very busy celebration week.

ADDING THE FINISHING touches to this poster welcoming members and guests to the first social affair planned in the new gymnasium at St. Anselm's School, San Anselmo, are two members of the Parent-Teacher's Guild from left, Mesdames Harold Truett and Rome Horak. The Guild will hold an "Inaugural Ball" on April 8 at the school.

LOOKING OVER the new gymnasium are Mrs. Jerry Thompson, recording secretary for St. Anselm's Parent-Teacher's Guild, and Thomas Hally, member of the Advisory Board. The social event will be preceded by cocktail parties in the homes of various members of the Guild. Dancing will be from 9 to 1 a.m. (Independent-Journal photos)

'Where The Boys Are' Theme Of Fashion Focus Luncheon

"Where The Boys Are" is the fashionable subject under discussion on Tuesday at Rickey's popular Fashion Focus luncheon when the Auxiliary to the Junior Chamber of Commerce of San Rafael promenade the favorite spring looks that gentlemen of all ages will like wherever they are.

Mesdames Donald Leaf, Gordon Ness, Rex Minshall, Verne Goodfield, Gary Brown and Karl Graupner are the JC-ettes who will model an array of delightful confections from a San Rafael specialty shop to sparkle wherever the boys take them this spring and summer.

"Where the boys are" could mean at any number of Junior Chamber civic minded projects including the approaching Junior Chamber Fish Derby, the Junior Golf Tournament, or working on the current drive to send California surplus text books to Mexico where they are greatly needed.

On Tuesday where the boys are will be at the Fashion Focus luncheon. They have transferred their weekly luncheon meeting to Rickeys for the one occasion to applaud their wives when they are honored as the community service organization of the week.

Reservations to enjoy Tuesday's Fashion Focus luncheon may be made by calling Rickey's. The public is invited to enjoy the Tuesday informal promenades with luncheon served at 12:30 p.m.

Spring Has Arrived Seen In Styles Of Tam Hi Girls

The dessert fashion show sponsored by Tamalpais High School senior girls Tuesday afternoon at the Outdoor Art Clubhouse in Mill Valley with its styles for pretty teen-agers was one of the sure signs that spring has arrived.

Under the co-chairmanship of Kathie Young and Kathie Stenros, with Kathie Young acting as commentator, the girls modeled clothes from a Corte Madera store and shoes from a Mill Valley shop that were suitable to all fun occasions.

For daytime casual wear the shirtwaist dress, sleeveless full skirted frock and sheath were popular as noted in a pink cotton shirtwaist style trimmed with lace shown by Heidi Schmitz, a student from Germany; a lavender and white jacket dress accented with lavender belt modeled by Winnie Watkins; and a gay many-colored striped sheath on Kathy Dazey.

Julie Kollner and Dominic Barnay, a student from France, were both smart in black and white, Julie in a black dress with removable white dickey for date time, and Dominic in a pleated skirt with short jacket and patent belt.

Two beautiful possibilities for prom wear were Jean Gilfillan's pink nylon and lace, and Carolyn Grant's pale yellow nylon, both with bouffant silhouette.

Tiny stars of the show, moppets Holly Atkins and Elizabeth Ann Gilfillan, looked like sister dolls in white eyelet frocks, Holly's over lavender, and Elizabeth's over pink.

Proceeds from the show will go to finance the senior ball.

St. Anselm's Inaugural Ball Set April 8

The annual Directors' Spring Dance for St. Anselm's Parent-Teachers Guild will be held on Saturday, April 8, at the school.

Since the dance will be the first social affair in the new gymnasium, it will be called the "Inaugural Ball."

Pre-dance cocktail parties will be held from 7 to 8:30 p.m. in the homes of various members of the Guild, and all of those going to the dance are invited to attend. An innovation this year will be the late supper, which will be served from 11 p.m. There will be dancing from 9 to 1.

The officers and members of the Advisory Board have worked hard to make this year's dance an even greater success than those of former years. Reservations can be made by calling Mrs. Durham by April 1.

Dominican Student Donates Her Dolls

The elegantly clothed and coiffed dolls are the gift of Karin Sais of El Cerrito. The collection was presented to the hospital by Miss Sais' mother, Mrs. Albin Sais and Mrs. Milton Greengard of Richmond, a member of Live Oak Branch and the board of directors of Children's Hospital of the East Bay.

Miss Sais, a junior at Dominican College, began collecting dolls when she was four years old. Many of her dolls have been packed away, waiting for the day when she has children of her own. But part of her collection, the story-book dolls, were destined to delight the children at the hospital.

New Scout Groups Planned In Fall

At a recent Field Committee meeting of the Marin Girl Scout Council, it was announced that new Brownie and Intermediate Girl Scout troops will be organized in most neighborhoods in the fall, rather than during the Spring mouths.

A countywide "Sign-up Day" has been scheduled for Wednesday, Sept. 13. At that time, neighborhood troop organizers will be stationed at schools or at other designated locations to take the names of all girls who are interested in becoming Girl Scouts. Troops will be available or organized at that time for all girls from seven years of age through high school.

Training courses will be offered to acquaint new leaders with the Scouting program in the fall.

Anyone interested in joining a troop at this time may contact the local troop organizer, neighborhood chairman or the Girl Scout office, 739 A Street, San Rafael, for further information.

'Joint Venture' Slated April 22

Launching the gayest ship of the social season in the Peacock Room of the Mark Hopkins Hotel will be the Propeller Club and the Womens Maritime Club of the Port of San Francisco, have joined their effort and talent to give their biggest party of the year and naming it the S.S. Joint Venture—a gala evening of cocktails, dining and dancing, on the chart for Saturday, April 22.

Benefiting from the proceeds will be the scholarship fund which assists worthy students to further their careers at the California Maritime Academy.

In command of S.S. Joint Venture are Admiral Gill Richardson and Mrs. O. William Schumm, presidents of the sponsoring organizations. Executive officer, or chairman of the dance committee is Mr. J. E. Carambat Jr. and an able crew from the Propeller Club in charge of navigating this event will be Col. R. R. H. Wagner, Al Sehorn, William Empey, Harold Burke, Rolf Moller, Capt. William Dodge and John O'Loughlin, Dr. William Rusted and Mrs. Harold Lind.

Officers in charge of logging in the reservations are Mr. Albert Pryor with Mrs. Jack Harris of San Francisco, Mrs. Charles Shields of the East Bay and Mrs. Herbert Engel from the Peninsula as a follow-up crew.

Busy hands aboard are Mrs. Earl Slater, Mrs. John V. Walsh of Larkspur, Mrs. A. E. Oscarsen of San Anselmo, and Mrs. Sydney Hyde of Sausalito, in charge of decorations, with Mrs. Lewis Deppman, Mrs. Robert Feder, Mrs. William Savio and Mrs. Walter Vortmann for favors.

Publicity by Mrs. Harold B. Roberts of San Anselmo, and menus by Mrs. Russel Law, complete the duty plan of the day.

Portable Dishwasher

The advantages of automatic dishwashing are becoming more and more apparent to busy American families: it's easier to keep kitchens tidier; dishes can be washed cleaner and faster; hands can be kept lovelier; dish breakage can be reduced; valuable time can be saved for other things. But what if you live in a rented home, an apartment, or have a seasonal dwelling . . . or even if you have a smaller kitchen where space precludes installing a dishwasher permanently?
You can have the convenience of automatic dishwashing—in a brand-new portable model that requires no installation expense . . . no permanent plumbing or wiring . . . no kitchen alterations.

LOOKING OVER the new gymnasium are Mrs. Jerry Thompson, recording secretary for St. Anselm's Parent-Teacher's Guild, and Thomas Hally, member of the Advisory Board. The social event will be preceded by cocktail parties in the homes of various members of the Guild. Dancing will be from 9 to 1 a.m. (Independent-Journal photos)

St. Anselm's Inaugural Ball Set April 8

The annual Directors' Spring Dance for St. Anselm's Parent-Teachers Guild will be held on Saturday, April 8, at the school.

Since the dance will be the first social affair in the new gymnasium, it will be called the "Inaugural Ball."

Pre-dance cocktail parties will be held from 7 to 8:30 p.m. in the homes of various members of the Guild, and all of those going to the dance are invited to attend. An innovation this year will be the late supper, which will be served from 11 p.m. There will be dancing from 9 to 1.

The officers and members of the Advisory Board have worked hard to make this year's dance an even greater success than those of former years. Reservations can be made by calling Mrs. Durham by April 1.

Dominican Student Donates Her Dolls

The elegantly clothed and coiffed dolls are the gift of Karin Sais of El Cerrito. The collection was presented to the hospital by Miss Sais' mother, Mrs. Albin Sais and Mrs. Milton Greengard of Richmond, a member of Live Oak Branch and the board of directors of Children's Hospital of the East Bay.

Miss Sais, a junior at Dominican College, began collecting dolls when she was four years old. Many of her dolls have been packed away, waiting for the day when she has children of her own. But part of her collection, the story-book dolls, were destined to delight the children at the hospital.

'Joint Venture' Slated April 22

Launching the gayest ship of the social season in the Peacock Room of the Mark Hopkins Hotel will be the Propeller Club and the Womens Maritime Club of the Port of San Francisco, have joined their effort and talent to give their biggest party of the year and naming it the S.S. Joint Venture—a gala evening of cocktails, dining and dancing, on the chart for Saturday, April 22.

Benefiting from the proceeds will be the scholarship fund which assists worthy students to further their careers at the California Maritime Academy.

In command of S.S. Joint Venture are Admiral Gill Richardson and Mrs. O. William Schumm, presidents of the sponsoring organizations. Executive officer, or chairman of the dance committee is Mr. J. E. Carambat Jr. and an able crew from the Propeller Club in charge of navigating this event will be Col. R. R. H. Wagner, Al Sehorn, William Empey, Harold Burke, Rolf Moller, Capt. William Dodge and John O'Loughlin, Dr. William Rusted and Mrs. Harold Lind.

Officers in charge of logging in the reservations are Mr. Albert Pryor with Mrs. Jack Harris of San Francisco, Mrs. Charles Shields of the East Bay and Mrs. Herbert Engel from the Peninsula as a follow-up crew.

Busy hands aboard are Mrs. Earl Slater, Mrs. John V. Walsh of Larkspur, Mrs. A. E. Oscarsen of San Anselmo, and Mrs. Sydney Hyde of Sausalito, in charge of decorations, with Mrs. Lewis Deppman, Mrs. Robert Feder, Mrs. William Savio and Mrs. Walter Vortmann for favors.

'Where The Boys Are' Theme Of Fashion Focus Luncheon

"Where The Boys Are" is the fashionable subject under discussion on Tuesday at Rickey's popular Fashion Focus luncheon when the Auxiliary to the Junior Chamber of Commerce of San Rafael promenade the favorite spring looks that gentlemen of all ages will like wherever they are.

Mesdames Donald Leaf, Gordon Ness, Rex Minshall, Verne Goodfield, Gary Brown and Karl Graupner are the JC-ettes who will model an array of delightful confections from a San Rafael specialty shop to sparkle wherever the boys take them this spring and summer.

"Where the boys are" could mean at any number of Junior Chamber civic minded projects including the approaching Junior Chamber Fish Derby, the Junior Golf Tournament, or working on the current drive to send California surplus text books to Mexico where they are greatly needed.

On Tuesday where the boys are will be at the Fashion Focus luncheon. They have transferred their weekly luncheon meeting to Rickeys for the one occasion to applaud their wives when they are honored as the community service organization of the week.

Reservations to enjoy Tuesday's Fashion Focus luncheon may be made by calling Rickey's. The public is invited to enjoy the Tuesday informal promenades with luncheon served at 12:30 p.m.

Spring Has Arrived Seen In Styles Of Tam Hi Girls

The dessert fashion show sponsored by Tamalpais High School senior girls Tuesday afternoon at the Outdoor Art Clubhouse in Mill Valley with its styles for pretty teen-agers was one of the sure signs that spring has arrived.

Under the co-chairmanship of Kathie Young and Kathie Stenros, with Kathie Young acting as commentator, the girls modeled clothes from a Corte Madera store and shoes from a Mill Valley shop that were suitable to all fun occasions.

For daytime casual wear the shirtwaist dress, sleeveless full skirted frock and sheath were popular as noted in a pink cotton shirtwaist style trimmed with lace shown by Heidi Schmitz, a student from Germany; a lavender and white jacket dress accented with lavender belt modeled by Winnie Watkins; and a gay many-colored striped sheath on Kathy Dazey.

Julie Kollner and Dominic Barnay, a student from France, were both smart in black and white, Julie in a black dress with removable white dickey for date time, and Dominic in a pleated skirt with short jacket and patent belt.

Two beautiful possibilities for prom wear were Jean Gilfillan's pink nylon and lace, and Carolyn Grant's pale yellow nylon, both with bouffant silhouette.

Tiny stars of the show, moppets Holly Atkins and Elizabeth Ann Gilfillan, looked like sister dolls in white eyelet frocks, Holly's over lavender, and Elizabeth's over pink.

Proceeds from the show will go to finance the senior ball.

New Scout Groups Planned In Fall

At a recent Field Committee meeting of the Marin Girl Scout Council, it was announced that new Brownie and Intermediate Girl Scout troops will be organized in most neighborhoods in the fall, rather than during the Spring mouths.

A countywide "Sign-up Day" has been scheduled for Wednesday, Sept. 13. At that time, neighborhood troop organizers will be stationed at schools or at other designated locations to take the names of all girls who are interested in becoming Girl Scouts. Troops will be available or organized at that time for all girls from seven years of age through high school.

Training courses will be offered to acquaint new leaders with the Scouting program in the fall.

Anyone interested in joining a troop at this time may contact the local troop organizer, neighborhood chairman or the Girl Scout office, 739 A Street, San Rafael, for further information.

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

A Man's Face Turns Dismal Friday Into Years Of Hope

The boy never did find out who the man was.

A criminal, someone in the crowd near the gate had told him. A condemned man they were about to kill for treason, or blasphemy or something . . . he never was quite sure.

Yet in the one brief instant in which the boy had seen the man's face he had felt a strange inward stirring that he would never forget.

It was a dismal Friday, a hungry one again. Even nature seemed angry with him. Restless, he had seen the crowd and with a boy's natural inquisitiveness had pushed his way into its jostle and movement. And then between the dirty robes of two jesting men he had seen that face.

It was a bloodied, an anguished face. Yet when the eyes by chance met his, the boy saw . . . or perhaps he felt . . . a great, calming reassurance. There was actually love in those eyes . . . and a smile! The sort of warm smile he dimly remembered from childhood days when there had been a home, and people around who seemed to care . . . people who had long ago gone away, except in memory.

And then the man was gone.

Later on, the day became even more dismal . . . almost violent. But on the Sabbath, when the boy awakened, it was warm, and the air smelled fresh, even in the side streets of the city. It turned out to be, in fact, the most beautiful day he could remember. A smiling day . . . a day somehow full of love. A day filled with the same stirring something he had seen in the eyes of the man.

During the long and sometimes weary years that followed he would often find himself refreshed and renewed by the memory of that day, and that man.

He could never know, of course, that in other cities, in other lands, in other centuries people weary like himself would for the same reason find faith and hope and renewal, even though unlike the boy, they had not themselves looked into the eyes of a man struggling the stony path to Golgotha.

And It's Passover, Too

Tonight at sundown, the Jewish people also start a traditional holiday, Passover.

Marking the flight of the Israelites from ancient Egypt, as related in the Book of Exodus, Jews this evening start seven or eight days of ceremonies. The most singular is Seder, a home worship service in which the table is set with foods and objects symbolizing the deliverance of the Jews in Egypt.

Although Moses is the great figure in Passover, it is not a review of his life. Rather it is a time celebrating the joys of liberty and it draws parallels between the hardships of Egypt and later persecutions. However, the emphasis is always on ultimate deliverance and hope for the future. Thus it is known as the Festival of Freedom.

As we all recall, it was in celebration of Passover that Jesus Christ sat down with his 12 disciples for the last supper.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

By JAMES KELLER

HE FOUND GOOD IN ALL MEN

While Christ was in the midst of His trial Pontius Pilate's wife, who like him, was a pagan, sent her husband this note:

"Have nothing to do with that just man; for I have suffered many things this day in a dream because of him." (Matthew 27:19)

Her advice went unheeded, but it points up the underlying disposition for goodness in her soul.

Simon, from Cyrene, a small town in North Africa, apparently didn't have the slightest intention of helping Christ on the way to Calvary. He was simply pulled out of the crowd by the Roman soldiers.

"As they led him away, they laid hold of one Simon of Cyrene, coming from the country, and they laid the cross on him to carry after Jesus." (Luke 23:26

Even as He carried His cross, He chose a simple, unknown man to share His burden.

To the thief on the cross who rose above his own agony and defended the innocence of Christ, the dying Savior said:

"Amen I say to thee, this day thou shalt be with Me in paradise." (Luke 23:43)

Imitate Christ by discovering and nurturing the spark of goodness in every human being.

Country Boy Tries The Subways, Finds Them Like Cattle Cars

By FRANCIS STILLEY
(For Hal Boyle)

NEW YORK (AP) — Dear Everybody out there at Hoecake Corners:

Well, this is just a short letter because I have not got much time because I have been out and got mixed up with what they call the subway here.

You never saw such as this and neither did I. It is trains that run under the ground and it sure is a puzzle to try to figure out where they go to.

That was what it was that got this old cowpoke into such a fix.

The subway train cars are more like cattle cars. They have doors on the sides and lots of them. Come to think of it, I believe the cattle get to ride better back out home on the trains. They have got more room and they do not get so hot.

You do not buy a ticket to ride on the subways. You buy a little thing about the size of a dime, then you put this in a turnstile as you go on the platform where you get on.

Not many people sit down on the subways. There are a few seats but there are lots more people than the seats.

It costs you 15 cents even to stand up.

This is maybe more than it is worth. You don't see a danged thing. It is all in a tunnel. Just black when you look out.

Well, there was such a crowd I got jammed way back in and by the time I could get back out I was in a place they call Brooklen. There is not much to that. Only stores and buildings. Took one look and was ready to go.

THAT IS WHERE the trouble really came in. I did not know how to get out either. Finally a citizen told me to go take another subway.

I did but here I now am in a place they call the Broncs Sure a funny kind of name for this end of the country, eh? The Broncs looks just about like Brooklen.

THERE IS LOTS more to tell you about New York but first I have got to try to get out of the Broncs.

Your old friend,

LUKE

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Other Papers Are Superfluous

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Let me take this opportunity of expressing the appreciation we feel for the I-J. Our group of nine teachers at Saint Anselm's School, who are resident here, find all the world news included in the Journal, together with innumerable articles of general and local interest, so that the Chronicle and the Examiner (which reach us also) become superfluous.

At the moment we are especially interested in the "One Hundred Years In Marin" which (we hope) the County Board of Education will have bound and made available to schools, ours included. We have just written to the board to request inclusion in the program. The publication will be of great reference value to all students.

Fired Employee Appreciates Story

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I am truly amazed to discover how carefully Marinites read the Independent-Journal. Many friends and persons who did not know me before called me, having read the items which you printed about my appeal from dismissal by the Department of Corrections. (Jan. 11, and March 25, 1961).

Your report accomplished the feat of conveying to them clearly and concisely, the gist of a story which I find difficulty explaining with liberal use of words in conversation.

A great deal of suspicion confronts an employee who was fired from civil service. The damage to a reputation may be impossible to undo. I am therefore doubly grateful for your reports which have brought more of the facts to the public.

Inasmuch as I have received comments expressing doubt whether therapeutic work is possible in a prison, I would like to point out to your readers, that I found no conflict in my work with practices and personnel of the prison. On the contrary, I have enjoyed full cooperation from the employees and administrators of San Quentin. Louis Nelson, associate warden of San Quentin, testified at my hearing that I had not presented special problems to him in his responsibility for security and custodial practices at the prison.

The dismissal action was not taken by any of my co-workers or superiors at San Quentin or at the Medical Facility at Vacaville.

The fact that I had an assignment to design an experimental program of treatment — follow-through-on-parole, and that I was to continue my functions of consultant to the staff who were shortly expected to start this work, was news to the deputy attorney general who represented the department, when this was brought out at my hearing.

Social Security Is Not Insurance

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Social security is not insurance. For years the insurance fraternity has been trying to educate the American public to this fact.

Social security taxes are not premiums.

You may get nothing or you may get a thousand times more than you pay for.

The letter of William F. Erdman revives the mistaken notion which seems to have more lives than a cat. If people now drawing social security benefits were to receive just what they have paid for, the average payment would be under $5 per month.

If I understand Kennedy's proposal correctly, it is that those now drawing social security benefits would also receive medical benefits. They could not possibly make any contribution.

What About Traffic Lights?

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I enjoy reading your Saturday magazine very much. Today I would like to give a brickbat to somebody!

Whoever is in charge of the traffic light at Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and Wolfe Grade should do something about it. I drive over Wolfe Grade and I have been waiting at that light for four minutes to see the green. Then after it finally changed, its stays green only for a few seconds and if you have some cars in front of you, you just can't make it.

By this time you really see red and not only the light!!

This happens at 6:45 a.m. and the traffic is not very heavy. I am a surgery nurse and I am on my way to Marin General Hospital. You will understand that time is precious.

I think it would be enough to have a flashing red light for the cars coming down Wolfe Grade and a flashing yellow light for the ones on the highway until 7:30 a.m. Several weeks ago the lights on Sir Francis Drake from Fairfax to San Rafael were changed this way. Whoever was responsible for that perhaps can do something about this maddening light too.

I and many others would appreciate it very much.

Discrimination Reflects On Men

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I wish to support James A. Harder's letter of March 4 opposing restrictive covenants against Negro buyers in Marin County.

It is unnecessary to say this practice is "un-American." It is enough to say it is unworthy of men, an assault upon the dignity of the individual.

Mr. Harder's criticism is not so much an indictment of the title company (which, after all, is an impersonal corporate being) as against the community of human beings of which we all form a part.

If this practice continues, it merely reflects the will or indifference of ourselves. Let us all think seriously of what discrimination means in Marin—before we condemn it in Little Rock, New Orleans or South Africa.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

Movie producer Billy Wilder has two gimmicks up his sleeve that he hasn't yet been able to jimmy into a picture. Both involve operatives from behind the Iron Curtain.

In one, the Commies kidnap a great film star in West Berlin and brainwash her. They are completely frustrated, however, because they discover she has no brains to wash.

In the other, a top Commissar takes it on the lam and seeks sanctuary in Paris. In revenge, the boys at the Kremlin liquidate his wife and six children. The Commissar thereupon hotfoots it right back to Moscow. He's no traitor at all; he just wanted to get rid of his family.

A Typo Might Lead To Wierd Type Of Congenial Friendship

Even though the Independent-Journal has had an even 100 years practice in putting out a newspaper, typographical errors do somehow creep into our pages from time to time.

These slips, not so affectionately known in the trade as "typos," are more often than not caused by astigmatic lintoype operators, wool gathering proofreaders or convivial reporters. Sometimes by a combination of all three.

Only the other day, for example, a story told of a car from which the right front wheel had been stolen. As a result, the story said, the car suffered a "port list," an obvious nautical error easily spotted by any seagoing reader who knows his starboard from his left.

MOST TYPOS, fortunately, are more or less harmless mistakes, causing little other than ruffled feelings, either on the part of the reporter of or the person about whom he is reporting.

I am gravely concerned, however, over the possible repercussions of one which crept recently into the classified ad columns in which a "congenial couple in their middle 30s desire to make the acquaintance of similar couple."

Imagine the confusion resulting when Mrs. Congenial Middle-50 gets on the phone with Mrs. Congenial Middle-30, neither of them aware of the actual age of their congenial friends-to-be. The script has unlimited soap opera possibilities.

MRS. CONGENIAL Thirty-ish: "My Dear, you don't know how often John and I have longed to know someone as congenial as we are. What say we launch our acquaintance with a weekend of skiing?"

Mrs. Congenial Fifty-ish (who didn't even ski when she was thirty-ish): "Skiing? Well, Roger and I did have a less strenuous friendship in mind . . ."

Mrs. Congenial Thirty-ish: "Don't give it a second thought. How about horseback to the top of Mount Tamalpais?"

Mrs. Congenial Fifty-ish: "Horseback? Wouldn't you just as soon drive?"

Mrs. Congenial Thirty-ish: "A capital idea, darling! Of course, you do drive a sports car? Perhaps we can take in a gymkhana on the way?"

Mrs. Congenial Fifty-ish: "Gymkhana? Sports car? Well, Roger has mentioned he once owned a rather racy Essex. Perhaps it might be jolly, although we did have in mind something like a jaunt to the aquarium."

If they do ever get together, which is doubtful, Mrs. Fifty-ish is going to wonder what kind of pep pills Mrs. Thirty-ish is feeding her John. And Roger is going to wonder vice-versa.

A situation like this could lead to all sorts of things, none of them good.

And all because of a simple type.

Please watch it down in the composing room, fellows. We have about all we can handle up here.

Hard Facts Of Life In Laos Are That No One Can Win Victory

WASHINGTON—When the President and the Prime Minister said at Key West that "the situation in Laos cannot be allowed to continue to deteriorate," they were thinking, we may suppose, that the Boun Oum government might, without putting up much of a fight for it, lose the capital city.

After that, this government which we support would have little standing and little bargaining power in a negotiation about the future of Laos. Among the rebel forces, which would then be dominant, there would be a dangerous tension between the genuine neutralists under Prince Souvanna Phouma and the active Communists of the Pathet Lao.

Some kind of cease-fire and standstill is, therefore, necessary if there is to be a successful negotiation, establishing, as we now hope, a passive and neutralized Laos.

THE CRUX of the Laotian problem is the fact, which no one seriously denies, that a military solution, a settlement imposed by arms, is impossible. Against guerrilla forces nourished by Communist Viet Minh and supported by the Soviet Union, a military victory would be impossible. A French army of some 400,000 men has been unable to defeat the Algerian rebels. The strategical situation in Laos is very much more difficult for SEATO than was the situation in Algeria for France.

On the other hand, the Soviet Union and the Chinese cannot expect to win a stable victory by military force. The SEATO nations have behind them the sea and air power of the United States, and this power can be used to deny to Pathet Lao an assured victory.

THERE IS, therefore, in Laos not a true balance of power, for the balance is decidedly against us. But there is a rough balance of the capacity to harass and frustrate. This balance is leading to a negotiation, such as Great Britain, France, and the United States have proposed.

It has often been said these days that we are witnessing a test of wills between Khrushchev and Kennedy. There may be something in this, supposing that any doubt existed in Khrushchev's mind that the President has a strong character. But since Khrushchev also has a strong character, what appears to have prevailed, over both these strong characters, are the facts of life.

The facts of life have prevailed upon us to recognize that Laos cannot be brought, as the preceding administration tried to do, within the American sphere of military influence. The President was leaning over backward at his press conference when he credited the Eisenhower administration with his own policy of a neutral Laos. It is only now that we favor the neutralist Souvanna Phouma,

KHRUSHCHEV ALSO has had to bow to the facts of life, and one of the facts of life is that no victory the Communists could win on the ground would drive the sea and air power of the United States out of Southeast Asia.

Because we cannot subdue the guerrillas in the jungle, and because he cannot drive us out of that part of the world, the future is not going to be decided by arms in the jungles, the swamps, and the mountains of Laos.

A Man's Face Turns Dismal Friday Into Years Of Hope

The boy never did find out who the man was.

A criminal, someone in the crowd near the gate had told him. A condemned man they were about to kill for treason, or blasphemy or something . . . he never was quite sure.

Yet in the one brief instant in which the boy had seen the man's face he had felt a strange inward stirring that he would never forget.

It was a dismal Friday, a hungry one again. Even nature seemed angry with him. Restless, he had seen the crowd and with a boy's natural inquisitiveness had pushed his way into its jostle and movement. And then between the dirty robes of two jesting men he had seen that face.

It was a bloodied, an anguished face. Yet when the eyes by chance met his, the boy saw . . . or perhaps he felt . . . a great, calming reassurance. There was actually love in those eyes . . . and a smile! The sort of warm smile he dimly remembered from childhood days when there had been a home, and people around who seemed to care . . . people who had long ago gone away, except in memory.

And then the man was gone.

Later on, the day became even more dismal . . . almost violent. But on the Sabbath, when the boy awakened, it was warm, and the air smelled fresh, even in the side streets of the city. It turned out to be, in fact, the most beautiful day he could remember. A smiling day . . . a day somehow full of love. A day filled with the same stirring something he had seen in the eyes of the man.

During the long and sometimes weary years that followed he would often find himself refreshed and renewed by the memory of that day, and that man.

He could never know, of course, that in other cities, in other lands, in other centuries people weary like himself would for the same reason find faith and hope and renewal, even though unlike the boy, they had not themselves looked into the eyes of a man struggling the stony path to Golgotha.

And It's Passover, Too

Tonight at sundown, the Jewish people also start a traditional holiday, Passover.

Marking the flight of the Israelites from ancient Egypt, as related in the Book of Exodus, Jews this evening start seven or eight days of ceremonies. The most singular is Seder, a home worship service in which the table is set with foods and objects symbolizing the deliverance of the Jews in Egypt.

Although Moses is the great figure in Passover, it is not a review of his life. Rather it is a time celebrating the joys of liberty and it draws parallels between the hardships of Egypt and later persecutions. However, the emphasis is always on ultimate deliverance and hope for the future. Thus it is known as the Festival of Freedom.

As we all recall, it was in celebration of Passover that Jesus Christ sat down with his 12 disciples for the last supper.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

By JAMES KELLER

HE FOUND GOOD IN ALL MEN

While Christ was in the midst of His trial Pontius Pilate's wife, who like him, was a pagan, sent her husband this note:

"Have nothing to do with that just man; for I have suffered many things this day in a dream because of him." (Matthew 27:19)

Her advice went unheeded, but it points up the underlying disposition for goodness in her soul.

Simon, from Cyrene, a small town in North Africa, apparently didn't have the slightest intention of helping Christ on the way to Calvary. He was simply pulled out of the crowd by the Roman soldiers.

"As they led him away, they laid hold of one Simon of Cyrene, coming from the country, and they laid the cross on him to carry after Jesus." (Luke 23:26

Even as He carried His cross, He chose a simple, unknown man to share His burden.

To the thief on the cross who rose above his own agony and defended the innocence of Christ, the dying Savior said:

"Amen I say to thee, this day thou shalt be with Me in paradise." (Luke 23:43)

Country Boy Tries The Subways, Finds Them Like Cattle Cars

By FRANCIS STILLEY
(For Hal Boyle)

NEW YORK (AP) — Dear Everybody out there at Hoecake Corners:

Well, this is just a short letter because I have not got much time because I have been out and got mixed up with what they call the subway here.

You never saw such as this and neither did I. It is trains that run under the ground and it sure is a puzzle to try to figure out where they go to.

That was what it was that got this old cowpoke into such a fix.

The subway train cars are more like cattle cars. They have doors on the sides and lots of them. Come to think of it, I believe the cattle get to ride better back out home on the trains. They have got more room and they do not get so hot.

You do not buy a ticket to ride on the subways. You buy a little thing about the size of a dime, then you put this in a turnstile as you go on the platform where you get on.

Not many people sit down on the subways. There are a few seats but there are lots more people than the seats.

It costs you 15 cents even to stand up.

This is maybe more than it is worth. You don't see a danged thing. It is all in a tunnel. Just black when you look out.

Well, there was such a crowd I got jammed way back in and by the time I could get back out I was in a place they call Brooklen. There is not much to that. Only stores and buildings. Took one look and was ready to go.

THAT IS WHERE the trouble really came in. I did not know how to get out either. Finally a citizen told me to go take another subway.

I did but here I now am in a place they call the Broncs. Sure a funny kind of name for this end of the country, eh? The Broncs looks just about like Brooklen.

THERE IS LOTS more to tell you about New York but first I have got to try to get out of the Broncs.

LUKE

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Other Papers Are Superfluous

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Let me take this opportunity of expressing the appreciation we feel for the I-J. Our group of nine teachers at Saint Anselm's School, who are resident here, find all the world news included in the Journal, together with innumerable articles of general and local interest, so that the Chronicle and the Examiner (which reach us also) become superfluous.

At the moment we are especially interested in the "One Hundred Years In Marin" which (we hope) the County Board of Education will have bound and made available to schools, ours included. We have just written to the board to request inclusion in the program. The publication will be of great reference value to all students.

Fired Employee Appreciates Story

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I am truly amazed to discover how carefully Marinites read the Independent-Journal. Many friends and persons who did not know me before called me, having read the items which you printed about my appeal from dismissal by the Department of Corrections. (Jan. 11, and March 25, 1961).

Your report accomplished the feat of conveying to them clearly and concisely, the gist of a story which I find difficulty explaining with liberal use of words in conversation.

A great deal of suspicion confronts an employee who was fired from civil service. The damage to a reputation may be impossible to undo. I am therefore doubly grateful for your reports which have brought more of the facts to the public.

Inasmuch as I have received comments expressing doubt whether therapeutic work is possible in a prison, I would like to point out to your readers, that I found no conflict in my work with practices and personnel of the prison. On the contrary, I have enjoyed full cooperation from the employees and administrators of San Quentin. Louis Nelson, associate warden of San Quentin, testified at my hearing that I had not presented special problems to him in his responsibility for security and custodial practices at the prison.

The dismissal action was not taken by any of my co-workers or superiors at San Quentin or at the Medical Facility at Vacaville.

The fact that I had an assignment to design an experimental program of treatment — follow-through-on-parole, and that I was to continue my functions of consultant to the staff who were shortly expected to start this work, was news to the deputy attorney general who represented the department, when this was brought out at my hearing.

Social Security Is Not Insurance

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Social security is not insurance. For years the insurance fraternity has been trying to educate the American public to this fact.

Social security taxes are not premiums.

The letter of William F. Erdman revives the mistaken notion which seems to have more lives than a cat. If people now drawing social security benefits were to receive just what they have paid for, the average payment would be under $5 per month.

If I understand Kennedy's proposal correctly, it is that those now drawing social security benefits would also receive medical benefits. They could not possibly make any contribution.

What About Traffic Lights?

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I enjoy reading your Saturday magazine very much. Today I would like to give a brickbat to somebody!

Whoever is in charge of the traffic light at Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and Wolfe Grade should do something about it. I drive over Wolfe Grade and I have been waiting at that light for four minutes to see the green. Then after it finally changed, its stays green only for a few seconds and if you have some cars in front of you, you just can't make it.

By this time you really see red and not only the light!!

This happens at 6:45 a.m. and the traffic is not very heavy. I am a surgery nurse and I am on my way to Marin General Hospital. You will understand that time is precious.

I think it would be enough to have a flashing red light for the cars coming down Wolfe Grade and a flashing yellow light for the ones on the highway until 7:30 a.m. Several weeks ago the lights on Sir Francis Drake from Fairfax to San Rafael were changed this way. Whoever was responsible for that perhaps can do something about this maddening light too.

I and many others would appreciate it very much.

Discrimination Reflects On Men

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I wish to support James A. Harder's letter of March 4 opposing restrictive covenants against Negro buyers in Marin County.

It is unnecessary to say this practice is "un-American." It is enough to say it is unworthy of men, an assault upon the dignity of the individual.

Mr. Harder's criticism is not so much an indictment of the title company (which, after all, is an impersonal corporate being) as against the community of human beings of which we all form a part.

If this practice continues, it merely reflects the will or indifference of ourselves. Let us all think seriously of what discrimination means in Marin—before we condemn it in Little Rock, New Orleans or South Africa.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

Movie producer Billy Wilder has two gimmicks up his sleeve that he hasn't yet been able to jimmy into a picture. Both involve operatives from behind the Iron Curtain.

In one, the Commies kidnap a great film star in West Berlin and brainwash her. They are completely frustrated, however, because they discover she has no brains to wash.

In the other, a top Commissar takes it on the lam and seeks sanctuary in Paris. In revenge, the boys at the Kremlin liquidate his wife and six children. The Commissar thereupon hotfoots it right back to Moscow. He's no traitor at all; he just wanted to get rid of his family.

A Typo Might Lead To Wierd Type Of Congenial Friendship

Even though the Independent-Journal has had an even 100 years practice in putting out a newspaper, typographical errors do somehow creep into our pages from time to time.

These slips, not so affectionately known in the trade as "typos," are more often than not caused by astigmatic lintoype operators, wool gathering proofreaders or convivial reporters. Sometimes by a combination of all three.

Only the other day, for example, a story told of a car from which the right front wheel had been stolen. As a result, the story said, the car suffered a "port list," an obvious nautical error easily spotted by any seagoing reader who knows his starboard from his left.

MOST TYPOS, fortunately, are more or less harmless mistakes, causing little other than ruffled feelings, either on the part of the reporter of or the person about whom he is reporting.

I am gravely concerned, however, over the possible repercussions of one which crept recently into the classified ad columns in which a "congenial couple in their middle 30s desire to make the acquaintance of similar couple."

Imagine the confusion resulting when Mrs. Congenial Middle-50 gets on the phone with Mrs. Congenial Middle-30, neither of them aware of the actual age of their congenial friends-to-be. The script has unlimited soap opera possibilities.

MRS. CONGENIAL Thirty-ish: "My Dear, you don't know how often John and I have longed to know someone as congenial as we are. What say we launch our acquaintance with a weekend of skiing?"

Mrs. Congenial Fifty-ish (who didn't even ski when she was thirty-ish): "Skiing? Well, Roger and I did have a less strenuous friendship in mind . . ."

Mrs. Congenial Thirty-ish: "Don't give it a second thought. How about horseback to the top of Mount Tamalpais?"

Mrs. Congenial Fifty-ish: "Horseback? Wouldn't you just as soon drive?"

Mrs. Congenial Thirty-ish: "A capital idea, darling! Of course, you do drive a sports car? Perhaps we can take in a gymkhana on the way?"

Mrs. Congenial Fifty-ish: "Gymkhana? Sports car? Well, Roger has mentioned he once owned a rather racy Essex. Perhaps it might be jolly, although we did have in mind something like a jaunt to the aquarium."

If they do ever get together, which is doubtful, Mrs. Fifty-ish is going to wonder what kind of pep pills Mrs. Thirty-ish is feeding her John. And Roger is going to wonder vice-versa.

A situation like this could lead to all sorts of things, none of them good.

Please watch it down in the composing room, fellows. We have about all we can handle up here.

Hard Facts Of Life In Laos Are That No One Can Win Victory

WASHINGTON—When the President and the Prime Minister said at Key West that "the situation in Laos cannot be allowed to continue to deteriorate," they were thinking, we may suppose, that the Boun Oum government might, without putting up much of a fight for it, lose the capital city.

After that, this government which we support would have little standing and little bargaining power in a negotiation about the future of Laos. Among the rebel forces, which would then be dominant, there would be a dangerous tension between the genuine neutralists under Prince Souvanna Phouma and the active Communists of the Pathet Lao.

Some kind of cease-fire and standstill is, therefore, necessary if there is to be a successful negotiation, establishing, as we now hope, a passive and neutralized Laos.

THE CRUX of the Laotian problem is the fact, which no one seriously denies, that a military solution, a settlement imposed by arms, is impossible. Against guerrilla forces nourished by Communist Viet Minh and supported by the Soviet Union, a military victory would be impossible. A French army of some 400,000 men has been unable to defeat the Algerian rebels. The strategical situation in Laos is very much more difficult for SEATO than was the situation in Algeria for France.

On the other hand, the Soviet Union and the Chinese cannot expect to win a stable victory by military force. The SEATO nations have behind them the sea and air power of the United States, and this power can be used to deny to Pathet Lao an assured victory.

THERE IS, therefore, in Laos not a true balance of power, for the balance is decidedly against us. But there is a rough balance of the capacity to harass and frustrate. This balance is leading to a negotiation, such as Great Britain, France, and the United States have proposed.

It has often been said these days that we are witnessing a test of wills between Khrushchev and Kennedy. There may be something in this, supposing that any doubt existed in Khrushchev's mind that the President has a strong character. But since Khrushchev also has a strong character, what appears to have prevailed, over both these strong characters, are the facts of life.

The facts of life have prevailed upon us to recognize that Laos cannot be brought, as the preceding administration tried to do, within the American sphere of military influence. The President was leaning over backward at his press conference when he credited the Eisenhower administration with his own policy of a neutral Laos. It is only now that we favor the neutralist Souvanna Phouma.

KHRUSHCHEV ALSO has had to bow to the facts of life, and one of the facts of life is that no victory the Communists could win on the ground would drive the sea and air power of the United States out of Southeast Asia.

Because we cannot subdue the guerrillas in the jungle, and because he cannot drive us out of that part of the world, the future is not going to be decided by arms in the jungles, the swamps, and the mountains of Laos.

RETRACTION STATEMENT

I-J Erred In Naming Mrs. Venza's Counsel

Former Dist. Atty. William O. Weissich has demanded that the Independent-Journal retract certain statements concerning him, contained in an editorial printed March 8 on Page 26 of this newspaper.

The editorial unintentionally erred in reporting that the former district attorney was legal counsel for one "Mrs. Venza." He was NOT. (This error was corrected in the I-J of March 15.) Actually, Weissich was counsel for a different woman called as a witness in the case.

The editorial indicated that Weissich had advised Mrs. Venza not to testify. Obviously this, too, was incorrect since an attorney does not advise a person who is not his client.

One week after the editorial, March 15, Garety issued a public statement declaring that it was his decision, free of any outside influence, to call the press conference. The Independent-Journal of course accepts without reservation the word of District Attorney Garety and further accepts the inevitable conclusion that the editorial therefore was wrong on this count, too.

It has always been the policy of the I-J to correct any errors which inadvertently creep into the paper and thus the I-J is glad to set the record straight in this case.

Weissich's demand for retraction indicated his apparent belief that the editorial contained malicious statements, insinuations and inferences.

This is most regrettable because the Independent-Journal had absolutely no malicious intent; the sole reason for publishing the editorial in question was to discuss a matter of serious public concern, describing it as it appeared to the Independent-Journal editors.

The I-J deeply and sincerely regrets the aforementioned errors and deeply regrets Weissich's feeling that this newspaper would ever be motivated by malicious intent.

Planners Due Bus Request

Application of the Greyhound Corp. to park and store buses on part of the property of Tamalpais High School west of Miller Avenue, Mill Valley, will be heard as 10th item on the Marin County Planning Commission agenda Monday.

Of Tiburon interest will be hearing on application by Fred Zelinsky for an adjustment to change conditions under which he has planned to build a large restaurant on the south or waterfront side of Tiburon's Main Street.

Application of Doreen M. Nelson for a use permit for establishment of a 24-bed convalescent hospital on the southeast side of San Pablo Road, opposite the San Pablo Road-Tarrant Court intersection and adjacent to the Tarrant Building in Santa Venetia, will be heard.

Harold Gregg has applied for a use permit for extension of an already granted permit for operation of a summer camp and recreation area on the Nicasio-San Geronimo Road a mile south of Nicasio.

Tentative maps of 8.4-acre Francisco Vista subdivision, by Del Mar Estates, and Mariner Knolls subdivision, 4.7 acres beside Ranch Road, Tiburon, will be considered.

Teacher To Attend Seminar In Paris

Mrs. Patricia R. Bertrand, Dominican Upper School history teacher, will attend a seminar in Paris next summer sponsored by the educational exchange of the State Department under the Fulbright Act.

She was selected by the State Department's Board of Foreign Scholarships to attend the meeting on world and modern history at the Institute d'Etudes Politiques in Paris.

Mrs. Bertrand has taught modern and medieval history to sophomores and juniors at Dominican for four years. She resides at 2323 Vistazo East, Tiburon. She will leave for France the latter part of May, reported Sister Maurice, O.P., Dominican principal, and will be back at Dominican in September.

Epilepsy Society Sets Novato Meet

The Marin Epilepsy Society will hold its first public meeting in North Marin Tuesday at 8 p.m. in Novato's Marion School.

Earthworms are found in Australia, New Zealand and Burma that grow to a length of three feet.

THE PARENTS' CORNER

Guidance Counselor

It's Duty Of Parents To Instruct Their Children In Proper Morals

Do your teen-agers have high moral standards? If they don't, you probably are to blame. Moral standards are learned, and can be taught. If you fail to teach them, your children may get some strange ideas. Let's look at two examples.

"Alice's" parents were busy. She went her way and they went theirs. Alice started dating when she was 12. Soon she was going steady. She and her boy friend, both sure they were in love, faced temptation every time they dated. Alice listened to her friends—teenagers are great for giving each other advice. She learned that many young people believe it is all right for a girl to go the limit if she loves the boy. Marriage isn't necessary. Chastity is unimportant. Only love matters. Alice accepted her friends' standards. The result? Alice is a mother now, at 14. She isn't a bad girl, really. Her parents just didn't teach her the difference between right and wrong.

"Tom" is 17. His folks were busy too. Tom drifted into a slightly older gang where he met some beatniks. From them he learned that life is meaningless. All that matters is to have some kicks along the way. Tom experimented with alcohol. Then he tried stimulants, sedatives, marijuana, and narcotics. He took some benzedrine, and felt adventurous. So he held up a service station, for kicks. He was caught, of course, and put in prison where he'll be for a long time. Even now Tom is not basically bad. He just hasn't been taught any morals, which resulted in his ignorance.

I repeat. Do your children have high moral standards? Teach them, starting early. When they are little, tell them what is good and what is bad. Be consistent and set a good example for them. Raise them to take an active part in a church with a thriving youth program. Then they won't make the mistakes Alice and Tom made.

READERS' FORUM

(Q) "My boy is 14. He told me that he and his gang talk about sex more than any other subject. Are the boys abnormal?"

V.T.

(A) No. At this age the preoccupation with sex is to be expected. Keep him busy doing worthwhile things with a supervised group, such as the Boy Scouts.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

A Cryptogram Quotation

'X F U H H U H C E X H R Z, H U H C E C R E F Z V F G 'W X B V M N — G F W-N F E H U W I E.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the City of San Rafael, California, will receive bids for furnishing all materials, labor and services for the construction of a water transmission line for an assessment district designated "Marin Bay Improvement District No. 1," as shown and designated on the map, plans, specifications and contract documents therefor on file in the office of the City Clerk of said City to which reference is hereby made. Each bid shall be in accordance with and subject to the plans, specifications and other contract documents now on file with the City Clerk or Consulting Engineer, Daniel Coleman Engineering Company, 1255 Post Street, San Francisco, California, where they may be examined and copies may be obtained from said Engineer upon deposit of twenty dollars ($20.00) per set, ten dollars ($10.00) of which will be refunded upon the return of such sets in good condition within ten (10) days after the bids are opened.

Bidders are hereby notified that pursuant to the Labor Code of the State of California, the City has ascertained the general prevailing rate of hourly wages and rates for legal holidays, and overtime work in the locality where this work is to be performed, for each craft or type of workman or mechanic needed to execute the contract which will be awarded the successful bidder, to be as specified in the specifications and contract documents on file in the office of the City Clerk which are hereby referred to for a statement of said general prevailing rate of wages and are incorporated herein by this reference.

It shall be mandatory upon the Contractor to whom the contract is awarded, and upon any subcontractor under him, to pay not less than the specified rates to all laborers, workmen and mechanics employed by them in the execution of the contract.

Notice is also hereby given that all bidders may be required to furnish a sworn statement of their financial responsibility, technical ability and experience, before award is made to any particular bidder.

Each bid shall set forth the portion of the work that will be done by each subcontractor in an amount exceeding ½% of the total bid.

Each bid shall be made out on a form to be obtained at the office of the Consulting Engineer; shall be accompanied by a certified or cashier's check or bid bond for not less than ten percent (10%) of the amount of the bid, made payable to the order of the City and shall be sealed and filed with the City Clerk, City Hall, San Rafael, California, on or before April 11th, 1961, at 1:00 o'clock P.M. and will be opened at 1:00 P.M. of that day in the office of the Clerk who shall report the same to the Council of the City at its meeting room, City Hall, San Rafael, California, on April 17th, 1961, at 8:00 o'clock P.M., of that day for its consideration.

The above mentioned check shall be given as a guarantee that the bidder will enter into the contract if awarded to him and will be declared forfeited if the successful bidder refuses to enter into said contract after being notified to do so by the Engineer.

The City reserves the right to reject any or all bids or waive any informality in a bid.

No bidder may withdraw his bid for a period of thirty (30) days after the date, set for the opening thereof.

A faithful performance bond for 100% and a labor and materials bond for 50% of the contract sum will be required.

THE PARENTS' CORNER

Guidance Counselor

It's Duty Of Parents To Instruct Their Children In Proper Morals

Do your teen-agers have high moral standards? If they don't, you probably are to blame. Moral standards are learned, and can be taught. If you fail to teach them, your children may get some strange ideas. Let's look at two examples.

"Alice's" parents were busy. She went her way and they went theirs. Alice started dating when she was 12. Soon she was going steady. She and her boy friend, both sure they were in love, faced temptation every time they dated. Alice listened to her friends—teenagers are great for giving each other advice. She learned that many young people believe it is all right for a girl to go the limit if she loves the boy. Marriage isn't necessary. Chastity is unimportant. Only love matters. Alice accepted her friends' standards. The result? Alice is a mother now, at 14. She isn't a bad girl, really. Her parents just didn't teach her the difference between right and wrong.

"Tom" is 17. His folks were busy too. Tom drifted into a slightly older gang where he met some beatniks. From them he learned that life is meaningless. All that matters is to have some kicks along the way. Tom experimented with alcohol. Then he tried stimulants, sedatives, marijuana, and narcotics. He took some benzedrine, and felt adventurous. So he held up a service station, for kicks. He was caught, of course, and put in prison where he'll be for a long time. Even now Tom is not basically bad. He just hasn't been taught any morals, which resulted in his ignorance.

I repeat. Do your children have high moral standards? Teach them, starting early. When they are little, tell them what is good and what is bad. Be consistent and set a good example for them. Raise them to take an active part in a church with a thriving youth program. Then they won't make the mistakes Alice and Tom made.

READERS' FORUM

(Q) "My boy is 14. He told me that he and his gang talk about sex more than any other subject. Are the boys abnormal?"

V.T.

(A) No. At this age the preoccupation with sex is to be expected. Keep him busy doing worthwhile things with a supervised group, such as the Boy Scouts.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the City of San Rafael, California, will receive bids for furnishing all materials, labor and services for the construction of a water transmission line for an assessment district designated "Marin Bay Improvement District No. 1," as shown and designated on the map, plans, specifications and contract documents therefor on file in the office of the City Clerk of said City to which reference is hereby made. Each bid shall be in accordance with and subject to the plans, specifications and other contract documents now on file with the City Clerk or Consulting Engineer, Daniel Coleman Engineering Company, 1255 Post Street, San Francisco, California, where they may be examined and copies may be obtained from said Engineer upon deposit of twenty dollars ($20.00) per set, ten dollars ($10.00) of which will be refunded upon the return of such sets in good condition within ten (10) days after the bids are opened.

Bidders are hereby notified that pursuant to the Labor Code of the State of California, the City has ascertained the general prevailing rate of hourly wages and rates for legal holidays, and overtime work in the locality where this work is to be performed, for each craft or type of workman or mechanic needed to execute the contract which will be awarded the successful bidder, to be as specified in the specifications and contract documents on file in the office of the City Clerk which are hereby referred to for a statement of said general prevailing rate of wages and are incorporated herein by this reference.

It shall be mandatory upon the Contractor to whom the contract is awarded, and upon any subcontractor under him, to pay not less than the specified rates to all laborers, workmen and mechanics employed by them in the execution of the contract.

Notice is also hereby given that all bidders may be required to furnish a sworn statement of their financial responsibility, technical ability and experience, before award is made to any particular bidder.

Each bid shall set forth the portion of the work that will be done by each subcontractor in an amount exceeding ½% of the total bid.

Each bid shall be made out on a form to be obtained at the office of the Consulting Engineer; shall be accompanied by a certified or cashier's check or bid bond for not less than ten percent (10%) of the amount of the bid, made payable to the order of the City and shall be sealed and filed with the City Clerk, City Hall, San Rafael, California, on or before April 11th, 1961, at 1:00 o'clock P.M. and will be opened at 1:00 P.M. of that day in the office of the Clerk who shall report the same to the Council of the City at its meeting room, City Hall, San Rafael, California, on April 17th, 1961, at 8:00 o'clock P.M., of that day for its consideration.

The above mentioned check shall be given as a guarantee that the bidder will enter into the contract if awarded to him and will be declared forfeited if the successful bidder refuses to enter into said contract after being notified to do so by the Engineer.

The City reserves the right to reject any or all bids or waive any informality in a bid.

No bidder may withdraw his bid for a period of thirty (30) days after the date, set for the opening thereof.

A faithful performance bond for 100% and a labor and materials bond for 50% of the contract sum will be required.

This delightfully sunny home on a quiet street in San Anselmo has a bright living room, a full dining room, a cheery kitchen, and 3 bedrooms on the main floor. And below is a huge indestructible family room where the young members of the family can live and relax, while the rest of the house remains spotless. There is a lovely wind-free patio and an enclosed yard for privacy. This is a very unusual value at only $24,500. $4,300 down and payments of only $153.70 monthly including taxes and insurance.

The Rambling Ranch Style You Love So Well

You'll love it the minute you drive up to this charming home set on an emerald lawn. And you'll be delighted by the sunny living room with its huge picture window. And you'll be amazed by the size of the sparkling electric kitchen and the 3 bedrooms and 2 baths. There's also an enormous paneled family room too. The house is spotless and ready to move into and the owner has left town and is eager to sell. Asking $34,950 including carpets and drapes.

Stinson Fire Commissioner Will Retire

Cavanaugh, a retired railroad man who worked in Sausalito and Tiburon for Northwestern Pacific Railroad, said today he decided not to run again for commissioner, a post he has held for four years.

With his retirement, and the resignation of the other two commissioners—Otto Rasmussen and Manuel Faustine — there will be a completely new board when commissioners are installed at 7:30 p.m. April 18 at the Stinson Beach Community Center.

New members will be Joseph Lawrence, a Stinson Beach contractor and E. C. Hubbard, retired businessman, both appointed to the commission Monday by the Marin County Board of Supervisors, and probably S. Lee Sefton, a San Francisco attorney, whose appointment by the supervisors is expected next Monday.

Hubbard was appointed for a one-year term, Lawrence for two years. Sefton's term would be for three years.

Assembly Passes Trade Stamp Bill

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Assembly voted 45-22 yesterday for legislation permitting service stations to give away trading stamps without posting their value.

The bill, however, provides that stations must post signs telling the customer how many stamps he gets for each 10 cents of merchandise purchased. It now goes to the Senate.

The measure by Assemblyman Gordon H. Winton Jr. (D-Merced) was opposed by small service station operators. Winton said the operators "would like to outlaw the stamps."

Art Show Open

Larkspur artist Gwen Stone is having a busy month in April.

A show of her drawings and colleges opened at the Lark Theater in Larkspur along with "Never On Sunday." Fifteen of her oils are being exhibited at the Mendocino Art Center in Mendocino City this month, and 10 oils are on exhibit at the Bridgeway Inn in Sausalito.

Nominee For 5 Oscars Now On Lark Screen

By LES DARD

LARK THEATER

"Never on Sunday," now on the Larkspur screen, garnered five Oscar nominations, including one in the "best film" category. In addition, its leading lady, Melina Mercouri, was nominated for best actress.

A roaring comedy in its best moments, it is also a philosophical fable about an American do-gooder (Jules Dassin) who tries to reform a happy-go-lucky lady of the night (Miss Mercouri) in Athens.

Mr. Dassin portrays an ardent Graecophile and he reasons that if he can reform her, he can save Greece.

Homer, our hero, undertakes his reforms. But the final disenchantment is his, for he learns that there is more satisfaction in the simple act of living than in the constant search for Absolute Truth.

Dassin, who also directed (he's responsible for the thriller "Rififi"), obviously has aimed his satire at the U.S., suggesting that a missionary mentality is ineffective. He argues, in a rush of animal spirit and earthy humor, that the only way to save the world is simply to love the people in it — as they are.

Estimate: Not for children.

NOVATO THEATER

The stars are Bob Mitchum, Deborah Kerr and Peter Ustinov. The story is about Australia's sheep drovers in the 1920s.

Mitchum is a "sundowner"—a man who likes beer and the wide open spaces. Miss Kerr, as his wife, keeps urging him to save a stake, settle down and do something about his son's education.

It opens on Sunday.

TAMALPAIS THEATER

"Suddenly Last Summer," starring Elizabeth Taylor, Katherine Hepburn and Montgomery Clift, is a strange brand of mystery and horror.

Among the questions it raises:

What was it that drove Miss Taylor insane, suddenly, last summer?

What is the terrible secret Miss Hepburn wants cut from the girl's mind by surgery?

This adult film opens Sunday on the San Anselmo screen.

RAFAEL THEATER

Once upon a time there was a rich witch who hungered for a coat made of Dalmatian pelts. Her name: Cruella de Vil.

And there were two purebred Dalmatians, Pongo and Perdita, who produced a litter of 15 beautiful pups. Cruella sends a pair of dognapers after the 15, and they join 84 other puppies in captivity.

The dog world rallies to rescue the 99 innocents.

This, basically, is the story of "101 Dalmatians," which has been held over on the San Rafael screen.

FAIRFAX THEATER

The spectacle has been especially well handled and includes, if your memory needs refreshing, the bringing of the Ark of the Covenant to Jerusalem, the fight between David and Goliath, mob scenes, fights, droughts, etc.

SEQUOIA THEATER

I mean, how would you feel if your baby was carried off by two circus promoters? Well, if you were Gorgo's mother, you, too, would rise from the ocean deeps off the Irish coast and come charging after the little one.

Mama, it seems, is a mere 250 feet tall, and Gorgo a tiny 65 feet.

Bill ((Wee Geordie) Travers is the nice promoter and William Sylvester the nasty one. They are responsible for lifting Gorgo from the primeval muck and, as a consequence, causing the destruction of London.

TIBURON PLAYHOUSE

MOTOR MOVIES

"Let's Make Love" (CinemaScope, Deluxe Color) is a fast-paced comedy-romance which offers Marilyn Monroe (for the men) and Yves Montand (for the ladies).

Plot? Montand is a billionaire and MM is a hoofer-singer in an off-Broadway revue which plans a lampoon of Montand's many romances.

So what does Yves do? Why he drops in to see what it's all about. One look at Marilyn and he's had it. The remainder of this romp concerns the mating game.

Del Mesa Property Group Incorporates

The Del Mesa Property Owners' Assn., aimed at implementing new zoning regulations desired by the residents and the county planning commission, has been incorporated with Barrett G. Hindes of 36 Hill Drive, Kentfield as its first president.

Other officers are Percival Scales, vice president, and T. C. Wellman, secretary-treasurer. Leon Smith and Dudley Miller are directors.

Assembly Passes Trade Stamp Bill

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Assembly voted 45-22 yesterday for legislation permitting service stations to give away trading stamps without posting their value.

The bill, however, provides that stations must post signs telling the customer how many stamps he gets for each 10 cents of merchandise purchased. It now goes to the Senate.

The measure by Assemblyman Gordon H. Winton Jr. (D-Merced) was opposed by small service station operators. Winton said the operators "would like to outlaw the stamps."

Art Show Open

Larkspur artist Gwen Stone is having a busy month in April.

A show of her drawings and colleges opened at the Lark Theater in Larkspur along with "Never On Sunday." Fifteen of her oils are being exhibited at the Mendocino Art Center in Mendocino City this month, and 10 oils are on exhibit at the Bridgeway Inn in Sausalito.

The status symbol among East African tribesmen is the cow.

Stinson Fire Commissioner Will Retire

Cavanaugh, a retired railroad man who worked in Sausalito and Tiburon for Northwestern Pacific Railroad, said today he decided not to run again for commissioner, a post he has held for four years.

With his retirement, and the resignation of the other two commissioners—Otto Rasmussen and Manuel Faustine — there will be a completely new board when commissioners are installed at 7:30 p.m. April 18 at the Stinson Beach Community Center.

New members will be Joseph Lawrence, a Stinson Beach contractor and E. C. Hubbard, retired businessman, both appointed to the commission Monday by the Marin County Board of Supervisors, and probably S. Lee Sefton, a San Francisco attorney, whose appointment by the supervisors is expected next Monday.

Hubbard was appointed for a one-year term, Lawrence for two years. Sefton's term would be for three years.

Nominee For 5 Oscars Now On Lark Screen

By BES DARD

The week'd film fare:

LARK THEATER

"Never on Sunday," now on the Larkspur screen, garnered five Oscar nominations, including one in the "best film" category. In addition, its leading lady, Melina Mercouri, was nominated for best actress.

A roaring comedy in its best moments, it is also a philosophical fable about an American do-gooder (Jules Dassin) who tries to reform a happy-go-lucky lady of the night (Miss Mercouri) in Athens.

Mr. Dassin portrays an ardent Graecophile and he reasons that if he can reform her, he can save Greece.

Homer, our hero, undertakes his reforms. But the final disenchantment is his, for he learns that there is more satisfaction in the simple act of living than in the constant search for Absolute Truth.

Dassin, who also directed (he's responsible for the thriller "Rififi"), obviously has aimed his satire at the U.S., suggesting that a missionary mentality is ineffective. He argues, in a rush of animal spirit and earthy humor, that the only way to save the world is simply to love the people in it — as they are.

Estimate: Not for children.

NOVATO THEATER

The stars are Bob Mitchum, Deborah Kerr and Peter Ustinov. The story is about Australia's sheep drovers in the 1920s.

Mitchum is a "sundowner"—a man who likes beer and the wide open spaces. Miss Kerr, as his wife, keeps urging him to save a stake, settle down and do something about his son's education.

Ustinov is another roamer — always dodging the ladies who'd like to snare him.

The ending's a delightful switch. The film itself is merely delightful—and quite fit for the entire family.

It opens on Sunday.

TAMALPAIS THEATER

"Suddenly Last Summer," starring Elizabeth Taylor, Katherine Hepburn and Montgomery Clift, is a strange brand of mystery and horror.

Among the questions it raises:

What was it that drove Miss Taylor insane, suddenly, last summer?

What is the terrible secret Miss Hepburn wants cut from the girl's mind by surgery?

What was the real character of Sebastian, the young man with whom this story deals?

RAFAEL THEATER

Once upon a time there was a rich witch who hungered for a coat made of Dalmatian pelts. Her name: Cruella de Vil.

And there were two purebred Dalmatians, Pongo and Perdita, who produced a litter of 15 beautiful pups. Cruella sends a pair of dognapers after the 15, and they join 84 other puppies in captivity.

The dog world rallies to rescue the 99 innocents.

This, basically, is the story of "101 Dalmatians," which has been held over on the San Rafael screen.

FAIRFAX THEATER

The spectacle has been especially well handled and includes, if your memory needs refreshing, the bringing of the Ark of the Covenant to Jerusalem, the fight between David and Goliath, mob scenes, fights, droughts, etc.

SEQUOIA THEATER

I mean, how would you feel if your baby was carried off by two circus promoters? Well, if you were Gorgo's mother, you, too, would rise from the ocean deeps off the Irish coast and come charging after the little one.

Mama, it seems, is a mere 250 feet tall, and Gorgo a tiny 65 feet.

Bill (Wee Geordie) Travers is the nice promoter and William Sylvester the nasty one. They are responsible for lifting Gorgo from the primeval muck and, as a consequence, causing the destruction of London.

TIBURON PLAYHOUSE

"The Bellboy," now showing, stars Jerry Lewis, who also wrote, produced and directed.

There is no plot to this film. Rather it offers one central figure, the bellboy (Lewis) and relates his misadventures in a series of gag sequences.

This movie was made at the Fountainebleu Hotel in Miami Beach and the celluloid is filled with many of the veteran comic and vaudevillians who inhabit this Florida spa.

Best bits: Lewis conducting an imaginary orchestra, imitating a Hollywood star surrounded by yes-men.

MOTOR MOVIES

"Let's Make Love" (CinemaScope, Deluxe Color) is a fast-paced comedy-romance which offers Marilyn Monroe (for the men) and Yves Montand (for the ladies).

Plot? Montand is a billionaire and MM is a hoofer-singer in an off-Broadway revue which plans a lampoon of Montand's many romances.

So what does Yves do? Why he drops in to see what it's all about. One look at Marilyn and he's had it. The remainder of this romp concerns the mating game.

Del Mesa Property Group Incorporates

The Del Mesa Property Owners' Assn., aimed at implementing new zoning regulations desired by the residents and the county planning commission, has been incorporated with Barrett G. Hindes of 36 Hill Drive, Kentfield as its first president.

Other officers are Percival Scales, vice president, and T. C. Wellman, secretary-treasurer. Leon Smith and Dudley Miller are directors.

BREAKTHROUGH:

Suddenly Shell makes every other motor oil obsolete —with a revolutionary new formula which fights the five internal troubles that can shorten engine life

TODAY, every Shell dealer in America has new Shell X-100 Premium Motor Oil ready for your Spring oil change.

New Shell X-100 Premium is a genuine scientific breakthrough because it is the only motor oil available that helps protect your car simultaneously against these five internal troubles that can shorten engine life.

Do you know what these troubles are? If not, you owe it to your engine to read this advertisement. Ten minutes' time now can save you hours of trouble in the future.

Trouble #1—additive ash

Up to now, even the best premium motor oils were powerless to guard against additive ash—because they actually created it. While endeavoring to keep your crankcase shipshape, some of the ingredients in these oils contributed to the hard crust of ash inside your combustion chamber.

All other premium motor oils still have the same snag.

The trouble stems from the metallic additives used to prevent scuffing, dirt deposits, oxidation and so forth. These additives do what's expected of them, but with each stroke of the piston, they can leave a tiny amount of metallic salts in the combustion chamber where they burn and form additive ash.

This hard crusty ash, when allowed to build up, can seriously affect your car's performance—and can make it knock and run roughly.

Trouble #2—crankcase dirt

All engines accumulate crankcase dirt no matter how well they are protected by filters. The problem is to stop this dirt from getting together and forming sticky sludge which can clog your engine.

Most premium oils use a detergent additive to do the job. And they perform well. But, like other additives, most detergents are metallic and cause that old devil—ash.

Alkadine in new Shell X-100 Premium helps keep your engine clean by holding dirt particles apart. Thus they don't form sticky sludge. Some particles can be trapped by the oil filter; most are drained out when you change your oil.

Oddly enough, nobody yet knows exactly how Alkadine works. But the proof of the pudding is in the testing. After 1,200,000 miles of city driving, engines of test cars lubricated with Shell X-100 Premium showed so little sludge that it could hardly be measured.

Trouble #3—temperature changes

Many motor oils tend to become too thick when cold and too thin when hot.

When the oil is cold, Alkadine's eel-like molecules curl up as if for comfort. In effect, they take up less space in the oil—and the oil flows freely through the tightest bearing, even on cold nights.

Trouble #4—engine acid

All automobile engines manufacture acid. This acid can do far more damage than friction. It can eat away at engine parts in much the way stomach acid can cause ulcers. Then you're really in trouble.

One way to combat engine acid is to make the oil alkaline. Many oils use this method. But here's what happens.

The neutralizing effect of alkaline oil inevitably gets weaker and weaker as engine acid eats up the alkalinity—till it eventually stops working completely. When this happens, your oil no longer gives you anti-acid protection.

These oils can react chemically with permanent anti-freeze and form a horrible sludge which can actually bring an otherwise healthy engine to a standstill. Then you're on the way to a major repair bill.

New Shell X-100 Premium sets all such fears at rest. It resists reaction with any sort of anti-freeze. It shrugs it off. (Better get that leak fixed, anyhow, to keep your cooling system working.)

The additives in Shell X-100 Premium resist washing out with water, too. In some oils, additives can be lost to water leaks. In Shell X-100 Premium, they stay in the oil to protect your engine.

Professional drivers put Shell X-100 Premium to a brutal test. They took $270,000 worth of automobiles and drove them relentlessly for 5½ million miles. Over highways, up mountain grades, around test tracks, over turnpikes—and through city traffic.

1. Wear was incredibly low. One car lubricated with Shell X-100 Premium still revealed the original tool markings on its rings—even after 70,000 miles at speeds of 60 to 100 mph.

The low wear with Shell X-100 Premium was verified over and over. In fact, when nine cars were driven at test track speeds for 70,000 to 100,000 miles, it was found that, from the standpoint of cylinder wear, the engines were good for another 100,000 miles.

2. Cleanliness ratings were tops. Pistons removed from a car lubricated with Shell X-100 Premium scored a rating of 9.5 out of a possible 10. A score of 9 is considered excellent.
3. Sludge was reduced to almost half the amount that lubrication experts consider to be acceptable.
4. Oil consumption records caused cheers. Cars lubricated with Shell X-100 Premium were driven at race track speeds for 100,000 miles, yet used only one quart every 1,800 miles.

If you drive the national average of 10,000 miles per year, the switch to Shell X-100 Premium (with regular oil changes) will cost you only $3.60 more than ordinary oil—give or take a nickel. And probably nothing extra if you already use a premium grade.

Drive to your Shell service station and ask the dealer to change your oil while the engine is still hot. Be sure to ask for Shell X-100 Premium in the white can. It protects your engine from all five internal troubles listed above.

BREAKTHROUGH:

Suddenly Shell makes every other motor oil obsolete —with a revolutionary new formula which fights the five internal troubles that can shorten engine life

Shell's research on engine behavior discloses five common internal troubles that can shorten the life of your car.

These troubles are additive ash, crankcase dirt, temperature changes, engine acid, and cooling system leaks. They all act silently and unseen.

Read how new Shell X-100® Premium Motor Oil prolongs engine life by fighting all five troubles—and why Shell scientists can make this unique promise.

TODAY, every Shell dealer in America has new Shell X-100 Premium Motor Oil ready for your Spring oil change.

New Shell X-100 Premium is a genuine scientific breakthrough because it is the only motor oil available that helps protect your car simultaneously against these five internal troubles that can shorten engine life.

Do you know what these troubles are? If not, you owe it to your engine to read this advertisement. Ten minutes' time now can save you hours of trouble in the future.

Trouble #1—additive ash

Up to now, even the best premium motor oils were powerless to guard against additive ash—because they actually created it. While endeavoring to keep your crankcase shipshape, some of the ingredients in these oils contributed to the hard crust of ash inside your combustion chamber.

All other premium motor oils still have the same snag.

The trouble stems from the metallic additives used to prevent scuffing, dirt deposits, oxidation and so forth. These additives do what's expected of them, but with each stroke of the piston, they can leave a tiny amount of metallic salts in the combustion chamber where they burn and form additive ash.

This hard crusty ash, when allowed to build up, can seriously affect your car's performance—and can make it knock and run roughly.

New Shell X-100 Premium doesn't add to this problem—because it doesn't contain a single metallic additive.

Trouble #2—crankcase dirt

All engines accumulate crankcase dirt no matter how well they are protected by filters. The problem is to stop this dirt from getting together and forming sticky sludge which can clog your engine.

Most premium oils use a detergent additive to do the job. And they perform well. But, like other additives, most detergents are metallic and cause that old devil—ash.

Alkadine in new Shell X-100 Premium helps keep your engine clean by holding dirt particles apart. Thus they don't form sticky sludge. Some particles can be trapped by the oil filter; most are drained out when you change your oil.

Oddly enough, nobody yet knows exactly how Alkadine works. But the proof of the pudding is in the testing. After 1,200,000 miles of city driving, engines of test cars lubricated with Shell X-100 Premium showed so little sludge that it could hardly be measured.

Trouble #3—temperature changes

Many motor oils tend to become too thick when cold and too thin when hot.

New Shell X-100 Premium is an all-year oil. Here's how it works. Alkadine has a molecular structure that resembles a basket of eels.

When the oil is cold, Alkadine's eel-like molecules curl up as if for comfort. In effect, they take up less space in the oil—and the oil flows freely through the tightest bearing, even on cold nights.

Conversely, when the Alkadine in new Shell X-100 Premium is hot, its molecules uncurl. They take up more room. And the oil resists thinning.

Thus, new Shell X-100 Premium eliminates trouble from sudden temperature changes. It lubricates just as efficiently in June as it does in January.

Trouble #4—engine acid

All automobile engines manufacture acid. This acid can do far more damage than friction. It can eat away at engine parts in much the way stomach acid can cause ulcers. Then you're really in trouble.

One way to combat engine acid is to make the oil alkaline. Many oils use this method. But here's what happens.

The neutralizing effect of alkaline oil inevitably gets weaker and weaker as engine acid eats up the alkalinity—till it eventually stops working completely. When this happens, your oil no longer gives you anti-acid protection.

Trouble #5—cooling system leaks

These oils can react chemically with permanent anti-freeze and form a horrible sludge which can actually bring an otherwise healthy engine to a standstill. Then you're on the way to a major repair bill.

New Shell X-100 Premium sets all such fears at rest. It resists reaction with any sort of anti-freeze. It shrugs it off. (Better get that leak fixed, anyhow, to keep your cooling system working.)

The additives in Shell X-100 Premium resist washing out with water, too. In some oils, additives can be lost to water leaks. In Shell X-100 Premium, they stay in the oil to protect your engine.
